TANNERY HEARING

Lively Time is Expected at City Hall This Evening

Friends of the Tannery Likely to Pack the Hearing Room—Those Opposed Should Turn Out and Voice Their Objections

A public hearing on the tannery nuisance in Howe street will be given by the board of health in the public hearing room at the city hall tonight. The hour set for the opening of the hearing is 8 o'clock and everybody interested in the abatement of the nuisance should attend.

It is rumored that the tannery people may attempt to pack the meeting with their employes and others, who, for the time being, will give voice to the belief that the nauseating odors emitted from the hide-pack in Howe street is good for one's health; that it is a splendid thing to breathe liberally of for the expansion of the lungs and that delicate persons have been known to become healthy under its curative powers.

They may endeavor to make it appear that the value of property in that vicinity has been enhanced by the presence of these health giving, life producing odors and that English sparrows making their nests within the shadow of the hide vault have developed into pigeons or birds of greater dimensions.

They may tell you that after a certain season the odor of the hides in the process of beaming becomes sweeter to the nostril than the perfume of the dew-kissed rose and that Hoyt's cologne is not a fit wash for the feet of him who breathes the refreshing blood purifying, lung expanding atmosphere of Howe street; and of course you will believe every word they say—nit.

It was stated today that persons representing the American Hide and Leather company have been circulating petitions and that many signatures to a statement to the effect that the odors in Howe street are not obnoxious, malodorous or unhealthful have been coraled. These signatures in the main, no doubt, will be those of the company's employes and persons in some way affiliated with the company.

The American Hide and Leather company will have its lawyers on hand this evening and they, no doubt, will be rich in legal display and flowery language, but were their tongues scented with the perfume of the cedar and their breath laden with the sweetness of the rose, yet the stench from Howe street would remain the same. The tannery cannot, like the leopard, change its spots.

Report had it that Boston lawyers representing the American Hide and Leather company had called at the mayor's office yesterday and had remained there for some considerable time. Asked this forenoon if he had anything to offer relative to the hearing on the tannery nuisance, the mayor replied: "I have nothing to do with that. The board of health has all to do with the hearing."

POLICE PAY ROLL

Was Approved by Committee on Accounts Today

Alderman Turner Acts on Advice of City Solicitor, but Protests That Lieut. Brosnan Should be Made Superintendent

The police board is happy and so is Superintendent, or rather Acting Superintendent, Lieut. James Brosnan for this morning the police pay roll was approved, granting his salary as acting superintendent by the three members of the committee on accounts, although Chairman Turner of the committee on accounts gave out an interview in which he says that he is still of the opinion that there is no such a position as "acting superintendent of police" The action of the committee on accounts in approving the pay roll was taken on account of a verbal opinion from City Solicitor Duncan to the effect that the board of police, so long as the money is available, had a right to create the office of acting superintendent or any other office within the scope of their duty.

Then to add to the interest of these things, the city auditor has received communications from the clerk of the police board to the effect that the lieutenant had been duly elected acting superintendent of police, and that his salary had been fixed at $2000 per year. The mayor instructs the city auditor that no one member of the committee on accounts has authority to change any pay roll submitted by the heads of any of the departments.

Alderman Turner, speaking of the matter said:

"In accordance with the city solicitor's opinion that the board of police has power to create any position, so long as the board has the money to pay the salary, I have signed the pay roll, but I do so under protest. I believe the board of police should elect James Brosnan superintendent of police, and not continue him as 'acting superintendent', from which position he may be removed at will. Lieut. Brosnan is a capable officer, in my opinion, and is entitled to the position of permanent superintendent of police.

"The rules of the department under which officers have been appointed, promoted and discharged do not provide for any such halfway office."

LAUNCH WRECKED

It Was Struck by a Steamer

BATH, Me., Sept. 25.—It was known along the water front last Tuesday night that when the steamer City of Rockland, Capt. Blair steamed down the Kennebec river on her way to Boston it struck a small power boat in which there were two occupants. Efforts of the police to obtain the names of the two men who were upset proved unavailing and not until yesterday afternoon were any of the particulars known.

When the steamer left the dock here it was dark, and on the way down the river a little 23-foot launch was spied and at once the searchlight was thrown upon it. The men in the launch, who proved to be E. C. Day of Brunswick and Charles Prince of Portland, were momentarily blinded. Later, in attempting to put their wheel hard over to clear the big boat, the wheel rope was parted and the suction of the Rockland drew the small launch under the former's guard.

Both were thrown into the water and the launch was demolished. A crew from the Rockland lowered a boat and rescued the two men, while Moses Chandler, who was on shore and heard the crash, went to their assistance in a launch. He took them to his home where they were provided with warm clothing and then departed for their homes without meeting anybody interested in their scrape, for in the darkness most people were unable to locate the exact spot where the accident happened.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty home wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott H. French, West Tewksbury, last evening, when Mr. Harry Alden Murphy of Lowell and Miss Adelaide Gertrude French, a niece of Mr. French, were married. The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the couple. It was performed by Rev. Henry A. Cornell, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, where the bride had been organist for several years. The wedding music was played by Mr. Albert French. The bestman was Mr. Albert Peterson of Lowell, and the bridemaid was Miss Ethel French, a sister of the bride, of Billerica.

The bride wore a gown of white and carried lilies of the valley, and the bridemaid wore white over blue and carried sweet peas. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy received many presents.

The home was very prettily decorated for the wedding, the parlor, where the marriage took place, having a scheme of white chrysanthemums and greenery, while the dining-room was all in red.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy left during the evening for their wedding trip. They will spend the greater part of the time in Maine.

DICKEY—TOY

Mr. Nelson Philip Dickey and Miss Naomi Janet Toy were married yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Toy, by Rev. George C. Wright, in the presence of the families of the bridal couple and a few of their near friends. The bride was attended by Miss Edith Toy, her sister, and Mr. Frederick Brown was best man.

HODGE—WALKER

A very pretty fall wedding occurred yesterday afternoon, when Mr. William F. Hodge and Miss Jennie H. Walker, both members of St. Patrick's parish, were united in wedlock at the parochial residence. The Rev. Timothy Callahan performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth A. Ringwood, and Mr. Joseph W. Hodge was best man. The bride was gowned in white silk with lace trimmings and the bridemaid wore blue silk. A reception was held at the home of the bride, 751 Broadway, and later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Hodge left on an extended wedding tour. They received numerous gifts. On their return they will live at 751 Broadway.

GRADY—ROURKE

Mr. William F. Grady and Miss Margaret E. Rourke were united in marriage at the parochial residence of St. Peter's church last evening at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. J. Keleher, D. D., pastor of the church.

The best man was Mr. Charles A. Connors, and the bridemaid was Miss Mary Rourke, a sister of the bride. The bride wore a gown of white point d'esprit over white silk, and carried bride roses. The bridemaid wore blue silk and carried sweetpeas. After the ceremony a reception to immediate friends and relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rourke, 14 Mill street. Mr. and Mrs. Grady received many handsome gifts. They left for a honeymoon which will include New York and Philadelphia, on the 9.35 train.

WILDER—McCUNE

A pretty wedding was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elvira McCune, 85 Burnside street, Tuesday evening, when Mr. Clifford Warren Wilder, eldest son of Mrs. George S. Wilder of 128 Pleasant street was married by the Rev. Mr. Jackson of the Tewksbury Presbyterian church to Miss Nellie McCune.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of family and friends, the home being prettily decorated by Mr. Harvey B. Greene for the occasion with choice palms and hydrangeas. Mr. Ralph Wilder, a brother of the bridegroom played Lohengrin's wedding march. Owing to the fact that both the bride and bridegroom are well known the gifts were numerous, among which were a handsome present from the employes of the Lawrence hosiery, where the bride was employed, and a check from the employes of the groom.

The happy couple left the city last night in an auto and will spend the next two weeks among the White mountains, after which they will reside in Gloucester, where Mr. Wilder is employed. A nicely furnished home awaits them and they will be at home to their friends after Oct. 15 at 10 Exchange street.

FAITHLESS HUSBAND

Deserted His First Wife and Then Married Again

Joseph Stengowska Sentenced to Two Years in the House of Correction at Cambridge

Joseph Stengowska, of Lawrence, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with polygamy. It was alleged that he got married about four years ago to a woman in Lawrence and lived with her until about a year ago when he deserted her and subsequently came to this city and about four months ago married another woman and had been living with the latter until a few days ago when he was arrested. He was represented by Lawyer Edward McNally of Lawrence and Joseph Loubhran of this city, and entered a plea of not guilty. Daniel J. Donahue of this city and Lawyer Edward I. Ford of Lawrence appeared for the government, the first wife being represented by Mr. Ford and the second wife by Mr. Donahue.

Stengowska's first wife testified that she was married to the defendant in Lawrence four years ago next November and that they had lived together until about a year ago when Stengowska deserted her. She did not see him again until a few days ago when she met him in the police station in this city.

She has two children and has had to support them herself since her husband deserted her.

Agata Swylik, Stengowska's second wife, said that she had known the defendant for over a year. She said that she knew Stengowska as Joseph Yora and was married to him in this city on Feb. 14, 1909.

After summing up the evidence in the case the court found Stengowska guilty and sentenced him to two years in the house of correction at Cambridge.

Struck His Wife

William Carroll pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with assaulting his wife, Mary. Mrs. Carroll had a badly discolored and swollen eye and claimed that her husband struck her. She intimated that he was jealous of her and accused her of wrongdoing whenever she went to visit the home of her parents.

Carroll, testifying in his own behalf, denied that he struck his wife. He said that he and she had a few words and that when he pushed her aside she fell and struck against the bed and discolored her eye.

The case was continued till tomorrow morning for further examination.

Sent to Jail

Patrick H. Guinan denied that he had been drunk for the past three weeks, despite the fact that his wife had testified that he had been drunk that long. He was sentenced to ten days in jail.

James Patterson, charged with drunkenness, will spend the next month in jail.

Drunken Offenders

Joseph Smith was charged with being drunk and also with disturbing the peace. He was fined $2 and held under $100 bonds to keep the peace for six months.

Mike Bunto said he had had but two glasses of beer and that that would not make him drunk. He was found guilty, however, and a fine of $5 imposed.

Charles Nolan, charged with drunkenness, was sentenced to ten days in jail. Hannah Mullen and Dennis J. Grogan were each fined $6, while one first offender was fined $2.

Heavy Fine Imposed

Octave Daignault of Dracut was charged with selling swine which had not been inspected and stamped by the officials of the board of health. Daignault pleaded ignorance of the law, but according to the testimony of a member of the board of health the defendant was aware of the law. He was found guilty and a fine of $25 was imposed.

Case Continued

The case of George Cavalatres, charged with the larceny of $255, was continued till tomorrow.

REPORT DENIED

That Jews Were Attacked at Kiev

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—There have been no attacks upon Jews at Kiev or anywhere else in Russia so far as the Jewish Emigrant society or the German Jewish Relief association knows. The first organization concerns itself with the emigration of Jews from Russia and since the first publication of the reported fatal rioting at Kiev both organizations have communicated with their agents in Kiev and other important places in Russia. Dr. Kahn, who represents the societies during the absence of the chief director, Dr. P. Nathan, said that this sensational report had its entire foundation in the apprehension among the Jews of one of the suburbs of Kiev that they might be attacked in consequence of a quarrel between themselves and some rough local characters. Dr. Kahn said that in this instance he was happy to declare that not a Jew had been hurt or not a penny's worth of property destroyed. He disavowed completely the suggestion that the reports on this matter telegraphed to the United States had originated with the Jewish societies of Berlin.

THIRD SESSION

Of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., Sept. 23.—The condition of the cotton goods manufacture employes and how to provide better for their welfare was the general topic treated in the several papers read at the session of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers semi-annual meeting at the Mount Washington house here today. The session today was the third of the meeting and the final conclave will be held tonight.

The session was opened this forenoon with the reading of a paper on "Accidents to cotton mill operatives," by Edward W. Thomas of Baltimore, Md., which was followed by a treatise on the subject of "Housing mill employes"; and "The intensive use of land," by George H. Miller of Boston. George V. Michaelis of New York spoke on "Sanitary conditions in ventilating and humidifying mills" and W. H. Dooley, principal of the Lawrence Industrial school, Lawrence, told of the training of students in the textile trades in a paper entitled "Secondary textile education."

GREAT CROWD

HEARD SECRETARY DICKINSON SPEAK AT NASHVILLE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 23.—The presence of Secretary of War Dickinson as the speaker on topics affecting the interests of the north and south attracted a great crowd to the state fair grounds here today.

General F. D. Grant who is also a guest of the fair reviewed a uniformed regiment of Confederate soldiers in front of the grand stand himself appearing in the full uniform of a general of the United States army.

THE RELIABILITY RUN

MILFORD, Pa., Sept. 23.—The autos entered in the Munsey reliability run from Washington to Boston and return left here today on the third leg of the trip, the first car getting away at 7 a. m. and the others following at one minute intervals. The end of the day's run is at Albany where the machines will remain over night. The run from Philadelphia to this place was a severe one and when the cars left here only fourteen of them had clean scores. The roads north of here are in fairly good condition.

AT AMHERST COLLEGE

AMHERST, Sept. 23.—Amherst college opened its doors today for its 89th year. The beginning of this season finds the buildings of the college augmented by the new geological and biological laboratory work which was completed during the summer.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE OPENS

HANOVER, N. H., Sept. 23.—Dartmouth college opened today with an entering class numbering nearly 350 students. The resignation of former President Tucker having taken effect at the inauguration of President-elect Nichols not occurring until another month, the opening of the college found the institution without a president in office although the duties of president were well cared for by Prof. John K. Lord, acting president, who has served in that capacity during the last year or more of President Tucker's administration.

BANK OF ENGLAND

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The rate of discount at the Bank of England remained unchanged today at 2½ per cent.

HIS LEG BROKEN

Officer P. McMammon Met With Accident

Patrolman Peter P. McMammon, of the local police department, was brought home last night from Norfolk, Va., suffering with a broken leg.

Mr. McMammon, with Messrs. John J. Dawson, Joseph Burns, Edward Morris, John J. McCabe, Edward Johnson and William Carleton, all of this city, was enjoying one of the excursions to Old Point Comfort.

Shortly after arriving at the place they enjoyed a dip in a large swimming tank in the Hotel Chamberlain. The tank has a marble foundation and at one end the water is four feet deep, while at the other it is nine feet deep. Mr. McMammon had been jumping into the deep water after which he moved up towards the other end of the tank, where the water is shallow. Not realizing how low the water was at that point, he jumped in and struck the bottom of the tank with force sufficient to break his left leg.

The break is considered a bad one, and though it was carefully dressed by a surgeon at the hotel, it will be some time before Mr. McMammon will be able to be out.

FUNERALS

LELAND—The funeral of Mrs. Mary P. Leland wife of Foreman Leland of the city farm, occurred from her home, 526 School street at 2 o'clock Wednesday. Services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Dean of St. Paul's church.

Mrs. Roberts rendered the following hymns, "Sometime We'll Understand, "Face to Face," "My Heavenly Home" and "Good Night." Among the floral tributes were the following: Pillow inscribed "Wife," from husband; cross on mound from brothers and sisters; spray of pinks from Bernice and Mildred Leland; spray of china asters, Mrs. Nellie Leland; pillow beneath arch from superintendent and attendants at city hospital; basket of flowers from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Danahy; spray of china asters from Mr. and Mrs. Pillsbury; spray of white and purple asters from Mr. Curtis Rogers; spray of pinks, Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks and family; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Dutton and family; bouquets, Miss Alice Moore, Mrs. Ada Townsend and Gertie Butters. The bearers were Messrs. Melvin and Alfred Leland and Curtis and Leon Fairbanks, all relatives of deceased.

Interment was in the Edson cemetery. Undertakers C. M. Young & Co. in charge.

FORGET—The funeral of Exephire Forget took place yesterday from his home, 447 Moody street, with solemn funeral services at 9 o'clock at St. Jean Baptiste church. Rev. Frs. Berneche, Magnan and Brullard, O. M. I., officiated. The harmonized funeral mass was sung by the choir under the direction of Dr. Caisse, with Arthur J. Martel at the organ. At the offertory, Dr. Caisse sang "O Meritum Passionis." The bearers were Jos. Chas. Wilfrid, Henri and Edmond Forget, and O. Bourdon. Court St. Antoine, C. O. F., was represented by Fred Giroux, A. N. Boulais, Jos. Roax, O. P. Cognac, Timothee Roy, Ad. Landry, Philippe Roy, Joseph Jalbert and Wilfrid Roy. The Carpenters' union was represented by P. O. Leclair, J. A. Pion, M. A. Lee, and Philippe Legare. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery and Rev. Fr. Ouelette, O. M. I., officiated at the grave. Undertaker Amedee Archambault had charge.

GILCHRIST—The funeral of the late Catherine Gilchrist took place yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock from the rooms of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons. The burial was in the Edson cemetery.

FITZPATRICK—The funeral of Alice Fitzpatrick took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her parents, 9 Varley avenue. Burial was in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery under the direction of C. H. Molloy & Sons.

DAVIS—The funeral of the late Josephine T. Davis took place this morning at 8.30 o'clock from the funeral parlors of James W. McKenna, 419 Bridge street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The cortege proceeded to St. Michael's church where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Murphy. The choir under the direction of Mr. James Murphy sang "Missa Pro Defunctis." At the offertory "Domine Jesu Christi," was given, and at the conclusion of the mass "In Paradisium" was sung, and as the body was borne from the church "Ego Sum Benedictus" was sung. Miss Carolyn White presided at the organ. There were many beautiful floral offerings, among them being a large spray of white asters with white ribbon inscribed "Wife," from husband of the deceased; a large bouquet from a friend and a spray of white asters from Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley. The bearers were Messrs. John H. Burke, Thomas Barry, John T. Donohue and John Morris. Burial was in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Murphy read the committal prayers at the grave. Funeral Director James W. McKenna had charge.

GRAND SPECTACLE

Passed in Review of Representatives of Other Countries

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The armada which is to represent the United States at the Hudson-Fulton celebration steamed up New York harbor late yesterday to its anchorage in the North river above Grant's tomb. Through the early part of the day the fleet had been fogbound off Sandy Hook, but the mist began to lift soon after noon and shortly before 2 o'clock the first of the battleships lifted anchor and started up the bay at a six knot pace on the 20 mile trip to its official stopping place.

The fog interfered also with the plans of the British and German fleets which were expected yesterday, and they delayed their arrival until today.

The Italian cruiser Aetna passed into the harbor before the American battleships and proceeded to her berth in the North river off 84th street, where she was joined a few hours later by her mate, the Etruria, which came in through the sound from Bridgeport at dusk.

Thousands of New Yorkers flocked to the river front yesterday afternoon to witness the arrival of Rear Admiral Schroeder's fleet.

The 21 big ships came up the bay in single file—15 battleships, three armored cruisers and three scout cruisers. Behind them were the auxiliaries, Culgoa, Prairie and Panther. Torpedo boats, submarines and other auxiliaries will join them later in the week. In all, 52 vessels of the United States navy will be on the Hudson for the parade Saturday.

There was a great booming of guns as the American ships steamed up the river to their berths, passing in succession the anchored representatives of France, Mexico, Argentine, Italy and Holland. In reply to the rear admiral's salute, fired by each of the visitors, the flagship Connecticut for the fleet returned the appropriate number of guns, shrouding both shores of the old Hudson with a thin cloud of powder smoke while echoes from the palisades sent back again and again the roar of the cannonade.

There was an impressive Hudson-Fulton ceremony yesterday at the Brooklyn navy yard, when the "Half Moon," the copy of Hudson's famous craft, which is to play one of the chief roles in the celebration, was formally placed in commission. Bands played the national airs of Holland, the old Dutch colors waved, and the Netherlands commissioners hoisted their colors above the quaint little craft.

There were formal honors for Fulton, too, yesterday. His grave in Old Trinity churchyard was the scene of a pilgrimage of members of the Fulton Memorial association which decorated a monument erected in his honor with southern smilax, wreathed laurel and American flags.

Grand Admiral Von Koester, personal representative of the kaiser and the German people at the celebration, reached New York yesterday on board the Hamburg-American liner Bluecher.

Admiral Von Koester issued a formal statement last night, expressing the pleasure with which he looks forward to the celebration and conveying to the city and nation the good wishes of Germany.

Health and prosperity to Holland's queen and to the president of the United States and the success of the Hudson-Fulton celebration were pledged last night at the first of the banquets to be given by the Holland society of New York to the members of the Netherlands commission.

The Americans toasted the visitors and hailed Hudson and the compliment was gracefully returned, the name of Fulton binding the chain of good feeling. Among the other speakers were Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, chairman of the Hudson-Fulton commission, and Judge Augustus Van Wyck.

FIVE WERE HURT

Augusta, Me., Doctors Thrown From Auto

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 23.—Five Augusta physicians, Dr. George R. Campbell, Dr. W. H. Harris, Dr. Wellington Johnson, Dr. George A. Coombs and Dr. Albert H. Sturtevant, were injured in an automobile accident early yesterday while returning from Belgrade in Dr. Sturtevant's car.

One of the rear tires broke while going down hill and the machine ran into a tree and upset. The accident occurred six miles from Augusta on the Belgrade road, near the Caldwell place. Dr. Johnson's left arm was broken in two places above the elbow and his shoulder was dislocated. Dr. Sturtevant suffered a contusion of the chest by striking the steering wheel, and dislocated both thumbs.

Dr. Harris was injured in the back and was taken to the General hospital. Dr. Campbell's right ankle was wrenched. Dr. Coombs wrenched his arm and strained his left leg. One of the party was obliged to walk three miles to get to a telegraph office to summon aid from the city.

Alderman William J. Skehan was seriously injured in an automobile accident yesterday. Mr. Skehan, with Perley Greenleaf and Harry Gilman of Waterville, were coming from the driving park in Mr. Gilman's car, which was stripped for the county fair races yesterday, and when opposite the state house the automobile skidded and went over a 30-foot embankment. The left leg of Mr. Skehan was caught in the machine and the foot badly crushed. He was taken to the Augusta General hospital. The others were slightly injured.

ONE MAN SHOT

RIOTING IN CONNECTION WITH OMAHA STRIKE

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 23.—John Petrick, a bystander was shot through the hip and seriously wounded, two motormen were hit with bricks, one of them being perhaps fatally wounded and a third man was less seriously injured in riots which occurred after dark last night in connection with the car strike. Eight cars were partly demolished. The injured men with the exception of Petrick are strike breakers.

B. & N. POLICY DENOUNCED

LEBANON, N. H., Sept. 23.—Resolutions strong in condemnation of an alleged policy of the Boston & Maine railroad were passed yesterday at the second day's session of the Eighth annual convention of the New Hampshire State Federation of Labor.

Following a discussion of the accident of Tuesday at Tattee, in which several were killed, the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, that the sympathy of this convention be extended to the families and relatives of those who lost their lives or were injured in the [illegible] accident at [illegible]. We condemn the [illegible] and penurious policy of the Boston & Maine Railroad in [illegible] old and antiquated [illegible] further condemn the management for its heartlessness in [illegible] dispatchers, telegraph operators and train men to work [illegible] for small wages and we [illegible] state authorities to [illegible] investigation of this accident that the traveling public may [illegible] sacrificed to the greed of the Boston & Maine railroad."

EX-REP. HAMMOND DEAD

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The news was received here today of the death of former United States Representative Thomas Hammond at his home in Hammond, Ind., early yesterday. Mr. Hammond was born in Ashburnham, Mass., 65 years ago, and was one of the pioneers in the beef business in Chicago.

PEARY PAPERS

Taken From the Roosevelt by Souvenir Hunters

NORTH SYDNEY, N. S., Sept. 23.—The departure of the Arctic steamer Roosevelt was delayed last night owing to the fact that the records and other important manuscripts which were taken from the steamer Tuesday by souvenir hunters have not been returned. Shortly after 6 o'clock the Roosevelt left her pier, after taking on a full supply of coal for the run to New York. A few hundred yards from the pier Captain Bartlett dropped anchor. A steam launch from the government boat Tyrian went alongside the Roosevelt, and Naval Commander Dixon went aboard. Commander Dixon had just come from Sydney where he had held a conference with the United States consul, John Kehl, with reference to the failure of an American ship to display the Canadian flag when welcoming the arrival of Peary. He had a message from Prof. McMillan to Captain Bartlett, asking the latter to defer sailing because he expected soon to recover his stolen documents.

Prof. McMillan, who feels his loss keenly, said later that he had received information that some of the important papers had been traced, the wife of a prominent citizen having admitted that she abstracted certain papers from the professor's room. It was in order to find this woman and to ascertain if she really had the records that McMillan wanted time and requested that the sailing of the Roosevelt be delayed.

The report, however, was not entirely true, for the woman denied taking the articles mentioned although she owned up to having taken some articles from the professor's room.

It was the United States auxiliary schooner Grampus, commanded by Captain Hensen, which did not hoist the Canadian flag, the failure to do so resulting in an attack on him by a Sydney citizen. Captain Hensen accompanied by Commander Dickson placed the matter before the United States consul yesterday, the Canadian commander being greatly incensed over the unfortunate incident. He explained to the consul that Captain Hensen could not display the Canadian flag for the very simple reason that he had none aboard, and inasmuch as the Grampus only accidentally met Peary on the way here, the American commander could not possibly obtain a Canadian ensign even if he wished to hoist it.

"To my mind," said Captain Dickson, "the insult to Captain Hensen should not be taken seriously, considering the source from which it emanated." "However," added the officer, "I would hardly stand for such a thing were I in Captain Hensen's place."

Consul Kehl said he would use his best endeavors to close the incident as quickly as possible.

SHOT HERSELF

Wife of Prominent Farmer Tried Suicide

LITCHFIELD, Me., Sept. 23.—Mrs. Fred M. Babcock, wife of a well-to-do farmer, shot herself with a weapon of small calibre yesterday at her home here. The bullet entered the body just below the heart, but struck no vital organs and came out under the left shoulder blade. Dr. Clason was called and stated that she was still alive and that if no complication set in that she would recover.

Mrs. Babcock has been ill many years and has been subjected to two surgical operations, making her despondent. She is 50 years of age and has five daughters and one son.

THE W. C. T. U.

MIDDLESEX BRANCH MEETS AT SOUTH ACTON

SOUTH ACTON, Sept. 23.—The annual convention of the Middlesex county branch of the W. C. T. U. was held here yesterday, and as it was the 25th annual convention the event was also observed as the silver anniversary of the organizations, the hostesses being Mrs. Lily G. Chase, president of the South Acton union, Mrs. Clara H. Nash, president of the West Acton union, and Mrs John White, first vice-president of the Acton Centre union.

The convention, held in the Universalist church, was largely attended, nearly all the 54 cities and towns comprising the Middlesex county branch being represented. The visitors [illegible] were welcomed by Mrs. Chase and Mrs. Nash. Mrs. Abby F. Rolfe, president of the organization, responded for the delegates.

Reports of the various departments were made as follows: Scientific temperance [illegible], Mrs. Hall; medical temperance, [illegible] literature, Mrs. Alexander; settlement work, Mrs. Smith; soldiers and sailors, Mrs. Crosby; Sunday school work, Mrs. Rowe; social meetings and open-air work, Mrs. Brigham.

As a result of the inter-county contest now on, gratifying reports were made by nearly all the local unions on increased membership, Marlboro leading with 53 new members the past year, and Woburn second with 35. This was followed by an address and prohibitory amendment quiz by Miss Elizabeth P. Gordon.

Mrs. Rolfe of Concord, one of the oldest W. C. T. U. workers in the state, was re-elected president unanimously.

ONE SCHOLARSHIP

To be Awarded by Women's Clubs

The General Federation of Women's clubs will award a scholarship of $1500 to be held at either Oxford, Cambridge or London university for the year beginning October, 1910. The scholar will be selected from among the graduates of American colleges of good standing and the age of the successful candidate when she enters upon her scholarship shall not exceed 27 years. She also must be unmarried.

In this state the application may be made to either Mrs. Caroline Stone Atherton, 82 Burleyen street, Roxbury, or to Mrs. Lillian M. Heffen, 45 Renwick road, Newton Highlands. Full credentials must be sent with the application. After the local officers have given their written approval of the candidacy, the permit to enter the examinations is granted upon its presentation to Miss Gill. A copy of all credentials should be filed at the same time with Mrs. Potter. Their addresses are given below: Miss Laura Drake Gill, 1826 19th street, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Frances Squire Potter, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.

COURT SENSATION

Man Approves of Love of His Wife by Another

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—A very singular condition of affairs in the relations of Hartley Dennett, a Framingham and Boston architect and designer, and Dr. and Mrs. H. Lincoln Chase of Brookline was revealed yesterday afternoon in the probate court at East Cambridge, when Judge Leyed E. Chamberlain heard the petition for custody of her two children filed by Mrs. Dennett.

Mrs. Dennett claimed that her estrangement was caused by the love of her husband for Mrs. Chase, that the latter reciprocated his affection and that she had discussed with Mrs. Dennett with "barbaric frankness" the relations existing between her and Mr. Dennett. The children were turned over to her by the court.

Dr. Chase and Mrs. Chase were both present in the court room. Mr. Dennett sat with Dr. Chase.

In an interview Dr. Chase afterward declared that the love existing between his wife and Mr. Dennett was pure love, such as was taught by Jesus and in the writings of Emerson.

Mr. Dennett is a man of medium height, with light colored bushy hair and mustache and he wore a low collar and windsor tie. He is apparently between 35 and 38. Mrs. Dennett is perhaps a little more than 30 and very pretty.

Mrs. Dennett testified to her marriage to Mr. Dennett and the birth of their two children. Trouble arose between them through the affection of Mr. Dennett for Mrs. Chase. He lost interest in his work and finally the estrangement came. She told of a talk she had had with Mrs. Chase, in which the latter discussed Mr. Dennett with "barbaric frankness" and their affection for each other.

Atty. Merriam, who appeared in behalf of Mrs. Dennett, argued that Mr. Dennett would be all right if Mrs. Chase could be induced to drop her influence over him and let him attend to his business. At one time Dennett could earn $5000 a year, he said, but his business had gone down owing to the demoralization caused by "this miserable snare." He asked the court to make a ruling which would force the husband to help his wife and children.

Judge Chamberlain then told Mr. Dennett he could make a statement if he desired.

Dennett said he could not answer the charge. It was without explanation. "My wife has different convictions from mine in this affair between Mrs. Chase and me," he said, "and the difference goes into everything in our lives."

He said his wife did not co-operate with him. He wished to divide the responsibility, she to take one child and he the other, each to start in with a recognition of the duty and responsibility of the other. This, he said, would be a separate co-operation and in this way each would have a mutual trust.

"This was a question between her conscience and mine and this difference has gone away through our lives."

Judge Chamberlain then asked the general question as to how much money should be contributed toward the support of Mrs. Dennett and her children.

Mrs. Dennet thought $250 a month.

Mr. Dennett said his income was variable and that such a sum would be a strain.

Judge Chamberlain said there was no excuse, legal or moral, for the breaking up of the Dennett home, and he ordered a temporary decree, giving Mrs. Dennett the custody of the two children. The amount of money to be contributed is to be decided later.

BOMB WAS FOUND

Twelve Workmen Were Placed Under Arrest

EL PASO, Sept. 23.—The discovery last night of a bomb in a residence being erected in Juarez, across the border in Mexico, caused a sensation in that town. The police were notified and 12 workmen were arrested.

It was at first reported that the bomb was found in the rear of the custom house, where President Diaz and President Taft are to meet October 16, but this was afterwards denied by the authorities. A boy found the bomb.

BIG CELEBRATION

SOLON W. STEVENS,
One of the Orators.

CHARLES H. CONANT,
Delivered Patriotic Address.

Of an Historic Event by the Chelmsford Folks

Chelmsford is going some these days. Hardly had the last echo of the Middlesex North Agricultural fair died away when another and more patriotic event was ushered in.

The day was yesterday and the event was the 50th anniversary of the dedication of the Revolutionary monument that does silent watch upon the common.

The exercises were held in the town hall. The school children took part in the exercises and a goodly crowd was there. The work of the children was appreciated and the speakers were very attentively listened to.

The Adams orchestra, a one-family orchestra afforded music and the musical Adams' opened the exercises with a selection. William E. Adams was the director.

This was followed by the national anthem "America," sung by a stage full of school children under the direction of Miss Mary B. Raynes. There was a prayer by Rev. L. L. Greene, and Mr. Edward Everett Adams sang an ode written for the exercises 50 years ago. Mr. Joseph E. Warren, president of the Chelmsford Monument association, presided and introduced Mr. Josiah Richardson Fletcher, the only living member of the original officers of the association.

Mr. Fletcher though well along in years, retains a vigorous mind and voice and he spoke with patriotic sentiment.

Solon W. Stevens

Mr. Solon W. Stevens of Lowell made the address of the afternoon. He spoke of the noble part that Chelmsford men had taken in the fight for their country, recalling that no less than 68 Chelmsford men were engaged in the memorable battle of Bunker Hill. In conclusion, he said:

"This monument should be invaluable to Chelmsford people as a perpetual reminder of the principles and virtues which inspired the founders of this republic. It stands as a guaranty of loyalty and patriotism. It adds lustre to the pleasant town which is so attractive to the stranger and so dear to the resident, and its value will continually increase with age."

Charles H. Conant

The next speaker was Charles H. Conant of Lowell. He spoke for the Sons of the American Revolution. His address was stirring and patriotic throughout.

Mr. Adams sang "America, America," after which the audience joined in singing the following ode, to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne," written for the dedicatory exercises by Mrs. Martha L. Emerson 50 years ago:

With grateful hearts this day we come
To consecrate this mound,
To those who founded Freedom's home
On fair Columbia's ground.
In gratitude our souls shall rise,
And thousand tongues unite
To swell the triumph to the skies
Of truth's undying light.

And while we peacefully enjoy
Rights by our fathers given—
Rights which no foe shall e'er destroy
While shines the light of heaven—
We would not still unmindful be
Of all the pain and strife
Which gave our nation liberty,
Its wealth and strength and life.

Nor shall the brave and honored Eight,
Who nobly fought and bled,
And met unshirkingly their fate,
Sleep as forgotten dead—
No! while this monument shall stand—
A token e'er 'twill be
That Patriots' names in Freedom's land,
Are blest in memory.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. C. H. Ellis. At the conclusion of the exercises the Chelmsford band gave a concert upon the common.

RECOUNTS ASKED

For in the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Representative Districts

There seems to be a disposition on the part of some of the representative candidates in the 15th and 16th representative districts to have a recount, and it is more than probable that John A. Cotter of ward 2 will petition for a recount. On the face of the returns there were only 10 votes difference between his vote and that of the successful candidate, John E. Kearns. Mr. Cotter feels that there may have been a possible mistake, and thinks that it will certainly do no harm to have the board of registrars look over the ballots cast at the recent primaries.

In the 16th district, wards 4 and 5, John J. O'Connell has filed a petition for a recount.

Seventh Senatorial District

The contest for the senatorial nomination in the seventh district, a district which runs from the town of Ayer to the town of Saugus, and includes the democratic ward of Lynn, ward 6 seems to be in doubt. There are two active candidates, ex-Representative Alonzo G. Walsh of ward 5, Lowell, and Representative Frank P. Bennett of Saugus, and the silent candidate is Senator James Wilson Grimes of Reading, who for three years has been honored with the senatorship from this district. From the present outlook it would appear that neither Mr. Walsh nor Mr. Bennett has the necessary 23 delegates to assure him the nomination in the convention.

There are 45 delegates in the district, and 23 are necessary for a choice. Mr. Walsh's pledged delegates are as follows: Billerica, 3, Carlisle, 1; Littleton, 1, ward 5, Lowell, 2; ward 8, Lowell, 5; Tewksbury, 2; Westford 2. Mr. Walsh claimed that the two men in Wilmington were his, although Mr. Bennett asserted the same thing.

The claims of delegates from the Bennett headquarters were as follows: Ayer 2, Acton 2, Boxboro 1, Burlington 1, North Reading 1, Lynnfield 1, ward 6, Lynn, 7, and Saugus 5. This is a total of 20 delegates.

There seems some discrepancy in the claims of the two candidates. Mr. Bennett claims one of the three men in Billerica, although Mr. Walsh says the three delegates are pledged to him. Mr. Bennett claims one man in Burlington, although Mr. Walsh has heard nothing officially from that town. Both candidates are apparently claiming Wilmington. Senator Grimes got the six delegates in his own town, Reading, and will hold the balance of power in the convention.

PLAINTIFF WON

Given Pay for Work on Farm

SKOWHEGAN, Me., Sept. 23.—Yesterday the first jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the case of Gould vs. Walker for $91.13, with interest from date of writ. The action was one where the plaintiff, John B. Gould, sued his employer, Cyrus Walker, for the balance due on six months' work on a farm in the Anson valley at the rate of $6 per week. He had received payment at the time of settling at the rate of $3 per week.

The case of Haynes pro ami vs. the Maine Central R. R. company did not go to trial yesterday as was expected. Tuesday E. N. Merrill inserted an amendment in his original writ. This the attorney for the defendant would not allow. After an argument before the court it was agreed to continue the case to the March term. It could not be tried at the December term from the fact that Forrest Goodwin, counsel for the defendant, will leave next month on a trip around the world. The plaintiff in the case was Chester Haynes of Norridgewock, who was injured in a wreck at Benton on Oct. 2, 1907.

LONG SESSION

Of Superior Court, Civil Term

During the months of October and November the court house on Gorham street will be a very busy place for lawyers and litigants. The superior court with jury comes in the first Monday in October, and will sit for twelve weeks, and the jury waived session in which divorce cases contested and uncontested and equity cases will be in order, comes in the first Monday in November. This assignment will be for at least two weeks. The supreme judicial court, one justice, with jury, comes in October 19th, 1909, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

This session will convene at the court house in East Cambridge. There is a number of important will cases to be heard and determined, and as there are two very important Lowell cases it is thought that the court will come to Lowell for a few days during the first part of November. Should this happen, the court house will be taxed to its utmost to accommodate the three courts, and also look after the probate and bankruptcy courts.

Lowell lawyers have already marked a number of cases for the October session, but notices from the other side of the county, and even from Boston, would seem to indicate that the docket of civil cases is going to be one of the largest for years.

JUDGE LORING

To Preside at Supreme Court Session

It was announced Tuesday in Cambridge that Justice Hammond of the supreme judicial court would preside at the forthcoming session of that court, but this afternoon Lowell lawyers were informed that Justice Loring would be the presiding justices at the October term. Both justices are well known on this circuit.

JAMES DORGAN

Lowell Man is Reported Killed

It is reported that the third man killed in the railroad wreck near Canaan, N. H. Tuesday, was James Dorgan of this city. He was identified by Policeman Bassett of Franklin, N. H. Dorgan's parents live in Franklin.

The report states that Dorgan has four brothers: Thomas, a carding room overseer in Lowell; James, who works in a mill at Dover, Me.; Joseph of Winooski, Vt., and Matthew who is attending St. Anselm's college at Manchester; also one sister, Miss Annie Dorgan of Manchester.

The name Thomas Dorgan does not appear in the Lowell directory.

HEINZE IN COURT

He Entered a Plea of Not Guilty

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—F. Augustus Heinze pleaded not guilty in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court to the solitary count left in the indictment filed May 16 last, charging wilful misapplication of the funds of the Mercantile National bank. The indictment when returned by the federal grand jury contained 15 counts but Judge Hough sustained a demurrer to all the counts but the last one. This involves the alleged loan of $500,000 made by Heinze to himself in October, 1907.

No date was set for trial and Mr. Heinze was allowed to go on bail given on another indictment.

DIAMOND NOTES

Manager McGuire has decided to try out several new men on this trip.

Walter Johnson must have rounded to as his shutout of the Tigers was a swell performance.

The Pirates are playing their very best ball as the season draws to a close. True champions.

French is improving every day at short, and the chances are that Wagner will continue his layoff.

Mat Eason, the Lawrence manager, stopped in Boston yesterday to see the Naps-Red Sox game, on his way to his home in New York.

President Charles Comisky of the Chicago White Sox says: "Hard luck at the start of the season blocked the Cubs, and the subsequent pace of the Pittsburg team proved too great a handicap for Chance's team. While I am sorry to see the West Siders lose when a record was within their grasp, I am also delighted over the prospects of a series between the Cubs and White Sox. Our club looks to be as strong as the champions and we will be there batting for every inch of ground. It's going to be a hard series, but you know what happened in 1906. We have only nothing [illegible] on the South Side and though luck was against us in our league, you may rest assured there will be a different tale when the city championship is over."

Don't bury "Old Cy" yet. There is nothing original in such a performance and besides Young has always shown a disagreeable tendency to come back after being formally interred.

Back in 1904 Cy made a great start and the baseball scribes got busy writing elaborate accounts of the passing of Young. Less than a month after the season opened Cy startled the baseball world by duplicating the feats of Lee Richmond and John Ward, accomplished 24 years before, in preventing his opponents from reaching first base.

Washington batted Young's curves in savage fashion in April, 1905, and again the baseball grave diggers commenced working overtime. July 4, of that year Young pitched 20 innings without giving a base on balls, a feat absolutely without parallel in baseball.

Better wait until the "Big fellow" goes back to the farm and refuses to return to the diamond.

From the showing of the Cleveland youngsters yesterday it looks as though "Deacon" McGuire had plucked all the lemons in the orchard.

That Pittsburg hoodoo still holds good. Curtis pitched a fair game, holding the Pirates to two tallies in the first contest. Mattern was fairly easy in the second game.

"Doc" White is the latest Washington manager to be selected.

Cy Morgan is still the prize feed box pitcher. The Athletics made but three hits behind him yesterday.

Walter Johnson did fairly well for a man who was down and out two weeks ago.

But five points separated the Winchester pennant winners from the second team, Richmond, when the Blue Grass league race concluded last Wednesday. The latter team has entered a protest on the award made by President Hammond.

Tuesday, September 28, will be observed as "Fred Clarke Day" at Forbes park, Pittsburg. The "Wagner Day" was a conspicuous non-success last year.

Here's another phony yarn—you can take it or leave it, just as you see fit. The fans of Chicago, naturally incensed because the Cubs have lost three straight to the Giants, are calling Chance's men a bunch of quitters, claiming that they are laying down to the Giants in order that they might get a chance to play the Chicago White Sox for the championship of the city and appears somewhere near on a par with them when the series is played. Now the Cubs didn't make a fat lot on the world's championship series last year, and it is doped out that they would profit more by a series between the two Chicago teams, hence the Cubs lay down to the Giants so that it will appear that the White Sox will have a good chance against them.

The people of San Diego, Cal., have the bee in their bonnets that they will send A. G. Spalding, known to every fan from Maine to California as one of the fathers of baseball, to the United States senate. He would be assured of the hearty support of the ball fans, at any rate, and they're not so few, when you come to think of it.

When you get Herbie Moran and Jack Phelan on the bases it's mighty hard to hold them. There are no two faster men in the Eastern league and their daring and skill on the cushions have many a twirler worried.

Joe McGinnity pitched and won four games last week. McGraw may be a great baseball general, but it looks as if he made an awful bull when he let the Iron Man go. It was lucky for Newark, however, for Joe is pulling the Tigers into top place.

FOOTBALL NOTES

McClave, Princeton, '02, is coaching the Adelphi academy team of Brooklyn.

Twenty-five husky players answered the first call for candidates at Georgetown.

Bill Carrigan, the Red Sox catcher, is anxious for the season to end, so that he can get out on the gridiron at Lewiston, Me., with the local high school team. Bill was some football player at Holy Cross.

Johnny Poe, '97, one of the famous Poe family at Princeton, will take the Tiger scrub team in hand this fall.

Two youngsters from Los Angeles, Cal., are out for positions at end at Georgetown. They are Carrigan and Golden from St. Vincent's school.

Coffey of the Boston Nationals was a brilliant fullback at Fordham last year. On account of his professionalism he will be unable to play on the eleven this season.

Torrey, the former Pennsylvania star, has been selected as coach by New York university.

The Pennsylvania-Michigan game this year is to be played at Philadelphia Nov. 13.

Libby, Newashe, Bird, Jordan and Houser, only substitutes last year at Carlisle, are the real veterans in the Indians lineup this season.

George Brook, one of the greatest kickers that ever stepped on the gridiron, is coaching Swarthmore.

Wesleyan had 11 veterans show up for the first practice Monday and the outlook for a successful season is very bright. Wesleyan plays Yale Sept. 29.

Brown expects to have a heavy line this year. Kratz, a 200-pounder and an all-around athlete, is out for the team.

Scrimmage work has begun at Williams. The squads were divided into four elevens yesterday, two of which were lined up against each other.

Forty candidates reported to Dr. McCurdy for the first practice at Springfield Training school.

BOXING GOSSIP.

The story, which sounds very much like the bunk story, has percolated to this town from the wilds of New York to the effect that little Willus Britt, manager of Stan Ketchel, is the man responsible for the calling off of the fight with his "assassin" and the tar baby, Sam Langford. The dope reads thus: Britt is afraid to stack Stan against such a man as Langford, but sees no way of getting out of it without incurring the roasting of fight fans the country over. So he hikes to New York and prepares for the fight, but secretly runs up to Albany and puts a flea in Gov. Hughes' ear that there is going to be a real naughty prize fight pulled off in the environs of staid old New York, of which he is the unwilling victim, and won't the governor please have it stopped? Now Britt heard about these accusations and denied them indignantly, announcing at the same time that his man was ready to meet Langford at any time and place, but did you notice that he took the mountaineer and [illegible] it away from New York Friday night for the coast, where there are no husky, broad-shouldered colored men with flat noses and wicked punches to disturb their sweet dreams of easy money. Oh this fight game is sometimes on the level, and a wise man can do a great deal.

CRACK MOTORCYCLISTS ENTERED IN SIX DAY RACE AT BRIGHTON BEACH, NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—What promises to be the greatest event in the history of the motorcycle industry this year is to take place at the Brighton Beach motordrome, New York, the week of September 26. The event will be a six days' grind for motorcycles, the teams being made up of three riders each, one rider being on the track at a time, the other two men being used for relief. Entries have been received from half a dozen or more concerns, and in many quarters preparations have been under way for weeks looking to the most successful handling of teams in the race. The Indian factory, among others, has announced its intention of entering not one but two teams for the big event, one a midget team composed of the smallest riders in the race, the other a team of heavy men. The American automobile record for 24 hours is 1177 miles. That this record will be shattered in the first 24 hours of riding goes without saying. It is expected that during the week these little two wheel machines will pile up an enormous mileage.

GRAND CIRCUIT

Two Favorites Met With Defeat

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 23.—Copa De Oro's pacing to a season's fast record and the overthrow of two pronounced first choices made lively the third afternoon of Grand Circuit racing here. Copa De Oro lost the race, however, to Aileen Wilson after pacing the opening heat of the free-for-all in 2.02.

In the first heat Aileen Wilson and Hedgewood Boy led to the half in 1.01. The three-quarters was passed in 1.52. Hedgewood Boy drew away in the stretch while Copa De Oro closed up and won the heat from Aileen Wilson.

The next two heats, both in slower time, went to Aileen Wilson. The [illegible] was favorite for this race, but could not do better than third.

[illegible], first choice for the trotting division of the three-year-old Kentucky stock farm futurity, was the second of the day's favorites to lose. The race went to Baroness Virginia, world's champion for filly's for her age on a half mile track. She is owned by S. J. Fleming and son of Terre Haute, Ind. [illegible] finished third.

Maggie Winder, world's champion pacing three-year-old filly, did not have to go near her record of 2.06¼ to win the pacing division of the Kentucky Stock Farm futurity. She was always the leader. Sonoma Girl took the free-for-all trot just as easily.

BRENNAN CASE

CONTINUED PENDING DECISION IN POLICE BOARD CASE

Fisher H. Pearson appeared before the board of police last night and asked that the case against T. F. Brennan & Co. which was scheduled for hearing last night, be continued until after the court gave its decision in the police board case. Mr. Brennan is one of the several liquor dealers, who it is alleged, violated the conditions of his license.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL.

The regular meeting of Lowell commandery, Knights of Malta, was held Tuesday night in Odd Fellows hall. There was a large attendance of members and many took an active part in the evening's business. Deputy Grand Commander A. G. Robinson of Malden paid an official visit, and spoke to the companions on the work of the commandery. Four candidates were admitted and the Malta degree was conferred upon them. The next convocation will be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 5th.

Good Templars

The regular meeting of Spindle City lodge, I. O. G. T., was held last night in Pilgrim hall. John Brady was elected electoral superintendent. During the latter part of the evening a social hour was enjoyed. At the meeting next week an entertainment and sale will be held.

FAMILY MURDERED

Motive of the Crime Evidently Was Robbery

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Sept. 23.—An entire family of six persons was murdered and the bodies of all but one of the victims were burned with their home at Murley, Buchanan county, Va., early yesterday. The motive was evidently robbery, for the owner of the house, an aged woman known as "Aunt Betty" Justis, was generally supposed to keep a large sum of money about the place. Mrs. Justis, her son-in-law, George Meadows, his wife and their three children were the victims.

DIED OF LOCKJAW

Not Known How Boy Contracted Disease

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Allard W. Lunt, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy T. Lunt of Gardiner, Me., died at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Morrell, 16 Pearson avenue, Somerville Highlands, yesterday from tetanus. He had been ill since last Friday, when he was forced to leave the Brown school, where he was a pupil in the second grade.

The little fellow came from Gardiner early in the month to attend school and his parents arrived last Monday. From what source he contracted the disease the attending physician was unable to state.

STRUCK BY WHALE

Fisherman Hurled 100 Feet by Blow

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 23.—Struck by the tail of a gigantic whale which smashed his dory to kindling and threw him almost 100 feet away into the icy sea, Chief Mate Olaf Wick of the codfish schooner Vega brings a thrilling story of his escape from death in the far north.

The Vega, in command of Capt. Peter Nelson, was lying at anchor in Bering sea and the chief mate was alone in his dory one calm morning last month, fishing apart from the rest of the crew. A monster whale had been observed by the men earlier in the day.

"Suddenly I felt something under the boat," said the mate in telling the tale. "I thought I had struck a rock and threw the windlass overboard so she would not sink the boat. Hardly was it over the side, when I was lifted high in the air as the whale dove and struck the boat with his tail. I went up as though a mine had exploded beneath my feet.

"I lost consciousness for a time, I think, for I remember the shock of striking the cold water, which seemed to clear my head and caused me to strike out with arms and legs to keep afloat."

The mate swam back to the dory, which still held a few bottom boards, and was picked up. None of Wick's bones were broken by the mishap, but his body was a mass of bruises and he was so lame he could hardly move for a couple of days.

BROTHERS FINED

Were Accused of Resisting Arrest

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 23.—For resisting arrest and assaulting Sturgis deputies, Martin and Frank Cox were held by Judge Harding of the police court under $1000 bonds for the supreme court under a hearing yesterday morning. They were also held on a charge of search and seizure and fined $1000 and costs or 60 days in jail. They appealed in both cases and gave bonds.

From the evidence of the deputies it appears that they raided the place kept by the Cox brothers on Pickering square last night. Entering in front the deputies produced a warrant, at the same time endeavoring to prevent Frank Cox from reaching an electric button which connected with a bell in the rear room. Cox put up a fight which brought Martin Cox to the scene and there was a mixup which resulted in the brothers being taken to the police station in irons followed by a large crowd which threatened trouble until a squad of police was sent to the scene.

GIVES $30,000

FOR A NEW DORMITORY AT COLBY ACADEMY

NEW LONDON, N. H., Sept. 23.—Announcement is made that Lawyer Sherman L. Whipple of Boston has given $20,000 for the erection of a new dormitory for girls at Colby academy, and Mrs. Susan Colby Colgate, widow of the head of the well known soap concern, has donated $10,000 for a new academy building.

Both Mr. Whipple and Mrs. Colgate are natives of New London.

The annual banquet of the Buntings will be held in their club house Saturday, Oct. 16.

WAGE INCREASE

Asked by the Lewiston Loom Fixers

LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 23.—The members of the loomfixers' union of this city have made a request of the mill agents for an increase of 10 per cent in their wages in accordance with a vote taken at a recent meeting of the union.

They say that the steadily increasing cost of living makes the increase necessary to enable them to pay their bills. The agents have as yet taken no action in regard to the request and are not prepared to indicate what will probably be done about it.

MANY SENTENCES

Imposed in Superior Court at Lawrence

LAWRENCE, Sept. 23.—In superior court yesterday Tony Angelo was convicted of assault with a dangerous weapon on Cleostro Murellani in Haverhill and sentenced to 15 months in the house of correction. A verdict of guilty of receiving was returned by the jury in the case of Michael J. Finnerty of Amesbury. He was found not guilty of larceny, with William J. Cook, of money from the latter's father.

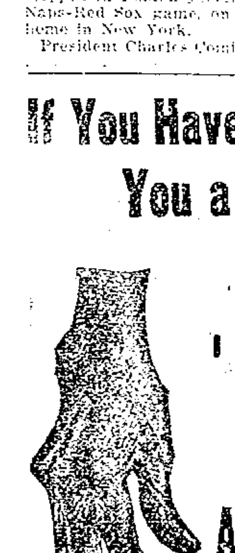

For breaking and entering a garage in Danvers Albert F. Swan was sentenced to five years and one month in Concord reformatory. It was stated that he stripped an automobile of trimmings.

May Wilson was sentenced to Sherborn on the charge of larceny of money from Frank A. Walton of Newburyport. The cases of John McFee and Fred Hines, who admitted their guilt of receiving, were continued. Hines was a hotel clerk and the money was taken from Walton in the hotel where he engaged a room.

Philip Bromfield, indicted for receiving in connection with the alleged wholesale larceny of copper and brass from the Thomson-Houston electric company of Lynn, and also for conspiracy, furnished bonds in $500 on the latter charge. John Mahan and Lena Rouse of Haverhill, charged with a statutory offence, were placed on probation.

Napoleon Kelley and James Zincavich charged with breaking and entering in Lawrence, were placed on probation. Joseph Plouff was acquitted of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felonious assault in Newburyport. Charles A. McArthur was found not guilty of breaking and entering a freight car in Rowley.

If You Have Rheumatism Let Me Send You a 50 Cent Box of My Remedy Free.

Deformity in Chronic Rheumatism.

A 50 Cent Box of my Rheumatism Remedy Free.

My remedy has actually cured men and women seventy and eighty years of age—some were so decrepit that they could not even dress themselves. To introduce this great remedy I intend to give fifty thousand 50 cent boxes away, and every suffering reader of this paper is courteously invited to write for one. No money is asked for this 50 cent box neither now nor later and if afterwards more is wanted I will furnish it to sufferers at a low cost. I found this remedy by a fortunate chance while an invalid from rheumatism, and since it cured me it has been a blessing to thousands of other persons. Don't be sceptical, remember the first 50 cent box is absolutely free. This is an internal remedy which goes after the cause of the trouble and when the cause of rheumatism is removed, have no fear of deformities. Rheumatism in time will affect the heart, so do not trifle with this merciless affliction. Address, enclosing this adv., JOHN A. SMITH, 3426 Smith Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffered terribly from female ills, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman."
EMMA DRAPER.

Another Operation Avoided.

Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."—Mrs. ALVENA SPERLING, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

AFTER 22 YEARS

Girl Finds Father She Thought Was Dead

WATERVILLE, Me., Sept. 23.—Mrs. Annie Vigue, wife of David Vigue, Jr., of this city, has found her father after a separation of 22 years, the greater part of which she thought him dead.

Mrs. Vigue is the daughter of Thos. Grondin, a farmer living near Rumford Falls. She was born in Quebec and her mother died when she was 11 months old. Annie went to the home of her grandmother at Orford, P. Q., where she remained four years, when the grandmother died and the little girl was taken by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Archelas Loubier, and brought to this city, where she has since made her home, being known here as Annie Loubier until her marriage two years ago.

Thomas Grondin, Mrs. Vigue's father, left Canada shortly after the death of his wife and came to Maine, where he stayed seven years. Returning to his native town he could not discover any trace of his daughter, although he spent several months inquiring among friends in the neighborhood. Later he came back to Maine and settled near Rumford Falls.

Three years ago a young man named Fred Roberge, who was employed as brakeman on the Maine Central railroad and lived with the Loubiers, was in Rumford Falls and with a friend went to the farm of Grondin's. While there Mr. Grondin became convinced that the Loubier family were relatives of his wife and he asked Roberge many questions regarding them. Roberge told him there was a young woman there who was in some way related to the Loubiers and the girl's father was much impressed with the story.

Some time afterward he addressed a letter to his daughter in her maiden name, but it did not reach her. When Roberge returned to Waterville he told Mrs. Vigue of his experience in Rumford and she too wrote a letter, addressing it to Thomas Grondin, Rumford, Me. It did not reach her father, due mainly to the fact that her father had been known for years as Thomas Gordon, and few knew that his name was Grondin.

Finally, however, through Roberge, communication was established and after several letters between father and daughter both became convinced of the relationship. Mrs. Vigue paid a visit to Rumford and stayed several days, finding her father in comfortable circumstances and anxious to have her remain with him to comfort him in his declining years. Mr. Vigue, however, holds a responsible position in the local cotton mills and prefers to stay in Waterville, so it is quite probable that the father will dispose of his property at Rumford and live with his new found child in this city.

Mrs. Vigue returned from the visit to her father this week and is pleased to learn that her father is alive and well. She said: "I am very happy to know that my father is alive. I had often wondered about him and thought that if he were not dead I would like to see him. As I had never known my parents to remember them, I did not miss them so much as if I had known them, and then my uncle and aunt have been so kind to me that I did not get a chance to feel that I was without parents. They have been father and mother to me and their home has been my home and I have been happy in it."

FATHER AND SON

In the Same Class in U. of M.

COLUMBUS, Mo., Sept. 23.—For the first time in the history of the University of Missouri, or perhaps of any university, a father and son are candidates for the same degree, and will stand in the same class this year and be awarded a diploma and the degree of bachelor of science in agriculture. They are E. E. Vanatta of Vandalia, Mo., 45 years old, and son, Earl S. Vanatta, 22 years old. Both are seniors in the school of agriculture, and both have taken the full course, except that the father will have finished it in three years and the son in four.

When Earl S. Vanatta entered the school of agriculture four years ago as a freshman, he did not dream that his letters home would prove so interesting that his father would be induced to sell his farm, move to Columbia and enter for the same course, but that is what happened. His father sold his farm near Vandalia, came to Columbia, and in three years has overtaken his son, less than half his age, and will receive his degree in the same class. He has done more, for his excellent work has made him eligible to the Alpha Zeta, the leading honorary fraternity of his department, which his son was not able to make, although he is a member of an honorary fraternity himself, the standard of which is not so high.

Vanatta Senior, as the students call him to distinguish him from his son, was a student in the University of Missouri in 1883-4, but did not get to finish his course because he fell in love with and married a girl in Stephens college. Both quit school and bought a farm at Vandalia, Mo. When their son Earl had finished High school they sent him to Columbia to take the agricultural course. Earl's letters proved too great a temptation, so they sold their farm, moved to Columbia, and university students experienced the sensation of having a father and son both students of the university.

Mr. Vanatta has always taken part in student activities and holds several offices in the class organizations. He is popular with the students and takes work in the gymnasium as well as the 18-year-olds. He jumps, wrestles and takes cross-country runs with the best of them. His popularity is largely due to the fact that he built a large clubhouse for the students in his department. It is known as the "farm house" and is conducted on the co-operative plan by the students in his department, much cheaper than they could board at private houses. The house cost $8,000, and he rents it to the students cheaply. He and his wife and son also live at the house.

HAS TO BORROW

In Order to Pay for Postage Stamps

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—For the last six years the district government has been compelled to borrow each month from Z. D. Franzoni, proprietor of Gilman's drug store, at 627 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, all the money that is needed to pay the postage on official mail sent out by the various branches of the municipal government.

This fact was disclosed by a report filed by Property Clerk M. C. Hargrove. It appears that the district government has been forced to borrow from Mr. Franzoni about $700 each month.

"This state of affairs," said Mr. Hargrove, "is due to the law forbidding paying for any kind of supplies until they are delivered. On the other hand, the federal government, through the post office department will not sell postage stamps to the district government or any one else until the cash is paid. To get around this we have been compelled to borrow the money from a private citizen of the district with which to buy our postage stamps and he waits until the stamps have been delivered and the district pays for them, then I turn the amount borrowed over to him."

When this law was put in effect about six years ago, congress allowed an appropriation of $6000 for postage stamps. Since then it has been increased to about $8500, but each year it is specified that the stamps must be delivered to the property clerk before the money is paid, and it, therefore, is necessary to borrow the money.

The Supremacy of

STEIN-BLOCH SMART CLOTHES

This week the D. S. O'Brien Co., makes its opening demonstration of STEIN-BLOCH Clothes for Fall and Winter.

Though known to Lowell dressers only a comparatively short time, STEIN-BLOCH Smart Clothes are already acknowledged by those who know, as the standard of men's fashions in Lowell—as they've been for many years in the rest of the country.

STEIN-BLOCH supremacy isn't confined alone to this country. They've been introduced to London wearers, (in open competition with the best makers in this country) by Selfridge, the American merchant.

There's no monopoly of excellence in clothes making as in any other endeav... ...clothes are noted for their honesty—and lack of style. Others have an overplus of style, at the expense of good taste. For all round clothes excellence, original styling and high class tailoring, our judgment goes out to Stein-Bloch.

That's why we offer them to you.

In addition to our regular lines of suits and overcoats, we show this week many special models and fabrics of exclusive character, and of higher cost than we are warranted in carrying regularly.

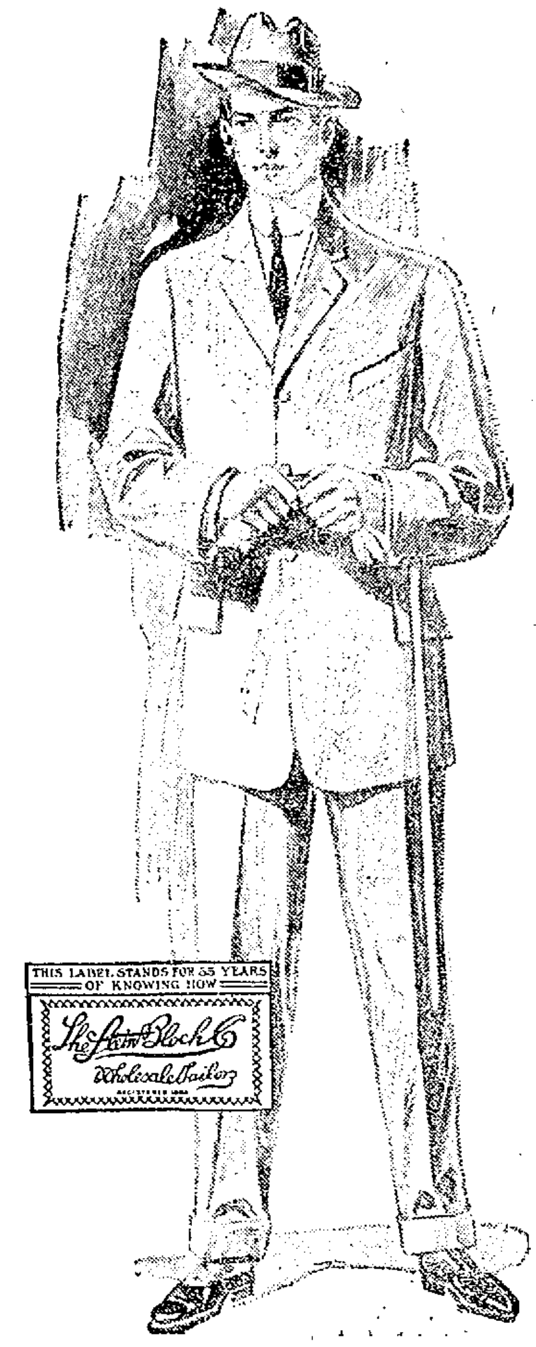

These models represent the "last word" in correct and fashionable apparel for men of all ages and for all occasions of business or dress.

We'd like you to see them—to try them on—to compare them with the clothes you've been buying—for your own sake, and ours.

We'll not urge buying—we'll let the clothes tell their own story.

Do you care to listen?

"SMARTNESS," the Stein Bloch booklet, will be sent to any address, on application, or can be had for the asking. If you want to dress correctly, "SMARTNESS" will tell you how.

FOOTBALL LEAGUE

FINAL MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS HELD

The directors of the Massachusetts Football league held their final meeting before the opening of the season last night at the Adams house in Boston. The principal business of the evening was the election of a board of directors which resulted as follows: Stanley B. Boyd of Waltham; J. J. Doherty of Haverhill, C. R. Donnell of Norwood, J. J. Riley of Boston and W. J. King of Lowell.

The league will be made up of five teams: Boston, Norwood, Waltham, Haverhill and Lowell. The season will open in Lowell Oct. 2, with Boston as the attraction.

The Y. M. C. I. team, which was scored on but once during the past two seasons, will represent Lowell, while their old rivals, the St. Alphonsus A. A., will represent Boston. The Lowell team will be in all probability selected from the following: Keane, K[illegible], Al Cooney, Pearson, McOsker, F[illegible] Gheradine of Boston, Moore of Revere, Rimbest of Everett, McHanus of Revere, H. Jewett, V. Jewett, J. [illegible]nor, King, McGlon, Stevens, Rourke and it is quite possible that A[illegible] the old Andover star, will be seen in the Lowell lineup.

Acting Manager Kane of the Lowell team would like to meet all players and also all candidates who wish to try for the team at the Y. M. C. I. rooms Friday night at 8 o'clock.

SURPRISE PARTY

Miss Mary Ready Presented Bracelet

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ready, 32 Court street, was the scene Tuesday evening of an enjoyable surprise party, when a number of young friends assembled and presented their daughter, Miss Mary, with a beautiful gold bracelet. Mr. James Fury delivered the presentation address. Although completely surprised, the hostess found fitting words to express her gratitude to the assemblage.

Following the presentation an entertainment was given. It included vocal solos by William Ward, Ayer City's favorite tenor; piano solos and selections, Miss Ruth Constantineau, Miss Helen Dugdale, Miss Mary Ready, Miss Anastasia McNamara and Mr. Peter Dankert; solos, Misses Agnes Rogers and Anastasia McNamara, Lawrence Rogers, the talented coon shouter, and little Frank Ready. Fred Taylor delighted the party with a whistling solo. The Manhattan quartet, composed of Messrs. William and Dennis Ward, Joseph Ready and Frank Doherty, favored with several selections and made a decided hit. Last but not least on the program was Bernard [illegible], the popular humorist, and he delighted all with his witty sayings. Refreshments were served.

ADMIRAL CLARK ILL

FREMONT, Ohio, Sept. 23.—Rear Admiral Charles E. Clark, U. S. N. (retired), who commanded the battleship Oregon during the Spanish-American war, was taken seriously ill here yesterday. He is at the home of Colonel Webb Hayes in Spiegel Grove, whose guest he was to be while here.

IN BANKRUPTCY

PETITION FILED BY WELL KNOWN LUMBERMAN

DOVER, Me., Sept. 23.—W. L. Rogers, a well known Greenville lumberman, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, the papers being in the hands of Hon. John F. Sprague of Monson, referee in bankruptcy for this district. The liabilities are given as $39,271.34, while the total assets are given as $29,436.

The principal creditors are T. R. Savage & Co., Bangor, D. T. Sanders & Co., Greenville; Thaxter & Co., Bangor; Lawrence Bros. & Co., South Gardiner. The first meeting of the creditors will be held before Referee Sprague in Dover, Sept. 30. The filing of the petition was a surprise in business circles in this section.

REFORM CLUB MEETING

The regular meeting of the Lowell Reform club was held Tuesday night in its quarters in the Central Savings bank building. The attendance of members was large and much business was transacted during the evening.

Great interest was displayed in the club's plan of campaign for the fall and winter as mapped out by Chairman Bowers of the lecture committee.

The first public meeting to be held will take place at the club's quarters on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19. The speaker on that occasion will be announced later.

President E. M. Bowers of the L. R. C. corporation spoke encouragingly of the club's future plans, and urged every member to do his share of the work. A musical and literary program was then given and was well carried out, the Glee club giving some especially fine selections.

Rehearsals are now going on for the winter meetings.

PRIMARIES SLIMLY ATTENDED.

The primaries held Tuesday evening were remarkable for the lack of interest shown. Were it not for a few contests that brought out the friends of the candidates the so-called primary elections would have been characterized by the solemnity of a funeral attended only by the bearers. We shall never reform our government either in city or state until the voters turn out in full numbers to the primaries, and not only that but see beforehand that good men are put up as candidates.

WHERE VIGILANCE PROVES EXPENSIVE.

Through the zealous work of the assessors we understand that a very large number of polls have been assessed in certain wards from which collection of a poll tax is practically impossible. But the state will have to get a dollar a head for them just the same. Thus the vigilance of the assessors unless backed up by equal vigilance by the constables who collect poll taxes will prove expensive to the city. It would be well, in view of this fact, to let these people understand once for all that they must pay their poll taxes.

AWAITING THE FINAL DOOM.

The scene at Duxbury, Mass., where a lot of people have assembled to witness the end of the world and final doom is one that is fully as absurd and ridiculous as any that could be witnessed among the most savage tribe to be found in any part of the world. Yet these people are accounted intelligent; they are undoubtedly able to read and write, but somehow they have caught up the delusion put forward by some crank and being convinced that the end of the world is really at hand, they have abandoned their homes and their occupations so as to be ready to depart in peace. They may be somewhat disillusioned after Friday, but people who can be worked up to believe such nonsense cannot be expected to show sane judgment at any time.

AS TO A COLLEGE EDUCATION.

The question is being discussed as to whether it is advisable for a boy to take a college education unless he intends to enter one of the professions. We believe it is a great mistake to spend three or four years in taking a college course unless there be some fixed plan for utilizing the education thus attained after that course is finished.

We have a great many college graduates in this country who are unable to earn a living simply because they spent the years during which they should have mastered some business, in getting a general education. Had they learned the trade of a carpenter and builder, blacksmith, architect, electrician or engineer during the time they spent in college, they would have no difficulty in earning a livelihood afterwards.

A general education will not enable a man to make a living except perhaps when he gets an opportunity to teach school. Technical training in any remunerative business will pay the young man much better than a college education. Therefore, we should say that a young man who does not intend to become a doctor, a lawyer, a teacher, a clergyman or journalist had better learn some trade after he leaves the high school instead of going to college. With a high school education he should be competent to make progress in any business he enters provided he shows the necessary tact and enterprise.

DIFFICULTY IN LOCATING THE POLE.

Both Dr. Cook and Commander Peary will now endeavor to demonstrate that they each visited the North pole. It will require more than the picture of a snow mound in the center of a dreary waste of ice and snow to do this. At the time that Dr. Cook said he visited the pole, April 21, 1908, the sun should be about 12 degrees above the horizon. That being the case he could not see the polar star. If a person looked from the shaft of a deep mine in daylight he could see the stars in the sky, but Dr. Cook did not have that opportunity in the polar regions.

It is easy before reaching the pole to measure the latitude and longitude but in the vicinity of the pole it is quite difficult to make astronomical observations that will indicate the precise point.

Dr. Cook may have satisfied himself that he reached the precise point of the earth's axis and so may have Commander Peary, and yet there may have been five, ten or even twenty miles between the points which they respectively selected as the pole.

A great deal depends upon the observations taken as to the altitude of the sun with a record of the temperature and the barometric pressure as variations are made as a result of these influences. The distances would have to be worked out and the location of the pole decided upon by averaging the observations pointing to the pole. The result might then, even after the greatest care, be slightly inaccurate. It is safe to presume, therefore, that both the Arctic explorers may be deceived as to their correction as each may have reached what he decided to be the actual pole as a result of his observations.

The time will come when the pole will be marked in such a way that its location can no longer be doubted. Dr. Cook and Commander Peary assert that the pole is covered with ice which is continually shifting. We predict that the next Arctic expedition will locate the precise pole and it may be some distance from the locations fixed by Dr. Cook and Commander Peary. When in addition to present appliances, the flying machine and wireless telegraphy are brought into requisition in locating the pole, we may expect that it will be located correctly and permanently marked so far as that is possible. The contradictory stories told by Cook and Peary will cause scientists to doubt both authorities and to look for accurate results to some future traveler to the pole.

SEEN AND HEARD

Persons who have been in the habit of hitching their horses to the stone posts in Merrimack street will miss them when they're gone and they are fast disappearing. The new paving is doing away with the stone posts and it is better thus. Hitching posts in business street are not the proper caper in these days.

If a fellow is married and has the price it must do his old heart good to step in and buy one of those $5 silk petticoats marked down to $2.98—for his wife, of course.

Wonder if Mrs. Cook or Mrs. Peary will dare to say to Dr. Cook or Mr. Peary: "How long were you, dear, without having a bath?" No doubt both explorers will take one now, whether they need it or not.

It has been proven that an Eskimo will follow a good cook to the North pole.

The editor of a western paper says there's no such thing as another fellow's girl, that a girl is not another fellow's girl till she's another fellow's wife. How about that?

A gentleman of [illegible] inquiring turn of mind recently [illegible] lad with the query:

"What time do you get up in a morning?"

"I get up at a quarter past five an' [illegible] a bit of breakfast."

"Anyone else get up?"

"Oh, aye! my mother gets up an' [illegible] breakfast an' then [illegible] and dad's ready for 7 o'clock."

"And your dinner?"

"Oh, aye! mother [illegible] that ready, too, and then [illegible] as he comes later'n me."

"And then I suppose your mother has the afternoon to herself?"

"Oh, now; [illegible] cleans up an' looks after t' childer, an' then [illegible] gets tea ready an' weshes up, an' puts t' childer to bed."

"Then she'll have a quiet rest?"

"Well, [illegible] mother [illegible] on [illegible] mends stockin's an' [illegible]."

The inquirer paused [illegible], continued:

"What wages do you get, my boy?"

"I get ten bob a week."

"And your father?"

"Thirty-five bob."

"And your mother?"

"My mother," said the lad in surprise, "my mother gets no wages; [illegible] doesn't work!"—Cotton Factory Times.

Here's a one minute sermon by the "old man" in the Manchester Union:

The more one does for some men, the more ungrateful they are. Especially is this true with the hog species of the human race. And if the hog is ignorant and unintelligent, it is all the worse. He can't see further than the end of his nose, and he cares only for himself. He would sacrifice his friends for the whiskered [illegible] of a street corner loafer. He is [illegible] to his own shortcomings and he trails through life regardless of the feelings of even the friend who would do him a favor. When driven to the wall, he is more or less of a coward and his whimperings are amusing. When he sees a way out of the corner, he is like the bovine into which the matador has struck one of his darts. These kind of men are seen in every community. They are quick to give the lie and will throw mud at the first opportunity. Yet, when these sort of people sometimes find that they cannot have their own way, they wonder at it. They think they are hardly treated. They think everybody is against them, when only their own lack of tact is to blame. When any [illegible] ceases to be a gentleman, he ceases to have claims upon the considerations of decent men. And he will squirm and squeal and raise his howls and protest, until Grim Death steps in and settles the matter by picking the hog up by the bristles and lugging him off.

We might add that it is wonderful how many hogs think they are gentlemen and have all kinds of contempt for other hogs no worse than themselves.

A PRAYER TO AZRAEL

If [illegible] thy face is more compassionate
Than God's own angel Pity, he who spreads
Across the world with healing in his hands,
Early and late,
Therefore I dare to ask a little thing.
To [illegible] unto thee no [illegible] is small or great,
The humblest beggar, the anointed king,
Of one estate,
Yet, [illegible] often [illegible] thy [illegible]
Feeling the sombre arms about them close
As twilight folds a rose,
So even I this little prayer dare bring
Unto thy pitying.

I pray thee that me not [illegible] to go
Closed within any dwelling man have made—
Those four poor walls where I may [illegible] afraid
As from a foe;
But [illegible] on my hills, my hills [illegible]
The free winds drift and blow,
Between the green and gold of earth and sun.
Ah, find me so! [illegible]
I would not quite forget in some new birth
The joy of this my earth,
Nor lose what time I look on Paradise
The vision in my eyes
Of green boughs swaying in a singing wind,
Oh, Azrael, be kind!

Theodosia Garrison, in Ainslee's.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

George Bernard Shaw's Wexford ancestry has been divulged, for only an Irish playwright can be "produced" at the Abbey theatre in Dublin. Mr. Shaw's mother was Elizabeth, daughter of Walter Bagenal Gurly of Wexford, whose sister Hannah became a nun at Maryborough in 1824 and founded the Presentation convent at Stradbally, Queen's county, in 1869, dying there 12 years later. His mother's grandfather was Joshua Tench of Wexford, one of the "rebels" or "patriots" of '98. But on his father's side Mr. Shaw comes of Protestant stock. In some autobiographical passages he penned ten years ago Mr. Shaw has characteristic things to say of this side of his family. "My father" (he wrote) "was an Irish Protestant gentleman. He had no money, no education, no profession, no manual skill, no qualification for any definite social function. I was christened by my uncle; but as my godfather was intoxicated and did not turn up, the sexton was ordered to vow and to promise in his place, precisely as my uncle might have ordered him to put more coals on the vestry fire. Protestantism in Ireland is not a religion; it is side in political faction, a class prejudice, a conviction that Roman Catholics are socially inferior persons. What helped to make this 'church' a hotbed of all the social vices was that no working folk ever came to it. I cannot say that in Ireland every man is the worse for what he calls his religion. I can only say that all I knew were."

Mrs. Isaac L. Rice of New York was chosen at the recent conference in London of the International society for the Suppression of Street Noises to have charge of the second congress of the society, which is to be held in New York in 1912. The first congress is to meet in Berlin in June, 1910.

Two new young men begin work at Brown this fall in positions intermediate between students and faculty. They are C. E. Silcox, the secretary of the Brown Christian association, and Paul Matteson, the secretary of the Brown Union. Each man will give his entire time to this work, and the social and religious interest of the university will certainly not be neglected. Mr. Silcox graduated last year from the University of Toronto, where as president of the association he did an effective work. Mr. Matteson, the son of ex-Chief Justice Matteson of the Rhode Island supreme court, graduated from Brown three years ago, and has spent the last year with Dr. Grenfell in Labrador.

Rev. Dr. Ira Landrith of Nashville has resigned from the secretaryship of the Presbyterian Brotherhood, and is succeeded by Henry E. Rosevear.

The Hon. Mrs. Assheton Harbord of England maintains that ballooning is not only less dangerous, but also far less expensive than motoring. She was once caught in an electric storm while crossing the English channel in a balloon, and on another occasion was obliged to make a descent at such speed that the members of her ballooning party entered Holland on their heads. In neither instance did Mrs. Harbord or any of her party experience anything worse than a severe shaking up.

Rev. Percy Martin of Muswell Hill, London, Eng., has accepted a call from the Congregational church at Williamstown to become its pastor. Mr. Martin will go to Williamstown about Nov. 1. He preached there through July last, exchanging pulpits with Rev. F. T. Clayton, the former pastor of the church, who went abroad.

The famous "simple life colony," known as "Monte Verita," at Locarno, in Switzerland, has gone bankrupt and the plant is for sale. The colony, which was started about half a dozen years ago by a German named Hofmann, prospered greatly for a while. Persons of high degree flocked thither from Germany, Austria and Italy, to live on fruits and vegetables. Duchesses and countesses clothed themselves in a kind of white sack and went about with bare feet and flowing hair. They even sold their jewels and gave the proceeds to the colony. But the charms of simplicity seem to have palled upon the devotees and they have gone back to the pomps and vanities of the world.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The reputation of Mr. Louis Mann as a master of refined comedy attracted a large and intelligent audience to the Opera House last evening and those who anticipated an artistic piece of acting were not disappointed. Mr. Mann appeared in the leading role of "The Man Who Stood Still," a comedy in four acts by Jules Eckert Goodman. This play is a rare admixture of comedy, business and love tangles that offer every variety of heart interest and a fine opportunity for the leading characters to display their ability not only in the comical situations but in the serious moods in which lovers are disappointed, business hopes are dashed, rivals are brought in conflict and fortunes disappear.

The story of the play revolves about a cynical character named John Krauss, a German watchmaker, whose hatred of progressive methods of business suggest Nature's terror of a vacuum. Old Krauss had a daughter "Marie" and a business friend named Edward Spiegel. It naturally occurred to the old man that it would be a nice thing to have Marie marry Spiegel's son. Krauss had a business rival, however, named Martin MacFerguson, and this rival had a son who made love to Marie and who by deception finally induced her to elope with him. Then by going through the formality of a mock marriage, he persuaded her to believe they were man and wife. Marie's father was determined never to forgive his daughter, but as the years passed and business reverses tempered his rage, he finally was led to forgive her for the manner in which she had betrayed his confidence at a time when he was arranging a match between her and young Spiegel who actually loved her.

The cast of characters is as follows: John Krauss, Mr. Mann; Marie Krauss, his daughter, Miss Emily Ann Wellman; Katrina Krauss, his sister, Madame Mathilde Cottrelly; Edward Spiegel, Louis Hendricks; Fred Spiegel, Alice Spiegel, his children, Leslie Bassett and Miss Lillian Sinnot; Martin MacFerguson, Edwin Maynard; Frank MacFerguson, his son, H. A. La Motte; Joseph Abrams, John Charles; a crossing sweeper, Frank Julian; the baby, Seawillow Johnson.

Mr. Mann's portrayal of the character of Krauss done in the German dialect with copious gestures and realistic dramatic action was a rare piece of acting. Every incident was made the vehicle for showing the actor's ability to portray the emotions of the heart and to touch the hearts of his audience by his pathos, to move to laughter by his humor, and with all these was a masterly touch of finesse given to every incident portrayed.

Louis Kendricks as Edward Spiegel contributed much of the humor in the play, while John Charles as Joseph Abrams displayed much talent in the interpretation of his role. Madam Mathilde Cottrelly, a sister of Krauss, gave a finished portrayal of her part, and did some very fine acting. Miss Emily Ann Wellman as Marie played her part very acceptably, and the rest of the support was fairly good.

The appreciation of Mr. Mann's acting was shown in the number of curtain calls. At some of the climaxes in the play there were over a half dozen curtain calls in which Mr. Mann appeared with his company to bow his acknowledgments. The applause at the close of the pinocle game between Krauss and Spiegel was uproarious. When Mr. Mann returns to Lowell he will be assured of a rousing reception by the lovers of fine acting and racy comedy.

"A BROKEN IDOL"

Madge Vee who is appearing as a Chinese girl in "A Broken Idol" for the big musical comedy success which plays its first engagement in this city at the Opera House, on Saturday, Sept. 25, matinee and night has taken up the study of the Chinese language. She has begun to memorize the thousands of arbitrary characters that are used in writing the language and hopes to be able in time to read Confucius in the original.

"I became interested in the language in my search for a correct Chinese costume," said Miss Vee. "I made a pilgrimage to the Chinese quarters and there I met wives of the wealthy Chinese merchants.

"They showed me many kindnesses. Expressing a desire to learn more of their life I was invited to make my home with a wealthy Chinese woman.

"I find the language taxes the memory greatly, and yet to one who is called upon to learn new roles frequently it shouldn't be such a task to learn the language."

STOCK NEXT WEEK

The Whiteside-Strauss stock company, one of the popular stock companies will be the attraction at the Lowell Opera House for [illegible] days commencing Monday, Sept. 27, matinee daily except Monday.

The plays are all new and presented exclusively by this company. They include several well known New York successes.

Several high class specialties are seen headed by the Johnson Sisters, America's foremost singers and dancers; "The Musical Lockwoods," high class musical artists, playing a variety of brass, reed and novelty instruments. New illustrated Songs. Miss Maude Clement, the petite comedienne. Burdette Bros., the greatest of all comedy acrobats, Miss Vivian in character songs, and Mr. Will H. Strauss that funny fellow. Ladies' tickets will be issued for Monday evening only.

THE TRAVELING SALESMAN

"The Traveling Salesman" which comes to the Opera House, Oct. 1 and 2, is in no wise diminished but has every evidence of increasing popularity and without doubt has proven one of the biggest successes of the theatrical season wherever it has been produced. There are few professions or modes of business life, which have not been idealized by the diligent searching playwright into stage types, which either through caricature or exaggeration, are evolved into comedy roles whose chief reason for existence is a mission of laugh production. The different professions and even the newspaper reporter, are well-known stage types, but James Forbes is probably the first author to take the "drummer"—the man who sells on the road—and turn him into the most important character of a footlight performance. If you are a traveling salesman you will enjoy your namesake; if not, you will enjoy the true representation of the numerous incidents that occur in the life of the modern "knight of the road," both humorous and otherwise, of which we often hear of these happenings and enjoy the recital presented by a proficient company of players and perfect scenic investiture.

ENID MAYO.

Miss Enid Mayo and a strong company of actors appeared before crowded houses at the Franklin Square theatre, yesterday afternoon and last night, in "The Girl Outcast." Miss Mayo was the outcast, and played her part with enthusiasm at times, combined with tragedy, deep sorrow with just a few joyful moments during the entire four acts. She received hearty applause at frequent intervals during the play. The costumes of Miss Mayo attracted much attention from the women in the audience, and when she first caught a fine lace overall and later a French lace dress on the stage furniture, and a loud r-r-rip sounded through the house, the exclamations of dismay from the women in the audience drowned out the voices of the players.—Worcester Daily Telegram.

Miss Mayo in "The Girl Outcast" will be seen here at the Opera House tonight.

DAVID COPPERFIELD.

The visit of Charles Dickens to this country in 1842 was followed by his "American Notes" in which he sharply criticized some American methods. At first "American Notes" was received with indignation on this side of the Atlantic. But later, when "David Copperfield" appeared, this masterpiece of friction wiped out the memory of the stings he had administered. In many respects "David Copperfield" is the most interesting story ever penned. The dramatization of this famous novel forms a play of heart touching pathos, blended with that unique humor which marks all of Dickens' works. If you have never read "David Copperfield" you will quickly grasp its strong characteristics by seeing the play which will be presented at the Opera House tomorrow night, under the able management of Edward C. White.

STAR THEATRE

"The Cowboy of Old Arizona," interesting and exciting as it is, was talked by the capable company of actors at the Star theatre this afternoon, and was given added life.

THEATRE LA SCALA

The feature subject at the Theatre La Scala today is a Pathe picture true to life in story and as well acted as some of the celebrated films D'art. It is a most entertaining series of pictures. "A Soldier's Heart" is a well written dramatic subject and "Three Reasons For Haste" is a remarkably clever comedy.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Inasmuch as no vaudeville show can be called vaudeville unless it holds plenty of variety to it, it becomes necessary to inject into bills, at intervals, some striking comedy acrobatic act. At Hathaway's theatre this week one of the few very good ones, "A Piece of Dresden China," has been secured.

"Winning on Wind," in which Lewis McCord and a large company appear is a very funny comedy. Yosco and Lyons, instrumentalists and singers, are thorough musicians. Mr. Lyons plays the harp rather better than vaudeville usually gets and would undoubtedly make a mark for himself on the concert stage, while Mr. Yosco is a thorough entertainer, playing a variety of instruments and singing well.

Other good acts on the program are: Jere McAuliffe, in a brace of keen parodies; the Aldines, comedy acrobats; the Four Sullivan Brothers, singers and dancers; McAdams and his talking dog, "Spike," and the Hathascope with new motion pictures.

DIAGRAM OF NEW YORK'S NAVAL PARADE; VIEWS OF THE FLEET BY DAY AND NIGHT

NAVAL DISPLAY AT NIGHT
BRITISH SAILORS CHEERING
WARSHIPS SALUTING

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Besides the Dutch, British, German, French and Italian warships that will be in the Hudson-Fulton parade at New York there will be 52 vessels of the United States navy. Among these are the Connecticut, Vermont, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Mississippi, Idaho, Georgia, New Jersey, Nebraska, Rhode Island, Virginia, Wisconsin, Maine, Missouri, Ohio, North Carolina, New York, Montana, Chester, Birmingham and Salem. There are to be two water parades on Sept. 25. These take place in the Hudson river from the Battery to Spuyten Duyvil. In the afternoon parade the Clermont and the Half Moon will lead the greatest fleet of excursion and pleasure craft ever assembled in American waters. These vessels will encircle the battleships, and each of the 70 or more fighting machines will fire a salute to the Half Moon and Clermont. At night the warships will be illuminated, and the pleasure boats will again encircle them. During this proceeding every searchlight in the international fleet will play upon the passing vessels, the Palisades and the city. The line of warships at anchor will be more than eight miles long.

WELCOME TO PEARY

Maine People Give Grand Greeting to the Arctic Explorer

VANCEBORO, Me., Sept. 23.—Maine made its welcome to her foster son, Commander Robert Peary, today, and all along the route of his journey through the state the friendly greetings of the people was a pleasing recognition of his achievement in finding the North pole. Commander Peary and his family are expected late today at Portland, where they will probably remain over night and go to their home at Eagle Isle the next morning.

The Peary party passed through St. John, N. B., early today and in the few minutes between trains several people gathered about the explorer and congratulated him on his success. The commander said he did not know what the plans are for his reception at Bangor. It is understood that while he is glad to meet the people he desires to refrain from making any speeches.

Com. Peary is keeping his own counsel with regard to the information he has obtained on the great question, "Has Cook found the pole?" but intimation [illegible] not wanting to say that the time is near at hand when this will be made known. The explorer will probably remain at Eagle Island several days, and during that time will [illegible] the records he has made of the trip to the pole and at the same time keep himself advised of the developments in the Cook controversy.

PEARY FAMILY

ARRIVED AT ST. JOHN THIS MORNING

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 23.—Commander Robert E. Peary, accompanied by his family and a small army of newspaper men, arrived here at 6.25 a.m. today from Sydney, N. S. Fifteen minutes later the party left on the Provincial express for Portland, Me., from which point Commander Peary will proceed to his summer home on Eagle island at the mouth of Casco bay.

The brief quarter hour that the explorer remained in St. John was spent in granting interviews to the local newspaper men and in hastily glancing at the morning papers. Commander Peary, at the request of the newspaper men, posed on the rear platform of the train for his picture while several amateur photographers [illegible] [illegible] snapshots. Owing to the early hour but a small crowd was at the station to greet the explorer.

SCHOOL CHILDREN

SHOWERED FLOWERS ON PEARY AND HIS WIFE

VANCEBORO, Me., Sept. 23.—After [illegible] [illegible] of the Nova Scotia [illegible] over a period of twenty-four [illegible] Commander Robert E. Peary, the Arctic traveller, [illegible] on his native [illegible] [illegible] to the top of the world [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] a standstill at the Vanceboro station [illegible] hundred feet within the United States.

Railroad [illegible] placed at the [illegible] of the approach of the [illegible] and the entire population of about a thousand ran from their homes to the railroad station. School was immediately dismissed and the school children, each carrying the Stars and Stripes and a bunch of flowers, were marched down to the train. Everyone cheered and Commander Peary was showered with flowers when he and Mrs. Peary appeared on the rear platform of their Pullman car.

The appearance of the commander with his wife was the signal for a prolonged outburst from the crowd on the station platform. While the locomotive whistles tooted everyone cheered until they were hoarse and the school children continued to wave their flags. Peary acknowledged the welcome by speaking briefly, addressing his remarks principally to the children. His wife stood by his side and was apparently overjoyed. It was the first time he has addressed a gathering since leaving Cape Breton.

Meanwhile the train was being turned over by the Canadian Pacific to the Maine Central. Wires were sent forward to Bangor for reservation on the Bar Harbor express, which leaves that city for Portland at 3.40 p. m. After Peary had finished speaking, little Ruth Howe presented him with a bouquet of sweet peas. One little schoolgirl exclaimed, "Well, 'spose we will see Mr. Peary's picture in our geographies now with a big polar bear right under it with the Stars and Stripes."

Shortly before 10 o'clock the train pulled out of the station on its way to Oldtown, its next stopping place. The crowd cheered until it was out of sight and then dispersed.

The party will probably reach Oldtown about 1 o'clock.

TO AID SUFFERERS

MONTEREY, Mex., Sept. 23.—United States Consul General Hanna, acting as agent for the National Red Cross society of the United States, is taking an active part in the distribution of relief to the sufferers in the recent floods in the states of Nuevo Leon and [illegible].

[illegible] Hanna says that reports continue to be received from the country districts [illegible] [illegible] suffering [illegible].

AWAITS WORLD'S END

Sect of the Latter Reign Holding Services at Duxbury

WEST DUXBURY, Sept. 23.—Firm in their conviction that the world will come to an end at 10 o'clock Friday forenoon, a colony of about 300 members of the denomination known as the Latter Reign of the Apostolic church are spending their few remaining hours in prayer, song and exhortation. The scene of their religious ardor is "Ashdod," a little wooden chapel on High street, the main turnpike between Boston and Plymouth. The chapel, in the language of the natives, is "five miles from everywhere," and to a certain extent this is correct, so far as that vicinity is concerned, as the chapel is that distance from Kingston, Duxbury and Hanover.

Worldly tasks have been laid aside and jobs have been thrown up in order that the faithful may in the few short hours that they believe remain to them, prepare their spiritual natures for the millennium. Believers are here from all over New England, especially large delegations coming from Springfield, Providence and Pawtucket. One well dressed woman from Providence called her husband up on the long distance telephone and urged him to "come over at once." Responding to her husband's argument that he would be discharged if he left his employment, she assured him that it did not make any difference, as there would be no work of any kind after 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Services Day and Night

The services are practically continuous night and day. There is gospel hymn singing interspersed with frequent exhortations and prayers. In all branches of the worship the congregation participates, singing the hymns with fervor and interrupting prayer and exhortation with pious ejaculations.

The chief exhorter at the meetings is Robert Swan, who is assisted by J. [illegible] Osgood. For the past few years he has been in charge of the meetings at the chapel. The congregation for the greater part is composed of well dressed persons of apparent intelligence. A few colored persons are also among the number.

Occasionally the services at the chapel are suspended long enough to permit of a trip to a pond about half a mile distant where the converts are baptized. Fourteen were immersed Tuesday, a few of them being children of 8 or 9 years of age. Above the speaker's rostrum in the chapel is a clock, under which, in big letters, appear the words: "Jesus is coming. Get ready." Frequent reference to the clock and the inscription is made by the exhorter during his sermons.

To feed the crowd attending the meetings, a big tent has been erected near the church, while the houses in the neighborhood and even the church horse-beds furnish lodging for the people.

None of the faithful appears to have a shadow of doubt that the world will end Friday forenoon. When asked what they will do if the expected agent does not materialize, most of them refuse to entertain such a supposition. Some suggested that a love feast be held for ten days or so, while others still said that if the millenium did not come on Friday it would come next year at the same season.

DEATH LIST GROWS

Reports Show That Many Perished in Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—At an early hour today the list of known dead who perished in Terrebonne parish during Monday's hurricane had swelled to more than 40, and it is believed a score or more may be added to this number. Additional reports of deaths in other sections of Louisiana are also being received and the toll of human lives exacted by the hurricane will count perhaps a hundred people when the final report has been made.

Further details of property loss, reaching millions of dollars, come in with the gradual restoration of communication.

No trace of the crew of nine men on the sloop Seven Brothers wrecked near the Rilegats, 20 miles east of New Orleans, has been discovered.

FERON NOT YET

His Case Will be Up on October 29

Acting Superintendent James Brosnan of the police department received a letter this morning from General Johnanus Whitney, head of the state police, stating that the case of Henri Feron, the alleged murderer of Mrs. Flora Ffivers, who is now in Quebec awaiting extradition, would not be reached until Oct. 29th. No particulars were given in the letter.

Inspector Byrne of the state police and Inspector Charles Lathamme of the local police are in Quebec with extradition papers waiting to bring Feron back to Lowell.

SEVEN ROOM COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 1477 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT 49 COBURN STREET, ALSO FRONTING ON JEWETT STREET.

This cosy little cottage which consists of seven rooms, has four on the first floor, and three sleeping rooms on the second, has water closet in the cellar and on the first floor is in excellent shape, inside and out, and is rented to a first class family for $15.00 a month. Now the fact of this cottage having a frontage on both Coburn and Jewett streets with a fair sized yard on the Jewett street side with a few small shrubberies, is certainly a great advantage as it gives daylight on all sides of the property. My only reason for disposing of the property is that I am living in Boston and I have decided that this is the best and quickest way to make a sale. Now for an investment or a home this is a grand opportunity for someone who wants to locate in Centralville and it is certainly a special inducement to the housekeeper as a cottage of this kind will accommodate a good sized family and you will agree with me after looking this place up that it is a very nice and cosy little home.

Terms: $200 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off. All inquiries should be made of the auctioneer, who is in full charge.

WILKINS CASE

Possibility of Divorce From Dead Man

SALEM, Sept. 23.—A suit for divorce from a dead man is the possibility that arose in the hearing of the libel of Mrs. Alice M. Wilkins of Beverly before Judge Crosby in the Essex county superior court in Salem yesterday. Mrs. Wilkins seeks divorce from her husband, Eugene A. Wilkins, on the ground of desertion.

On Feb. 22, 1905, Wilkins left his home on a trip as a traveling salesman. Nothing was heard from him for a month. On March 22 a letter was received from Providence by Mrs. Wilkins from her husband, saying he was sending his bag and diamond ring home and nobody would ever know what had become of him. He told his wife to collect his life insurance, $4000. A search was made in Providence, but it was futile. She was unable to obtain the insurance, as she could not prove her husband was dead.

NIGHT EDITION

GREAT RECEPTION

To be Tendered Archbishop O'Connell in This City

Archbishop O'Connell will be tendered a great reception in this city on Sunday, Oct. 3, when he will come here to lay the corner stone of the new building being erected at the corner of Andrews and Moore streets by the Sacred Heart parish. The archbishop will arrive in this city early in the afternoon and will be met at Davis Square by a grand escort that will include a number of the Catholic societies of the city. There will be several bands of music and the O. M. I. Cadets who made such an impression on the archbishop by their fine marching and formations in the recent Holy Name parade in Boston will probably head the line. The Holy Name society of the Sacred Heart parish will be in line and the Mathew Temperance institute, the Burke Temperance institute, all the divisions of the Hiberanians of which order the archbishop is chaplain, the Y. M. C. I. and other societies have been invited to take part and it is expected that they will accept.

The residences along the line of march will be decorated and the occasion will be a memorable one in the history of the Sacred Heart parish. Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., the hard working pastor of the Sacred Heart church, was in Boston yesterday and received the acceptance of the archbishop to his invitation to come to Lowell and lay the corner stone of the new building. This evening the members of the Holy Name society of the parish are requested to meet at 7.30 o'clock when a drill will be held and business relating to the reception transacted. Prior to the laying of the corner stone the archbishop will confirm a class of children and will address the people of the parish. It is hoped that every member of the societies that have been invited to take part in the parade will make a special effort to be in line on Sunday, October 3d.

BLOW AT LODGE

Attack Upon Machine Said to Have Been Made

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The suddenness of the attack upon the Lodge machine, which hit a number of districts at the state primaries, has stirred up real consternation.

There is some evidence from the talk among insurgents that the whole matter was carefully planned and that the districts were picked where the machine candidates could most easily be defeated.

The victory of Representative Arthur L. Nason of Haverhill, who captured most of the delegates in the fourth Essex senatorial convention against the opposition of J. Otis Wardwell was supplemented by a significant victory in the western part of the state, where Colonel A. P. Langtry, turned down by the machine in his aspirations to be state treasurer, won the nomination for the house in the Springfield district.

Thomas Pattison of Barnstable, a close friend of Mr. Wardwell and a prominent machine republican, was defeated in the southeastern part of the state in the cape district senatorial fight.

Weeks' Defeat Important

Around Boston the most significant thing was the defeat of Representative Wm. E. Weeks, defeated by James Cavanagh for the house. The prominence of Weeks in the house as a leader among the machine forces, and particularly among the special conservatives, makes his defeat of extreme importance.

The fourth Essex fight, however, promises to create widespread attention. Nason has declared that Wardwell cannot be returned to the republican state committee and he has attacked Wardwell for his prominence in the handling of big corporation matters on Beacon Hill.

Now, however, no candidate has appeared as a candidate for the state committee against Wardwell. Unless a candidate can be found before the convention Wardwell will be re-elected from force of circumstances. It was said yesterday that already tremendous pressure had been brought to bear upon the Nason forces to permit the election of Wardwell to the state committee without opposition, with the guarantee that as long as Nason wishes to go to the senate he will have no opposition from Wardwell.

But Nason is said not to have entertained the idea. He won after a bitter struggle, in which every artifice was used to defeat him. He talked direct nominations and income tax and made his fight upon that platform.

Wardwell is the man who will be depended upon in the legislature next year to defeat the income tax amendment now pending for acceptance. No matter whether the state convention adopts a plank or not, the effort will still be made to defeat it.

Ex-Speaker John N. Cole has said that he will in any event offer to the state convention a plank favoring the income tax. Chairman John L. Bates of the committee on resolutions is on record in favor of the income tax.

Dorman Hard Hit

The primaries strengthen the income tax. Everywhere where a man had come out flatly for the tax he was nominated. William E. Dorman of Lynn, who was defeated, had declared in favor of the tax, but he had not said whether or not he would vote for it.

Dorman's defeat was a heavy blow. He had been promised the chairmanship of the committee on judiciary next year and by reason of having held that position he would have been in line for the speakership of the house.

BIG ATHLETIC MEET

Long distance running, which since the famous Hayes-Dorando finish at the Olympic games has caught the fancy of the American public, will be more popular during the coming fall months than ever before. For the next month or so the weather conditions for out-of-door athletic contests will be of the best, both for contestant and for spectator. And on Saturday, Oct. Lowell will have an opportunity of witnessing one of the most unique and interesting athletic struggles on the athletic calendar. This will be a race in which a walker will endeavor to defeat a Marathon runner.

Such a race was arranged yesterday. It was arranged in the Sun office, the contesting parties to be Dan O'Leary and an unknown Marathoner. The Marathoner will run ten miles to O'Leary's six.

Mr. Holske, the world's champion 50 mile walker, is sponsor for the unknown. Mr. O'Leary needs no mention here. So confident is Mr. Holske of his protege's ability to defeat Dan in this unusual race that he has posted $100 with the sporting editor of The Sun to back his opinion, which $100 was immediately covered by O'Leary. In addition to this sum, the winner will receive the gate receipts.

No assistants will be allowed near the contestants during the race. The question of a referee has been left to the judgment of the sporting editor of this paper. Preliminary to the big event, a five mile open race will be held, also a three mile race for boys under 20 years of age.

BATTLESHIP NORTH DAKOTA

QUINCY, Sept. 23.—The battleship North Dakota now nearly completed at the yards of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co., here will be the first of the Dreadnaughts in the United States navy to have her government standardization trial trips. The date has been set for Oct. 15, over the Rockland, Me., course. The contract requirement is 21 knots. It is expected the North Dakota will exceed this. Although the North Dakota's tests come five days before those of her sister ship the Delaware, the latter is at present further advanced in the percentage of completion.

POLICE PAY ROLL

Was Approved by Committee on Accounts Today

Alderman Turner Acts on Advice of City Solicitor, but Protests That Lieut. Brosnan Should be Made Superintendent

The police board is happy and so is Superintendent, or rather Acting Superintendent, Lieut. James Brosnan for this morning the police pay roll was approved, granting his salary as acting superintendent by the three members of the committee on accounts, although Chairman Turner of the committee on accounts gave out an interview in which he says that he is still of the opinion that there is no such a position as "acting superintendent of police." The action of the committee on accounts in approving the pay roll was taken on account of a verbal opinion from City Solicitor Duncan to the effect that the board of police, so long as the money is available, had a right to create the office of acting superintendent or any other office within the scope of their duty.

Then to add to the interest of these things, the city auditor has received communications from the clerk of the police board to the effect that the lieutenant had been duly elected acting superintendent of police, and that his salary had been fixed at $2000 per year. The mayor instructs the city auditor that no one member of the committee on accounts has authority to change any pay roll submitted by the heads of any of the departments.

Alderman Turner, speaking of the matter said:

"In accordance with the city solicitor's opinion that the board of police has power to create any position, so long as the board has the money to pay the salary, I have signed the pay roll, but I do so under protest. I believe the board of police should elect James Brosnan superintendent of police, and not continue him as 'acting superintendent', from which position he may be removed at will. Lieut. Brosnan is a capable officer, in my opinion, and is entitled to the position of permanent superintendent of police.

"The rules of the department under which officers have been appointed, promoted and discharged do not provide for any such halfway office."

GOV. JOHNSON'S BODY

Escorted to the Train by Military Guard

ST. PAUL, Sept. 23.—The body of John A. Johnson, late governor of Minnesota, was escorted from the rotunda of the state capitol today with military pomp to the train which carried it to St. Peter, Minn., its last resting place. The pall bearers carried the casket to the hearse through the double line of honorary pall bearers. A volunteer band of 100 pieces sounded the funeral march and ten companies of state militia and three bodies of artillery and representative bodies of Masons' civic organizations and lastly a large following of citizens. Arriving at the Union station the casket was placed in the baggage car of a special train. The private car of Vice President P. T. Clark of the Omaha road was reserved for Mrs. Johnson. Mr. Fred W. Johnson, a brother, and several intimate friends. A car was reserved for the pall bearers, the governor's staff and those immediately known as the official family. The rest of the train was thrown open for the accommodation of the public and a large number went along to St. Peter. The funeral train was due to arrive in St. Peter at 12.45 p. m. The body was then to be taken to the Presbyterian church, where the deceased once was a member of the choir. The funeral service will begin at 2 o'clock after the citizens of St. Peter have been given a last look on the face of their former fellow townsman. The interment will be in Greenhill cemetery beside the bodies of Gov. Johnson's father and mother.

THE PRESIDENT

To Make an Extended Speech at Montrose

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 23.—President Taft reached Glenwood Springs at 6 o'clock this morning and after a stay of 15 minutes left for Grand Junction and Montrose. While here the president was greeted by hundreds of citizens most of whom had come a long way from their ranches in the surrounding valleys to pay their respects to the nation's executive.

The president awoke early and greeted the people from the platform of his car. He made a short address and shook hands with a number of citizens.

The presidential train is scheduled to arrive at Montrose, Colo., at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon, where the president is expected to make an extended address probably dealing with conservation. It is proposed that the president make the trip to the west portal of the Gunnison tunnel over a narrow-gauge railroad. At the conclusion of his remarks the flow of water through the tunnel which will irrigate 200,000 acres of hitherto arid lands is to be started.

THE REGISTRARS

THE DEMOCRATS

Of Chelmsford Held Caucus Last Night

One of the most interesting democratic caucuses ever held in Chelmsford since the days when James P. Dunnigan and Patrick T. McMahon were trying for the supremacy, was held last evening at the town hall in North Chelmsford.

The meeting was called to order by John E. Harrington, chairman of the town committee. John E. Harrington was chosen chairman and Charles V. Devine was chosen secretary.

The following residents were elected to attend conventions: State, John E. Harrington; senatorial, James P. Quigley; county and councillor, Chas. F. Devine; representative, Patrick S. Ward, Walter J. Devine, William A. Shinkwin.

The town committee for the year 1909-10 is as follows: John E. Harrington, Charles F. Devine, Patrick H. Haley, John F. McManamin, John J. Dunn.

FOR FIRST TIME

GRAND JUNCTION ENTERTAINED PRESIDENT OF UNITED STATES

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Sept. 23.—This city entertained the president of the United States for the first time in its history this morning when President Taft arrived and was escorted through the principal streets to the fair grounds, where he made a brief address in front of the grandstand. Fully 12,000 greeted Mr. Taft at the fair grounds. From here the presidential party traveled in a special train to Montrose. He will return early in the morning and leave for the west.

MANY VISITORS

To Attend Hudson-Fulton Celebration

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—With a column of warships of various nations more than a mile long in the Hudson river, and the British and German squadrons expected to arrive today, the streets and buildings blossoming with bunting and thousands of visitors beginning to arrive, New York was beginning today to awake to the fact that the opening of the great Hudson-Fulton celebration was near. The boom of the big guns as the warships assembled stirred the enthusiasm of the city for the splendid spectacles which commences on Saturday. Meantime this was a busy day on board the battleships and cruisers ranged in a long column in the Hudson river. Official visits were exchanged between the officers of the fleets and the city officials and officers of the United States army and navy in this city.

In the midst of the fog today the torpedo boat destroyers which will be included in the naval parade crept up the harbor and stole over to the New York navy yard to await assignment to their positions among the ships at anchor in the Hudson.

Several specialties in the nature of aerial events which are not on the program of the Hudson Fulton celebration are promised by officials of the celebration.

It was early in the afternoon before the three warships outside Sandy Hook were positively identified as the expected British visitors. At 1 o'clock the trio anchored off the Hook and a wireless message from the flagship Drake brought information that they would stay outside the harbor until tomorrow and await the arrival of the battleship Inflexible which was expected to join the squadron late tonight. Tomorrow morning if weather conditions are right the warships will steam up the Hudson and take their places with the other men of war off 129th street.

NO CANDIDATE

Selected by the Fusionists as Yet

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—With the fusion movement so far unsuccessful and no mayoralty candidate agreed upon after two days of discussion there was considerable speculation today as to what would be the action of the republican city convention which meets in Carnegie hall at noon. It was reported that the city convention might adjourn until the Fusionists had decided on candidates but Timothy L. Woodruff, who will act as chairman of the city convention, said:

"The city convention will nominate a full city ticket regardless of anything that happened last night."

It was expected that the republican county committee, the Citizens union and the committee of 130 would draw up a ticket to be presented at the convention. Some of the prominent local republicans said today that the mayoralty nomination was likely to go to one of three men, Congressman William Bennett, ex-Justice Wilkinson or Job E. Hedges.

The convention was called to order by Sheriff Alfred Hebley of Kings county, chairman of the republican city committee.

Former Attorney General Julius M. Mayer was made temporary chairman.

COTTON IS HIGH

Largest Price Paid Since the Civil War

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—A fresh wave of bullish excitement fairly carried away the cotton market today with every delivery on the list making new high records for the season and with prices scoring an advance from yesterday of 30 points or more; $10.50 a bale.

Business was the most active in generals so far this season and heavy buying by western houses particularly in view of the dull wheat market caused reports that Mr. Patten, the big Chicago operator, was advising his friends to transfer their interests from wheat to cotton. Southern and local bulls were also big buyers and bullish enthusiasm based upon reports of material damage to the crops as a result of the recent storm and a bullish census statement of last year's American consumption was further encouraged by reports that manufacturers had become frightened and were calling cotton right and left for future delivery. December cotton here sold up to 13.34 and May to 13.42 during the early afternoon, these prices showing an advance of about 1 1-4 cents a pound. The price of approximately 13 1-4 cents reached today is the highest ever paid for cotton at this season of the year when the south had still practically the entire crop to market, since the Civil war. And even supposing that the crop falls as far short of last year's yield of 13,800,000 bales as the bull leaders anticipate and amounts to only 10,500,000 bales at the present price it would be worth around $706,000,000, the largest amount ever realized for a single crop in the history of the trade.

TANNERY HEARING

Friends of the Tannery Likely to Pack the Hearing Room—Those Opposed Should Turn Out and Voice Their Objections

A public hearing on the tannery nuisance in Howe street will be given by the board of health in the public hearing room at the city hall tonight. The hour set for the opening of the hearing is 8 o'clock and everybody interested in the abatement of the nuisance should attend.

It is rumored that the tannery people may attempt to pack the meeting with their employes and others, who, for the time being, will give voice to the belief that the nauseating odors emitted from the hide-pack in Howe street is good for one's health; that it is a splendid thing to breathe liberally of for the expansion of the lungs and that delicate persons have been known to become healthy under its curative powers.

They may endeavor to make it appear that the value of property in that vicinity has been enhanced by the presence of these health giving, life producing odors and that English sparrows making their nests within the shadow of the hide vault have developed into pigeons or birds of greater dimensions.

They may tell you that after a certain season the odor of the hides in the process of beaming becomes sweeter to the nostril than the perfume of the dew-kissed rose and that Hoyt's cologne is not a fit wash for the feet of him who breathes the refreshing blood purifying, lung expanding atmosphere of Howe street, and of course you will believe every word they say—nit.

It was stated today that persons representing the American Hide and Leather company have been circulating petitions and that many signatures to a statement to the effect that the odors in Howe street are not obnoxious, malodorous or unhealthful have been corraled. These signatures in the main, no doubt, will be those of the company's employes and persons in some way affiliated with the company.

The American Hide and Leather company will have its lawyers on hand this evening and they, no doubt, will be rich in legal display and flowery language, but were their tongues scented with the perfume of the cedar and their breath laden with the sweetness of the rose, yet the stench from Howe street would remain the same. The tannery cannot, like the leopard, change its spots.

Report had it that Boston lawyers representing the American Hide and Leather company had called at the mayor's office yesterday and had remained there for some considerable time. Asked this forenoon if he had anything to offer relative to the hearing on the tannery nuisance, the mayor replied: "I have nothing to do with that. The board of health has all to do with the hearing."

DEATHS

PIRA—Oracilia Pira, aged 1 year, child of Manual and Catherine Pira, died this morning at the home of her parents, 58 Charles street.

McCREAMMER — Gertrude McCreammer, the 11 months old daughter of Andrew and Sarah McCreammer, died this morning at the home of her parents, 79 Cushing street.

$35,000 DAMAGE

Ten Men Were Burned at Fire

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Ten men were slightly burned and $35,000 damage was done by a fire, which started at 10.15 o'clock last night, in the barrel factory of the Tidewater Oil company at Bayonne, a branch of the Standard. The flames spread to the boiler house and consumed it.

At midnight the fire was still burning, and there was a fear it might spread to the great stills east of the barrel factory, which would mean a blaze that would last for days.

The ten employes were burned when the flames shot through the barrel house, igniting the oil-soaked dust about the plant. They were treated at the Bayonne hospital.

HOLY CROSS

HAD LARGE ATTENDANCE ON OPENING DAY

Never before in the history of Holy Cross college, Worcester, Mass., has its fall opening been so successful as it was yesterday morning when for the 87th term the college officially, for the term of 1909 and 1910, announced that 885 students had been registered, the largest number in the history of the college. After chapel when services were conducted by the president of the college, Rev. Thomas E. Murphy, S. J., the students assembled in Fenwick hall, where those present were addressed by the reverend president and announcements of class promotion were made. "Schola Brevis" was then in order and this morning marked the beginning of the real college life.

GUILTY OF GRAFT

Chicago Police Inspector Was Convicted by a Jury

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Police Inspector Edward McCann, charged with grafting, was found guilty by a jury which reported in Judge Barnes' court today.

Sentence will not be pronounced until after the hearing of arguments for a new trial. The law provides an indeterminate sentence in prison. The charges against the inspector in charge of the Desplaines street district were the most sensational aimed against a police officer in years. States Attorney Wyman charged that graft aggregating many thousands of dollars had been collected from disorderly houses in return for protection. The chief witness against McCann was Louis Frank, a Russian immigrant who although unable to read or write has accumulated a fortune of several hundreds of thousands of dollars in the West Side of Tenderloin. He and his brother Julius for years have exercised a marked power in West Side politics. Louis Frank testified that he collected the protection money from denizens of the Tenderloin. The first two collections he stated on the witness stand were paid to Detective Jeremiah Griffin who, he said, acted as agent for McCann. Thereafter he declared he had given the money to McCann in person.

McCann's defense was that he had suppressed and regulated vice in his district with [illegible] hand, that a conspiracy headed by Louis Frank was formed against him.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

CONVENT, N. J., Sept. 23.—A special field of fully one hundred golfers started early today in the annual tournament of the Morris county golf club. While New Jersey players predominated every section of the New York district was represented. Among the best known players way early in the 18 hole qualifying round were John W. Ward, former New Jersey title-holder, and F. R. Upton, Jr., the Baltusrol [illegible]. Others off well before noon were W. F. Morgan, winner of the Apawamis tournament; James A. Tyng, ex-metropolitan champion; C. B. MacDonald, former national title-holder, and W. W. Pell, long a Metropolitan campaigner. Up to 1 o'clock the best score was 77, made by John M. Ward.

INTERURBAN ROAD PETITION

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Prominent citizens and business men of Lawrence and Lowell appeared before the railroad commissioners today in connection with the petition of the Boston, Lowell & Lawrence Interurban Electric Railroad Co. for permission to construct a high speed electric line between these cities. All were in favor of the petition. It is expected that further witnesses will be heard tomorrow.

FUNERALS

LELAND—The funeral of Mrs. Mary P. Leland wife of Foreman Leland of the city farm, occurred from her home, 523 School street at 2 o'clock Wednesday. Services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Dean of St. Paul's church.

Mrs. Roberts rendered the following hymns, "Sometime We'll Understand," "Face to Face," "My Heavenly Home" and "Good Night." Among the floral tributes were the following: Pillow inscribed "Wife," from husband; cross on mound from brothers and sisters; spray of pinks from Bernice and Mildred Leland; spray of china asters, Mrs. Nellie Leland; pillow beneath arch from superintendent and attendants of city hospital; basket of flowers from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Dunlay; spray of china asters from Mr. and Mrs. Pillsbury; spray of white and purple asters from Mr. Curtis Rogers; spray of pinks, Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks and family; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Dutton and family; bouquets, Miss Alice Moore, Mrs. Ada Townsend and Gertie Butters. The bearers were Messrs. Melvin and Alfred Leland and Curtis and Leon Fairbanks, all relatives of deceased.

Interment was in the Edson cemetery. Undertakers C. M. Young & Co. in charge.

FORGET—The funeral of Exephire Forget took place yesterday from his home, 147 Moody street, with solemn funeral services at 9 o'clock at St. Jean Baptiste church. Rev. Fr. Bernecke, Magnan and Brullard, O. M. I., officiated. The harmonized funeral mass was sung by the choir under the direction of Dr. Caisse, with Arthur J. Martel at the organ. At the offertory, Dr. Caisse sang "O Meritum Passionis." The bearers were Jos. Chas. Wilfrid, Henri and Edmond Forget, and O. Bourdon. Court St. Antoine, C. O. F., was represented by Fred Giroux, A. N. Boulais, Jos. Roux, O. P. Cognac, Timothee Roy, Ad. Landry, Philippe Roy, Joseph Jalbert and Wilfrid Roy. The Carpenters' union was represented by P. O. Leclair, L. A. Pion, M. A. Lee, and Philippe Legare. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery and Rev. Fr. Ouelette, O. M. I., officiated at the grave. Undertaker Amedee Archambault had charge.

GILCHRIST—The funeral of the late Catherine Gilchrist took place yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock from the rooms of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons. The burial was in the Edson cemetery.

FITZPATRICK—The funeral of Alice Fitzpatrick took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her parents, 8 Varley avenue. Burial was in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery under the direction of C. H. Molloy & Sons.

DAVIS—The funeral of the late Josephine T. Davis took place this morning at 8.30 o'clock from the funeral parlors of James W. McKenna, 115 Bridge street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The cortege proceeded to St. Michael's church where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Murphy. The choir under the direction of Mr. James Murphy sang "Missa Pro Defunctis." At the offertory "Domine Jesu Christi," was given, and at the conclusion of the mass "In Paradisum" was sung, and as the body was borne from the church "Ego Sum Benedictus" was sung. Miss Carolyn White presided at the organ. There were many beautiful floral offerings, among them being a large spray of white asters with white ribbon inscribed "Wife," from husband of the deceased; a large bouquet from a friend and a spray of white asters from Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley. The bearers were Messrs. John H. Burke, Thomas Barry, John T. [illegible] and John Morris. Burial was in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Murphy read the committal prayers at the grave. Funeral Director James W. McKenna had charge.

DEATHS

MAHER—Margaret Maher, an old resident of this city and an old member of St. Peter's church, died today at her home, 91 Crosby street, aged 66 years. She leaves to mourn her loss a daughter, Mrs. Samuel Harnden, two sisters, Mrs. John Welch and Mrs. William Fenton; 11 grandchildren, Miss Ella, Edward, Samuel, Mary, Gertrude, Elizabeth, Adelaide, George, Florence and Irene Harnden, Mrs. George Buckley; two great-grandchildren, George and Margaret Buckley. THE DEMOCRATS

WILL HOLD STATE CONVENTION ON SEPT. 30.

The democrats of the city have been notified that their state convention will be held in Faneuil hall, Boston, the 30th day of September, one week from today and the delegates will be called to order at 11 o'clock in the morning by the chairman of the state committee, ex-Senator Frederick J. McLeod.

THE BOSTON MARKET

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The early trading in the Boston market for copper shares today was generally light although the tone was firm. During the first hour North Butte continued the advance begun yesterday, rising 1¼ to 27¼.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY

To Preside at the Cook Banquet

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—No official representative of the nation or state will attend the big banquet given for Dr. Frederick A. Cook tonight at the Waldorf Astoria. The mayor of New York has also declined to sanction the Brooklyn explorer's claims to North pole honors by attending this, the first public function in honor of Dr. Cook outside of his own borough, Brooklyn. But the New York city government will be represented by Patrick McGowan, president of the board of aldermen, and by Bird S. Coler, and several other well known men will sit at the speaker's table. Rear Admiral Schley, retired, will preside by virtue of his position as president of the Arctic club of America under whose auspices the dinner will be given. Other speakers will be Prof. Brewer of Yale, Carl Von Moltke, the Danish minister at Washington, who is here as the representative of his government at the Hudson-Fulton celebration, Commodore Bennett of New York, John Holmes, a well known republican campaign orator and Charles Wake of the Explorers' club.

Dr. Cook is spending another day of comparative privacy at his suite in the Waldorf Astoria. While his supporters here declare that the readiness with which he answered questions of the newspaper interviewers yesterday showed that he is sure of his ground, his opponents point out that all he has said since his arrival adds little or nothing to the real proof of his claims. The three things now most eagerly awaited by those interested in the controversy are: first, the indictment which Commander Peary is said to be preparing; second, Dr. Cook's own scientific record which he promises to have ready inside of two months, and third, the testimony of Harry Whitney, the New Haven sportsman, who Cook says was one of the first white men to learn of his discovery.

MAYOR WOODMAN

EXTENDED AN OFFICIAL WELCOME TO PEARY

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 23.—Commander Peary received a spectacular welcome on his arrival in this city at 1.15 p. m. Hundreds had stood for hours in the vicinity of the Union station. Commander Peary was officially welcomed by Mayor Woodman and a committee representing the city council, introductions taking place upon the steps of his car and he was then driven directly to the Bangor house where he is to be the guest of the committee at luncheon.

IN OLDTOWN

COMMANDER PEARY WAS GIVEN A GREAT RECEPTION

OLDTOWN, Me., Sept. 23.—Oldtown gave Commander Robert E. Peary, when he arrived here this afternoon, a real down east greeting in which several hundred people participated. As the train drew in the people drew around the Peary car and cheered themselves hoarse, while the explorer shook hands with as many of these as could press close to the car platform. There was only a stop of a couple of minutes at Oldtown, and Commander Peary did not make any speech. Large numbers of people drove in from the country districts and stood up in their wagons and cheered the explorer. A placard on a large pole reading "Welcome, Peary, you have reached the North pole, pulled up the pole and put your adversary in the hole," was prominently displayed in the crowd. There were cheers for the explorer by the high school students, who gave their class cry, adding the name of Peary as the train left for Bangor.

Mayor John F. Woodman and Harold Hinckley of Bangor, a member of the city government and of the reception committee, also joined Peary here. Mr. Hinckley's brother, Frank Hinckley, accompanied Commander Peary on one of his expeditions. All along the route from Vanceboro Mr. Peary was given enthusiastic receptions at the railroad stations. At Lincoln the local band joined in the welcome.

A DIVORCE SUIT

Has Caused Stir in Society

NEWBURYPORT, Sept. 23.—Announcement of the hearing of a divorce libel at Salem, in which Caroline Lloyd Withington sues her husband, Lothrop Withington, created a surprise in this city. It has been known right along by a few intimate acquaintances that there was a family jar, but the matter was kept quiet locally owing to the prominence of the Withingtons.

Lothrop Withington is a son of Nathan N. Withington, a prominent writer and kinsman of David Withington, a former resident, but now a prominent lawyer in the Hawaiian islands, father of the well-known Withington boys of Harvard, and Arthur Withington, a local attorney. There is one sister, Miss Anne Withington.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 23.—The body of John Hobson, a Boston man, was found in the river near the Narragansett Electric Lighting Co. this noon. It had apparently been in the water for some time. A medical examiner gave permission for burial saying death was due to accident.

SECRETARY KNOX DECLINES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary Knox has decided not to go to El Paso to be present at the meeting of President Taft and President Diaz. The Mexican government has been so informed through the American ambassador in the city of Mexico.

THREE WOMEN KILLED

SEATTLE, Sept. 23.—Three women were killed and three men and a woman seriously injured when an automobile containing eight persons jumped off a trestle at Fourth and Weller streets, a short distance from the Union station here today.

NINE WERE DROWNED

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 23.—Confirmation of the report that nine persons were drowned near Pass Manchac, La., was obtained today from Illinois Central construction gangs. The drowned were a station agent, his wife and two children and five negroes.

WIT AND HUMOR FOR SUN READERS

RATHER SENSITIVE.

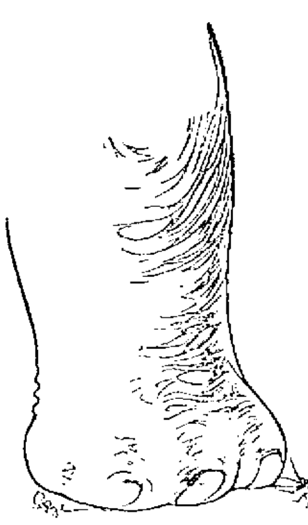

Mr. Squirrel—You appear to be in a great hurry, Mr. Crow.

Mr. Crow—Yes, indeed. I heard those women in the wayside cottage say they had a crow to pick with each other, and I thought perhaps they were alluding to me.

AT THE BALL GAME.

"JONES is quite a good fielder, isn't he?"

"That's natural. He has been a farmer."

PAINFUL.

The Bug—Get off my corn!

AS SHE REASONED IT.

"IT is but natural," said Mrs. Van Scadders, "that those who possess wealth should consider themselves the best people."

"I don't quite follow you."

"It is an axiom that everything is for the best."

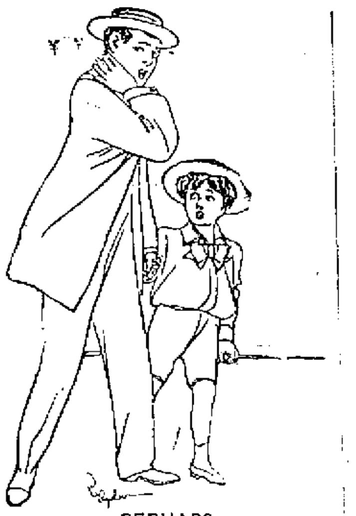

"Yes."

"And the people with money are the only ones who have a chance to get everything."

THE MUSICAL PHENOM.

In order to be a musician it is not always necessary to see farther than the tip of one's nose.

PERHAPS.

Earlie—I wonder where the mosquitoes spend the winter.

His Pa—Maybe that's what they're trying to tell us when they come buzzing around us in the summer.

ORPHEUS AND MORPHEUS.

MIGGS—Your husband is a great lover of music, isn't he?

Mrs. Diggs—Yes, indeed. I have seen him get right up in the middle of the night and try to compose.

Miggs—What?

Mrs. Diggs—The baby.

OLD TROUBLE.

Mme. Quack—Why, how hoarse you are! Are you ill?

Miss Duck—No; only a frog in my throat.

A SIDE HIT.

MRS. BIGGS—Two detectives always follow me whenever I go to a grand function with all my diamonds on.

Mrs. Snaggs—Indeed! Hasn't your installment plan jeweler any more confidence in you than that?

TANGIBLE PROSPERITY.

Eastern Capitalist (as the cyclone gets by): "W-w-what was it th-th-that struck me?"

Kansas Man: "Why, friend, don't you know? That was our real estate boom!"

Whew!

MAY PECHIS—Jack Goodley called upon me the other evening.

Mr. Chellus—Huh! How did you survive it? I suppose he talked about something idiotic all the time.

May Pechis—Well, yes; he spoke about you quite a great deal.

His Latest Yarn.

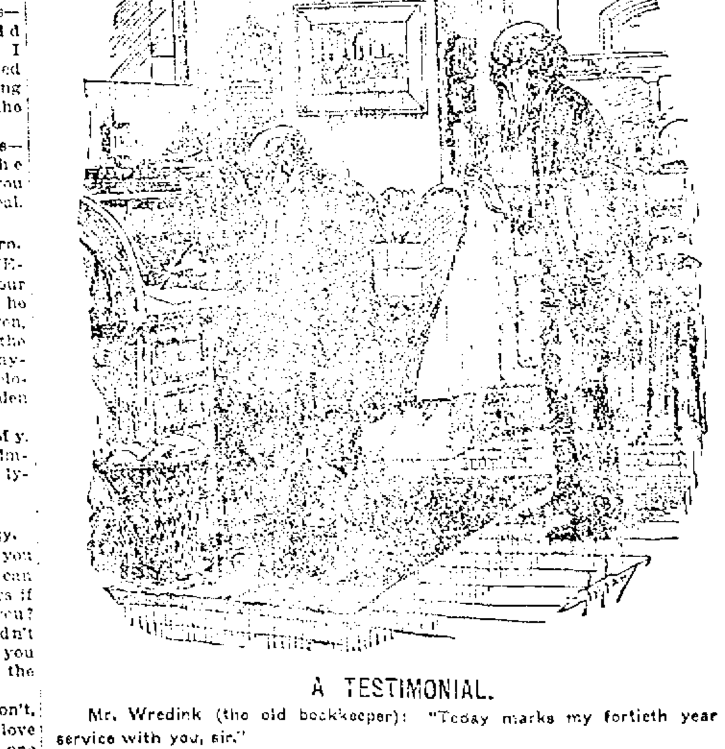

TRANCE MEDIUM—Your husband says he is now in heaven, seated among the angels and playing divine melodies on a golden harp.

Widow—My, how John has improved in his lying!

Not Astrology.

SUE—And you say you can tell by the stars if he loves you? Why, I didn't know that you ever scanned the skies.

Belle—I don't, but I scan his love letters. He is one of those fellows that mark a star for every kiss.

A TESTIMONIAL.

Mr. Wredink (the old bookkeeper): "Today marks my fortieth year of service with you, sir."

Mr. Hides: "I was aware of it, Mr. Wredink, and I have arranged a little surprise for you. Take this alarm clock, with my best wishes for your continued promptness."

Everything and Nothing.

GRACE—The other day George called just as Fred was leaving.

Helen—You care for Fred, but you don't for George. Am I right?

Grace—Yes; I feel as if everything was going out and nothing coming in.

Country Confidences.

"DO you prefer city life?" asked the dandelion politely.

"Well, I am down on the farm," replied the thistle.

A Catch.

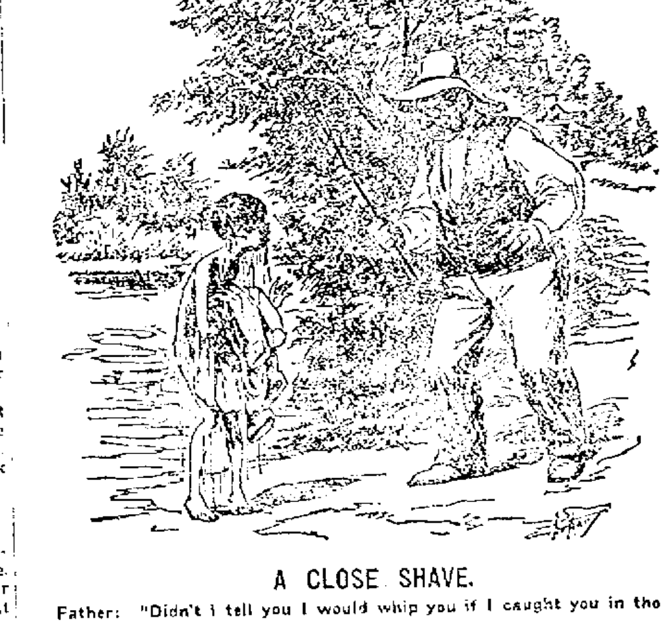

"HOW did you and your wife first meet?"

"We didn't meet," replied the meek little man. "She overtook me."

Sure Thing.

PAPA—Be careful, Tommie. You'll break your cart. Then what will happen?

Tommie—You'll have to buy me another.

A CLOSE SHAVE.

Father: "Didn't I tell you I would whip you if I caught you in the water again?"

Son: "Yes, sir, and that's the reason I hurried out when I saw you coming."

LATEST

REPORT DENIED

That Jews Were Attacked at Kiev

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—There have been no attacks upon Jews at Kiev or anywhere else in Russia so far as the Jewish Emigrant society or the German Jewish Relief association knows. The first organization concerns itself with the emigration of Jews from Russia and since the first publication of the reported fatal rioting at Kiev both organizations have communicated with their agents in Kiev and other important places in Russia. Dr. Kahn, who represents the societies during the absence of the chief director, Dr. P. Nathan, said that this sensational report had its entire foundation in the apprehension among the Jews of one of the suburbs of Kiev that they might be attacked in consequence of a quarrel between themselves and some rough local characters. Dr. Kahn said that in this instance he was happy to declare that not a Jew had been hurt or not a penny's worth of property destroyed. He disavowed completely the suggestion that the reports on this matter telegraphed to the United States had originated with the Jewish societies of Berlin.

ANNUAL RUSH

TOOK PLACE AT BROWN UNIVERSITY TODAY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 23.—The regular fall term at Brown university opened today and the students were busy registering in their different classes. Immediately after chapel the sophomores and freshmen had their annual rush on the back campus, victory resting with the first year men. The entering class numbers about 200.

FALL OF RAIN

MAY INTERFERE WITH PHILADELPHIA-ST. LOUIS SERIES

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—A soaking rain which set in during the night was still falling at 11 o'clock this morning, and the prospects were that the last game in the final series between the Philadelphia and St. Louis American baseball clubs will not be played today. If the rain interferes with the game it cannot be played off as Cleveland comes here tomorrow for a series of four games.

FINAL SESSION

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—With the triennial election of officers as the final business to be disposed of, the supreme council of sovereign grand inspectors general of the 33d degree Scottish rite of Free Masonry of the northern jurisdiction, met again today for the closing day's session of its annual meeting. The council meeting was opened at the Masonic temple on Tuesday in this city and was said today to have been the largest and pleasantest in the recollection of the delegates. About 300 delegates of the highest degrees from the fourteen states included in the northern jurisdiction were present.

ARMY OFFICERS

Are Taking Their Walking Test Today

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The four army officers attached to the army of the east who are to fulfil the three days' walking tests prescribed by the war department to determine their physical fitness rather than the riding tests, began today their first hike of thirty miles within the confines of the Fort Strong reservation. These officers were Col. Robert H. Patterson, commander of the artillery district of Boston harbor; Major Charles Jamerson, connected with the ordnance department at Watervliet arsenal, Troy, N. Y.; Capt. Payton, stationed at Fort Preble, and Major Ducher. The walk of today will be repeated tomorrow and Saturday, following which the officers will submit to an examination such as they underwent before beginning the tests yesterday.

The two score of officers who chose the riding tests will gather at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., within a few days to go through their mounted stunts.

RUSSELL CASE

Witnesses Were Cross-Examined Today

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 23.—The third day of the case in which Daniel B. Russell of Dickinson, N. D., seeks to secure one-half of the $700,000 estate left by Daniel Russell of Melrose as the latter's son, was given over today chiefly to cross-examination of the claimant's witnesses by counsel for the defense. Former Deputy Sheriff Lowell of Norwood, N. Y., occupied the stand during most of the forenoon. He identified Daniel B. Russell as the Daniel Blake whom he knew a score of years ago, relating a number of incidents which occurred in Norwood at that time.

JEWS NOT HURT

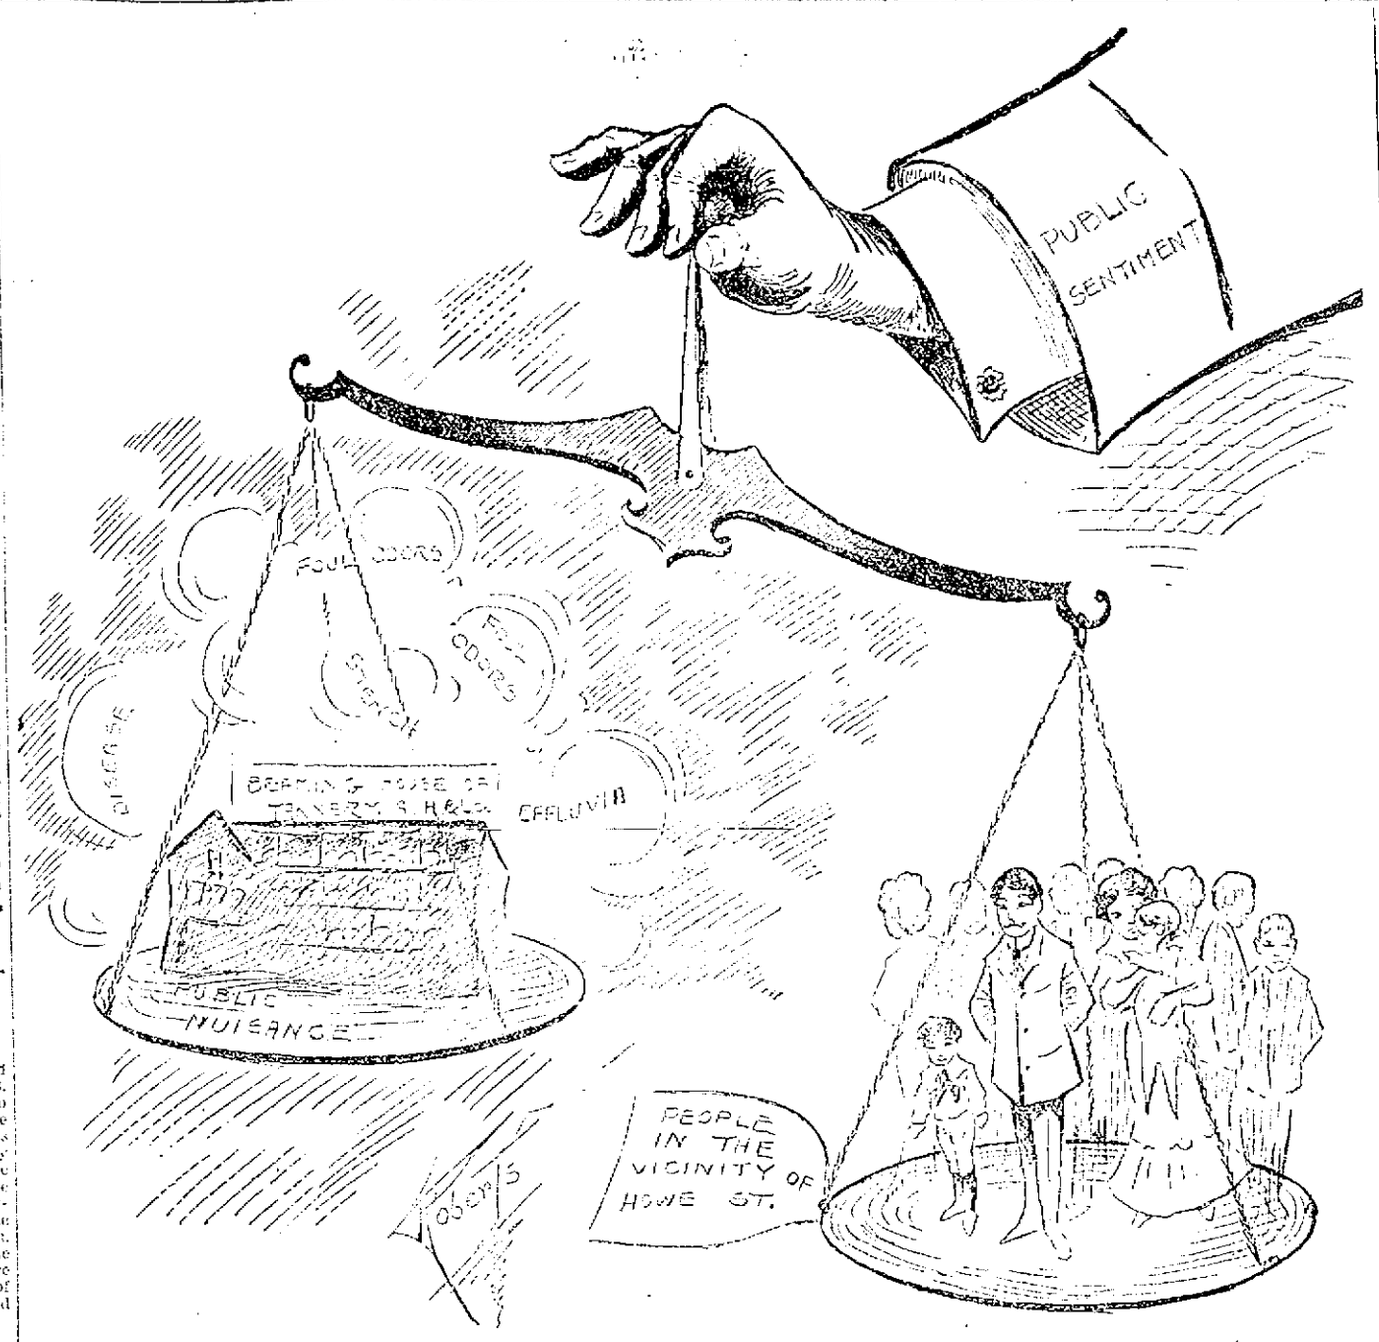

AND NONE OF THEIR PROPERTY WAS DESTROYED

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—An investigation of the circumstantial and sensational reports circulated in the United States for the last two days that there had been fatal anti-Jewish rioting at Kiev, Russia, last week, in which hundreds of persons were killed or wounded, shows that the rumors not only lack confirmation but are given specific denial by several reliable persons on the spot. The Jewish Benevolent societies of Berlin have communicated with their Kiev agents who have assured them that not a Jew in Kiev has been hurt or a penny's worth of Jewish property destroyed.

It is increasingly evident that the story of this fatal rioting arose from a comparatively minor incident in the suburbs of Kiev on September 7 when a small band of reactionaries set upon and beat a party of local Jews. Order was quickly restored and no one was injured.

RECEIVER APPOINTED

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—On his own petition George S. Smith of Portland, Me., was appointed ancillary receiver today for the Thomas O'Callaghan Co., incorporated, dealers in carpets and rugs of this city, a Maine corporation, by Judge Braley in the supreme court. In Portland, Me., yesterday Mr. Smith was appointed receiver for the company. The firm's liabilities are about $80,000, and it is understood that the assets exceed this amount.

THE FINANCIAL AND PRIVATE INTERESTS OF A CORPORATION SHOULD NOT BE CONSIDERED WHEN WEIGHED AGAINST THE HEALTH, COMFORT AND LIVES OF A COMMUNITY.

LAUNCH WRECKED

It Was Struck by a Steamer

BATH, Me., Sept. 23.—It was known along the water front last Tuesday night that when the steamer City of Rockland, Capt. Blair steamed down the Kennebec river on her way to Boston it struck a small power boat in which there were two occupants, efforts of the police to obtain the names of the two men who were upset proved unavailing and not until yesterday afternoon were any of the particulars known.

When the steamer left the dock here it was dark and on the way down the river a little 25-foot launch was spied ahead and soon the searchlight was thrown upon it. The men in the launch, who proved to be E. C. Day of Brunswick and Charles Prince of Portland, were momentarily blinded. Later, in attempting to put their wheel hard over to clear the big boat, the wheel rope was parted and the suction of the Rockland drew the small launch under the former's guard.

Both were thrown into the water and the launch was demolished. A crew from the Rockland lowered a boat and rescued the two men, while Moses Chandler, who was on shore and heard the crash, went to their assistance in a launch. He took them to his home where they were provided with warm clothing and then departed for their homes without meeting anybody interested in their escape, for in the darkness most people were unable to locate the exact spot where the accident happened.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty home wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott H. French, West Tewksbury, last evening, when Mr. Harry Alden Murphy of Lowell and Miss Adelaide Gertrude Preble, a niece of Mr. French, were married. The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the couple. It was performed by Rev. Henry A. Cornell, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, where the bride had been organist for several years. The wedding music was played by Mr. Albert French. The bestman was Mr. Albert Peterson of Lowell, and the bridemaid was Miss Ethel French, a sister of the bride, of Billerica.

The bride wore a gown of white and carried lilies of the valley, and the bridemaid were white over blue and carried sweet peas. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy received many presents.

The home was very prettily decorated for the wedding, the parlor, where the marriage took place, having a scheme of white chrysanthemums and greenery, while the dining-room was all in red.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy left during the evening for their wedding trip. They will spend the greater part of the time in Maine.

DICKEY—TOY

Mr. Nelson Philip Dickey and Miss Naomi Janet Toy were married yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Toy, by Rev. George C. Wright, in the presence of the families of the bridal couple and a few of their near friends. The bride was attended by Miss Edith Toy, her sister, and Mr. Frederick Brown was best man.

HODGE—WALKER

A very pretty fall wedding occurred yesterday afternoon, when Mr. William F. Hodge and Miss Jennie H. Walker, both members of St. Patrick's parish, were united in wedlock at the parochial residence, The Rev. Timothy Callahan performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth A. Ringwood, and Mr. Joseph W. Hodge was best man. The bride was gowned in white silk with lace trimmings and the bridemaid wore blue silk. A reception was held at the home of the bride, 751 Broadway, and later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Hodge left on an extended wedding tour. They received numerous gifts. On their return they will live at 751 Broadway.

GRADY—ROURKE

Mr. William F. Grady and Miss Margaret E. Rourke were united in marriage at the parochial residence of St. Peter's church last evening at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. J. Keleher, D. D., pastor of the church.

The best man was Mr. Charles A. Connors, and the bridemaid was Miss Mary Rourke, a sister of the bride. The bride wore a gown of white point d'esprit over white silk, and carried bride roses. The bridemaid wore blue silk and carried sweetpeas. After the ceremony a reception to immediate friends and relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rourke, 14 Mill street. Mr. and Mrs. Grady received many handsome gifts. They left for a honeymoon which will include New York and Philadelphia, on the 9.03 train.

WILDER—McCUNE

A pretty wedding was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elvira McCune, 23 Burnside street, Tuesday evening, when Mr. Clifford Warren Wilder, eldest son of Mrs. George S. Wilder of 128 Pleasant street was married by the Rev. Mr. Jackson of the Tewksbury Presbyterian church to Miss Nellie McCune.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of family and friends, the home being prettily decorated by Mr. Harvey B. Greene for the occasion with choice palms and hydrangeas. Mr. Ralph Wilder, a brother of the bridegroom, played Lohengrin's wedding march. Owing to the fact that both the bride and bridegroom are well known the gifts were numerous, among which were a handsome present from the employes of the Lawrence hosiery, where the bride was employed, and a check from the employes of the groom.

The happy couple left the city last night in an auto and will spend the next two weeks among the White mountains, after which they will reside in Gloucester, where Mr. Wilder is employed. A nicely furnished home awaits them and they will be at home to their friends after Oct. 15 at 12 Exchange street.

SCHOONER NOT FLOATED

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 23.—At high tide Wednesday afternoon an attempt was made to float the four masted schooner Alice B. Crosby, which struck Fort Point ledge easterly side, at 5 o'clock Wednesday, while making her way into the cove, but it was unsuccessful. Another try will be made today at flood tide. The schooner is resting easily and it is thought that the damage will be very slight.

THIRD SESSION

Of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., Sept. 23.—The condition of the cotton goods manufacture employes and how to provide better for their welfare was the general topic treated in the several papers read at the session of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers semi-annual meeting at the Mount Washington house here today. The session today was the third of the meeting and the final conclave will be held tonight.

The session was opened this forenoon with the reading of a paper on "Accidents to cotton mill operatives," by Edward W. Thomas of Baltimore, Md., which was followed by a treatise on the subject of "Housing mill employes"; and "The intensive use of land," by George H. Miller of Boston. George V. Michaelis of New York spoke on "Sanitary conditions in ventilating and humidifying mills" and W. H. Dooley, principal of the Lawrence Industrial school, Lawrence, told of the training of students in the textile trades in a paper entitled "Secondary textile education."

GREAT CROWD

HEARD SECRETARY DICKINSON SPEAK AT NASHVILLE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 23.—The presence of Secretary of War Dickinson as the speaker on topics affecting the interests of the north and south attracted a great crowd to the state fair grounds here today.

General F. D. Grant who is also a guest of the fair reviewed a uniformed regiment of Confederate soldiers in front of the grand stand himself appearing in the full uniform of a general of the United States army.

THE RELIABILITY RUN

MILFORD, Pa., Sept. 23.—The autos entered in the Munsey reliability run from Washington to Boston and return left here today on the third leg of the trip, the first car getting away at 7 a.m. and the others following at one minute intervals. The end of the day's run is at Albany where the machines will remain over night. The run from Philadelphia to this place was a severe one and when the cars left here only fourteen of them had clean scores. The roads north of here are in fairly good condition.

AT AMHERST COLLEGE

AMHERST, Sept. 23.—Amherst college opened its doors today for its 86th year. The beginning of this season finds the buildings of the college augmented by the new geological and biological laboratory work which was completed during the summer.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE OPENS

HANOVER, N. H., Sept. 23.—Dartmouth college opened today with an entering class numbering nearly 250 students. The resignation of former President Tucker having taken effect and the inauguration of President-elect Nichols not occurring until another month the opening of the college found the institution without a president in office although the duties of president were well cared for by Professor K. Lord, a former president, who has served in that capacity during the last year or more of President Tucker's administration.

BANK OF ENGLAND

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The rate of discount at the bank of England remained unchanged today at 2½ per cent.

HIS LEG BROKEN

Officer P. McMammon Met With Accident

Patrolman Peter P. McMammon of the local police department, was brought home last night from Norfolk, Va., suffering with a broken leg.

Mr. McMammon, with Messrs. John J. Dawson, Joseph Burns, Edward Morris, John J. McCabe, Edward Johnson and William Carleton, all of this city, was enjoying one of the excursions to Old Point Comfort.

Shortly after arriving at the place they enjoyed a dip in a large swimming tank in the Hotel Chamberlain. The tank has a marble foundation and at one end the water is four feet deep, while at the other it is nine feet deep. Mr. McMammon had been jumping into the deep water after which he moved up towards the other end of the tank, where the water is shallow. Not realizing how low the water was at that point, he jumped in and struck the bottom of the tank with force sufficient to break his left leg.

The break is considered a bad one and though it was carefully dressed by a surgeon at the hotel, it will be some time before Mr. McMammon will be able to be out.

TWO MEN KILLED

56 Wounded in Rioting in Barcelona

BARCELONA, Sept. 23.—Religious rioting at Castro resulted yesterday in the killing of two men and the wounding of 56 others. A religious procession, with the local priest at its head, was about to enter the church at Castro when it was attacked by an armed mob. The priest and another man were instantly killed and before the gendarmes could restore order 56 persons had been wounded.

GEN. SUPT. BIERD

Of New Haven Road Has Resigned

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 23.—Official announcement is made at the offices of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad that Gen. Supt. Bierd has tendered his resignation to take effect on Oct. 1. It was further stated that while his successor has not been chosen it will not be A. R. Whaley. Mr. Whaley has been mentioned in the reports of Mr. Bierd's coming change as a probable successor. In an interview Mr. Bierd says he is to become general manager of a central western road and is not going to the line with which John F. Stevens, formerly of the New Haven road, is now identified.

LEG AMPUTATED

Henry Jones, the well known lumber dealer of Pelham, had his leg amputated near the knee at Portsmouth, N. H. during the early part of the week. It seem that Mr. Jones had cut his foot and as blood poisoning set in it was impossible to save the limb.

FAITHLESS HUSBAND

Deserted His First Wife and Then Married Again

Joseph Stengowska Sentenced to Two Years in the House of Correction at Cambridge

Joseph Stengowska, of Lawrence, was arraigned before Justice Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with polygamy. It was alleged that he got married about four years ago to a woman in Lawrence and lived with her until about a year ago when he deserted her and subsequently came to this city and about four months ago married another woman and had been living with the latter until a few days ago when he was arrested. He was represented by Lawyer Edward McNally of Lawrence and Joseph Loughran of this city, and entered a plea of not guilty. Daniel J. Donahue of this city and Lawyer Edward L. Ford of Lawrence appeared for the government, the first wife being represented by Mr. Ford and the second wife by Mr. Donahue.

Stengowska's first wife testified that she was married to the defendant in Lawrence four years ago next November and that they had lived together until about a year ago when Stengowska deserted her. She did not see him again until a few days ago when she met him in the police station in this city.

She has two children and has had to support them herself since her husband deserted her.

Agata Swatlik, Stengowska's second wife, said that she had known the defendant for over a year. She said that she knew Stengowska as Joseph York and was married to him in this city on Feb. 14, 1909.

After summing up the evidence in the case the court found Stengowska guilty and sentenced him to two years in the house of correction at Cambridge.

Struck His Wife

William Carroll pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with assaulting his wife, Mary. Mrs. Carroll had a badly bruised eye and claimed that her husband struck her. She intimated that he was jealous of her and accused her of wrongdoing whenever she went to visit the home of her parents.

Carroll, testifying in his own behalf, denied that he struck his wife. He said that he and she had a few words and that when he pushed her aside she fell and struck against the bed and discolored her eye.

The case was continued till tomorrow morning for further examination.

Sent to Jail

Patrick H. Gunnan denied that he had been drunk for the past three weeks, despite the fact that his wife had testified that he had been drunk that long. He was sentenced to ten days in jail.

James Patterson, charged with drunkenness, will spend the next month in jail.

Drunken Offenders

Joseph Smith was charged with being drunk and also with disturbing the peace. He was fined $2 and held under $100 bonds to keep the peace for six months.

Mike Burns said he had had but two glasses of beer and that that would not make him drunk. He was found guilty however, and a fine of $5 imposed.

Charles Nolan, charged with drunkenness, was sentenced to ten days in jail. Hannah Mullen and Dennis J. Sullivan were each fined $6, while one first offender was fined $2.

Heavy Fine Imposed

Octave Daigneault of Dracut was charged with selling swine which had not been inspected and stamped by the officials of the board of health. Daigneault pleaded ignorance of the law but according to the testimony of a member of the board of health the defendant was aware of the law. He was fined $100 and a fine of $25 was imposed.

Case Continued

The case of George Cavalieres, charged with the larceny of $250, was continued till tomorrow.

Of Superior Court, Civil Term

During the months of October and November the court house on Gorham street will be a very busy place for lawyers and litigants. The superior court with jury comes in the first Monday in October and will sit for twelve weeks, and the jury waived session in which divorce cases, contested and uncontested and equity cases will be in order, comes in the first Monday in November. This assignment will be for at least two weeks. The supreme judicial court one justice, with jury, comes in October 12th, 1909, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

This session will convene at the court house in East Cambridge. There is a number of important will cases to be heard and determined, and as there are two very important Lowell cases it is thought that the court will come to Lowell for a few days during the first part of November. Should this happen, the court house will be taxed to its utmost to accommodate the three courts and also look after the probate and bankruptcy courts.

Lowell lawyers have already marked a number of cases for the October session, but notices from the other side of the county, and even from Boston, would seem to indicate that the docket of civil cases is going to be one of the largest for years.

JUDGE LORING

To Preside at Supreme Court Session

It was announced Tuesday in Cambridge that Justice Hammond of the supreme judicial court would preside at the forthcoming session of that court, but this afternoon Lowell lawyers were informed that Justice Loring would be the presiding justices at the October term. Both justices are well known on this circuit.

JAMES DORGAN

Lowell Man is Reported Killed

It is reported that the third man killed in the railroad wreck near Canaan, N. H. Tuesday, was James Dorgan of this city. He was identified by Policeman Bassett of Franklin, N. H. Dorgan's parents live in Franklin.

The report states that Dorgan has four brothers: Thomas, a carding room overseer in Lowell; James, who works in a mill at Dover, Me.; Joseph of Winooski, Vt. and Matthew, who is attending St. Anselm's college at Manchester; also one sister, Miss Annie Dorgan of Manchester.

The name Thomas Dorgan does not appear in the Lowell directory.

HEINZE IN COURT

He Entered a Plea of Not Guilty

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—F. Augustus Heinze pleaded not guilty in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court to the solitary count left in the indictment filed May 16 last, charging wilful misapplication of the funds of the Mercantile National bank. The indictment when returned by the federal grand jury contained 16 counts but Judge Hough sustained a demurrer to all the counts but the last one. This involves the alleged loan of $500,000 made by Heinze to himself in October, 1907.

No date was set for trial and Mr. Heinze was allowed to go on bail given on another indictment.

DIAMOND NOTES

Manager McGuire has decided to try out several new men on this trip.

Walter Johnson must have rounded to as his shutout of the Tigers was a swell performance.

The Pirates are playing their very best ball as the season draws to a close. True champions.

French is improving every day at short, and the chances are that Wagner will continue his layoff.

Mat Eason, the Lawrence manager, stopped in Boston yesterday to see the Naps-Red Sox game, on his way to his home in New York.

President Charles Comisky of the Chicago White Sox says: "Hard luck at the start of the season blocked the Cubs, and the subsequent pace of the Pittsburg team proved too great a handicap for Chance's team. While I am sorry to see the West Siders lose when a record was within their grasp, I am also delighted over the prospects of a series between the Cubs and White Sox. Our club looks to be as strong as the champions and we will be there batting for every inch of ground. It's going to be a hard series, but you know what happened in 1906. We have only fighting men on the South Side and though luck was against us in our league, you may rest assured there will be a different tale when the city championship is over."

Don't bury "Old Cy" yet. There is nothing original in such a performance and besides Young has always shown a disagreeable tendency to come back after being formally interred.

Back in 1904 Cy made a poor start and the baseball scribes got busy writing elaborate accounts of the passing of Young. Less than a month after the season opened Cy startled the baseball world by duplicating the feats that Lee Richmond and John Ward accomplished 24 years before, in preventing his opponents from reaching first base.

Washington batted Young's curves in savage fashion in April, 1905, and again the baseball grave diggers commenced working overtime. July 1, of that year Young pitched 20 innings without giving a base on balls, a feat absolutely without parallel in baseball.

Better wait until the "big fellow" goes back to the farm and refuses to return to the diamond.

From the showing of the Cleveland youngsters yesterday it looks as though "Deacon" McGuire had plucked all the lemons in the orchard.

That Pittsburg hoodoo still holds good. Curtis pitched a fair game, holding the Pirates to two tallies in the first contest. Mattern was fairly easy in the second game.

"Doc" White is the latest Washington manager to be selected.

Cy Morgan is still the prize hard luck pitcher. The Athletics made but three hits behind him yesterday.

Walter Johnson did fairly well for a man who was down and out two weeks ago.

But five points separated the Winchester pennant winners from the second team, Richmond, when the Blue Grass league race concluded last Wednesday. The latter team has entered a protest on the award made by President Hammond.

Tuesday, September 28 will be observed as "Fred Clarke Day" at Forbes park, Pittsburg. The "Wagner Day" was a conspicuous non-success last year.

Here's another phony yarn—you can take it or leave it, just as you see fit. The fans of Chicago, naturally incensed because the Cubs have lost three straight to the Giants, are calling Chance's men a bunch of quitters, claiming that they are laying down to the Giants in order that they might get a chance to play the Chicago White Sox for the championship of the city and appears somewhere near on a par with them when the series is played. Now the Cubs didn't make a fat lot on the world's championship series last year, and it is doped out that they would profit more by a series between the two Chicago teams, hence the Cubs lay down to the Giants so that it will appear that the White Sox will have a good chance against them.

The people of San Diego, Cal. have the bee in their bonnets that they will send A. G. Spalding, known to every fan from Maine to California as one of the fathers of baseball, to the United States senate. He would be assured of the hearty support of the ball fans, at any rate, and they're not so few, when you come to think of it.

When you get Herbie Moran and Jack Phelan on the bases it's mighty hard to hold them. There are no two faster men in the Eastern league and their daring and skill on the cushions have many a twirler worried.

Joe McGinnity pitched and won four games last week. McGraw may be a great baseball general, but it looks as if he made an awful bull when he let the Iron Man go. It was lucky for Newark, however, for Joe is pulling the Tigers into top place.

FOOTBALL NOTES

McClave, Princeton, '02, is coaching the Adelphi academy team of Brooklyn.

Twenty-five husky players answered the first call for candidates at Georgetown.

Bill Carrigan, the Red Sox catcher, is anxious for the season to end, so that he can get out on the gridiron at Lewiston, Me., with the local high school team. Bill was some football player at Holy Cross.

Johnny Poe, '07, one of the famous Poe family at Princeton, will take the Tiger scrub team in hand this fall.

Two youngsters from Los Angeles, Cal., are out for positions at end at Georgetown. They are Carrigan and Golden from St. Vincent's school.

Coffey of the Boston Nationals was a brilliant fullback at Fordham last year. On account of his professionalism he will be unable to play on the eleven this season.

Torrey, the former Pennsylvania star, has been selected as coach by New York university.

The Pennsylvania-Michigan game this year is to be played at Philadelphia on Nov. 13.

Libby, Newashe, Ed. Jordan and Hoxsey, only substitutes last year at Carlisle, are the real veterans in the Indians' lineup this season.

George Brook, one of the greatest kickers that ever stepped on the gridiron, is coaching Swarthmore.

Wesleyan had 11 veterans show up for the first practice Monday and the outlook for a successful season is very bright. Wesleyan plays Yale Sept. 29.

Brown expects to have a heavy line this year. Kratz, a 200-pounder and a star all-round athlete, is out for the team.

Scrimmage work has begun at Williams. The squads were divided into four elevens yesterday, two of which were lined up against each other.

Forty candidates reported to Dr. McCurdy for the first practice at Springfield Training school.

CRACK MOTORCYCLISTS ENTERED IN SIX DAY RACE AT BRIGHTON BEACH, NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—What promises to be the greatest event in the history of the motorcycle industry this year is to take place at the Brighton Beach motordrome, New York, the week of September 26. The event will be a six days' grind for motorcycles, the teams being made up of three riders each, one rider being on the track at a time, the other two men being used for relief. Entries have been received from half a dozen or more concerns, and in many quarters preparations have been under way for weeks looking to the most successful handling of teams in the race. The Indian factory, among others, has announced its intention of entering not one but two teams for the big event, one a midget team composed of the smallest riders in the race, the other a team of heavy men. The American automobile record for 24 hours is 1177 miles. That this record will be shattered in the first 24 hours of riding goes without saying. It is expected that during the week these little two-wheel machines will pile up an enormous mileage.

GRAND CIRCUIT

Two Favorites Met With Defeat

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 23.—Copa De Oro's pacing to a season's race record and the overthrow of two pronounced first choices made lively the third afternoon of Grand Circuit racing here. Copa De Oro lost the race, however, to Aileen Wilson after pacing the opening heat of the free-for-all in 2.02.

In the first heat Aileen Wilson and Hedgewood Boy led to the half in 59½. The three-quarters was passed in 1.30, Hedgewood Boy drew way in the stretch while Copa De Oro closed up and won the heat from Aileen Wilson.

The next two heats, both in slower time, went to Aileen Wilson. The Ed was favorite for this race, but could not do better than third.

Charvena, first choice for the trotting division of the three-year-old Kentucky Stock Farm futurity, was the second of the day's favorites to lose. The race went to Baroness Virginia, world's champion for miles for her age on a half mile track. She is owned by S. J. Fleming and son of Terre Haute, Ind. Czarevna finished third.

Maggie Wind[er], the [illegible] champion pacing three-year-old filly, did not have to go near her record of 2.06½ to win the pacing division of the Kentucky Stock Farm futurity. She was always the leader. Sonoma Girl took the free-for-all trot just as easily.

BRENNAN CASE

CONTINUED PENDING DECISION IN POLICE BOARD CASE

Fisher H. Pearson appeared before the board of police last night and asked that the case against T. F. Brennan & Co., which was scheduled for hearing last night, be continued until after the court gives its decision in the police board case. Mr. Brennan is one of the several liquor dealers, who it is alleged, violated the conditions of his license.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL.

The regular meeting of Lowell commandery, Knights of Malta, was held Tuesday night in Odd Fellows hall. There was a large attendance of members and many took an active part in the evening's business. Deputy Grand Commander A. G. Robinson of Malden paid an official visit, and spoke to the companions on the work of the commandery. Four candidates were admitted and the Malta degree was conferred upon them. The next convocation will be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 5th.

Good Templars

The regular meeting of Spindle City lodge, I. O. G. T., was held last night in Pilgrim hall. John Brady was elected electoral superintendent. During the latter part of the evening a social hour was enjoyed. At the meeting next week an entertainment and sale will be held.

FAMILY MURDERED

Motive of the Crime Evidently Was Robbery

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Sept. 23.—An entire family of six persons was murdered and the bodies of all but one of the victims were burned with their home at Murley, Buchanan county, Va., early yesterday. The motive was evidently robbery, for the owner of the house, an aged woman known as "Aunt Betty" Justis, was generally supposed to keep a large sum of money about the place. Mrs. Justis, her son-in-law, George Meadows, his wife and their three children were the victims.

DIED OF LOCKJAW

Not Known How Boy Contracted Disease

BOSTON, Sept. 23—Allard W. Lunt, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy T. Lunt of Gardiner, Me., died at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Morrell, 16 Pearson avenue, Somerville Highlands, yesterday from tetanus. He had been ill since last Friday, when he was forced to leave the Brown school, where he was a pupil in the second grade.

The little fellow came from Gardiner early in the month to attend school and his parents arrived last Monday. From what source he contracted the disease the attending physician was unable to state.

STRUCK BY WHALE

Fisherman Hurled 100 Feet by Blow

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 23.—Struck by the tail of a gigantic whale which smashed his dory to kindling and threw him almost 100 feet away into the icy sea, Chief Mate Olaf Wick of the codfish schooner Vega brings a thrilling story of his escape from death in the far north.

The Vega, in command of Capt. Peter Nelson, was lying at anchor in Bering sea and the chief mate was alone in his dory one calm morning last month, fishing apart from the rest of the crew. A monster whale had been observed by the men earlier in the day.

"Suddenly I felt something under the boat," said the mate in telling the tale. "I thought I had struck a rock and threw the windlass overboard so she would not sink the boat. Hardly was it over the side, when I was lifted high in the air as the whale dove and struck the boat with his tail. I went up as though a mine had exploded beneath my feet.

"I lost consciousness for a time, I think, for I remember the shock of striking the cold water, which seemed to clear my head and caused me to strike out with arms and legs to keep afloat."

The mate swam back to the dory, which still held a few bottom boards, and was picked up. None of Wick's bones were broken by the mishap, but his body was a mass of bruises and he was so lame he could hardly move for a couple of days.

BROTHERS FINED

Were Accused of Resisting Arrest

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 23.—For resisting arrest and assaulting Sturgis deputies, Martin and Frank Cox were held by Judge Harding of the police court under $1000 bonds for the supreme court under a hearing yesterday morning. They were also held on a charge of search and seizure and fined $1000 and costs or 60 days in jail. They appealed in both cases and gave bonds.

From the evidence of the deputies it appears that they raided the place kept by the Cox brothers on Pickering square last night. Entering in front the deputies produced a warrant, at the same time endeavoring to prevent Frank Cox from reaching an electric button which connected with a bell in the rear room. Cox put up a fight which brought Martin Cox to the scene and there was a mixup which resulted in the brothers being taken to the police station in irons followed by a large crowd which threatened trouble until a squad of police was sent to the scene.

GIVES $30,000

FOR A NEW DORMITORY AT COLBY ACADEMY

NEW LONDON, N. H., Sept. 23.—Announcement is made that Lawyer Sherman L. Whipple of Boston has given $30,000 for the erection of a new dormitory for girls at Colby academy, and Mrs. Susan Colby Colgate, widow of the head of the well known soap concern, has donated $5000 for a new academy building.

Both Mr. Whipple and Mrs. Colgate are natives of New London.

BUNTING FOOTBALL NOTES

Saturday, Sept. 25th, the Buntings meet the Methuen A. C. in a league game at Bunting park. The following players will represent the Buntings:

Goal, Cookson, Helmes, Walsh; backs, Lane, Ritchie, Hogle, captain; half backs, Gettings, Hardy, Rowbotham, Skea, A. Ritchie forwards; reserves, Cunliffe, O'Connell, Abbott, lineeman, F. Battye. Game called at 2.30.

The annual banquet of the Buntings will be held in their club house Saturday, Oct. 16.

WAGE INCREASE

Asked by the Lewiston Loom Fixers

LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 23.—The members of the loomfixers' union of this city have made a request of the mill agents for an increase of 10 per cent in their wages in accordance with a vote taken at a recent meeting of the union.

They say that the steadily increasing cost of living makes the increase necessary to enable them to pay their bills. The agents have as yet taken no action in regard to the request and are not prepared to indicate what will probably be done about it.

MANY SENTENCES

Imposed in Superior Court at Lawrence

LAWRENCE, Sept. 23.—In superior court yesterday Tony Angelo was convicted of assault with a dangerous weapon on Chestro Murellani in Haverhill and sentenced to 18 months in the house of correction. A verdict of guilty of receiving was returned by the jury in the case of Michael J. Finnerty of Amesbury. He was found not guilty of larceny, with William J. Cook, of money from the latter's father.

For breaking and entering a garage in Danvers Albert F. Swan was sentenced to five years and one month in Concord reformatory. It was stated that he stripped an automobile of trimmings.

May Wilson was sentenced to Sherborn on the charge of larceny of money from Frank A. Walton of Newburyport. The cases of John McFee and Fred Hines, who admitted their guilt of receiving, were continued. Hines was a hotel clerk and the money was taken from Walton in the hotel where he engaged a room.

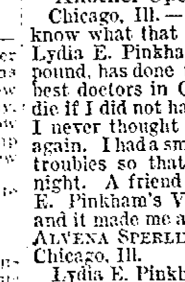

Philip Bromfield, indicted for receiving in connection with the alleged wholesale larceny of copper and brass from the Thomson-Houston electric company of Lynn, and also for conspiracy, furnished bonds in $500 on the latter charge. John Mahan and Lena Rouse of Haverhill, charged with a statutory offence, were placed on probation.

Napoleon Kelley and James Zincavich charged with breaking and entering in Lawrence, were placed on probation. Joseph Plouff was acquitted of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felonious asrant in Newburyport. Charles A. McArthur was found not guilty of breaking and entering a freight car in Rowley.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffered terribly from female ills, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman."
EMMA DRAPER.

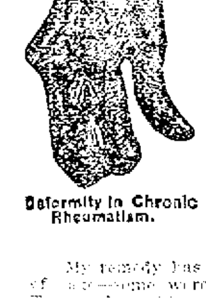

Another Operation Avoided.

Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."—Mrs. ALVENA SPERLING, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

If You Have Rheumatism Let Me Send You a 50 Cent Box of My Remedy Free.

Deformity in Chronic Rheumatism.

A 50 Cent Box of my Rheumatism Remedy Free.

My remedy has actually cured men and women seventy and eighty years of age—some were so decrepit that they could not even dress themselves. To introduce this great remedy I intend to give fifty thousand 50 cent boxes away, and every suffering reader of this paper is courteously invited to write for one. No money is asked for this 50 cent box neither now nor later, and if after it is more is wanted I will furnish it to sufferers at a low cost. I found this remedy by a fortunate chance while an invalid from rheumatism, and since it cured me it has been a blessing to thousands of other persons. Don't be sceptical, remember the first 50 cent box is absolutely free. This is an internal remedy which goes after the cause of the trouble, and when the cause of rheumatism is removed, have no fear of deformities. Rheumatism in time will affect the heart, so do not trifle with this merciless affliction. Address, enclosing this adv., JOHN A. SMITH, 3426 Smith Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

AFTER 22 YEARS

Girl Finds Father She Thought Was Dead

WATERVILLE, Me., Sept. 23.—Mrs Annie Vigue, wife of David Vigue, Jr., of this city, has found her father after a separation of 22 years, the greater part of which she thought him dead.

Mrs. Vigue is the daughter of Thos. Grondin, a farmer living near Rumford Falls She was born in Quebec and her mother died when she was 11 months old. Annie went to the home of her grandmother at Orford, P. Q., where she remained four years, when the grandmother died and the little girl was taken by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Archelas Loubier, and brought to this city, where she has since made her home, being known here as Annie Loubier until her marriage two years ago.

Thomas Grondin, Mrs. Vigue's father, left Canada shortly after the death of his wife and came to Maine, where he stayed seven years. Returning to his native town he could not discover any trace of his daughter, although he spent several months inquiring among friends in the neighborhood. Later he came back to Maine and settled near Rumford Falls.

Three years ago a young man named Fred Roberge, who was employed as brakeman on the Maine Central railroad and lived with the Loubiers, was in Rumford Falls and with a friend went to the farm of Grondin's. While there Mr. Grondin became convinced that the Loubier family were relatives of his wife and he asked Roberge many questions regarding them. Roberge told him there was a young woman there who was in some way related to the Loubiers, and the girl's father was much impressed with the story.

Some time afterward he addressed a letter to his daughter in her maiden name, but it did not reach her. When Roberge returned to Waterville he told Mrs. Vigue of his experience in Rumford and she too wrote a letter, addressing it to Thomas Grondin, Rumford, Me. It did not reach her father, due mainly to the fact that her father had been known for years as Thomas Gordon, and few knew that his name was Grondin.

Finally, however, through Roberge, communication was established and after several letters between father and daughter both became convinced of the relationship. Mrs. Vigue paid a visit to Rumford and stayed several days, finding her father in comfortable circumstances and anxious to have her remain with him to comfort him in his declining years. Mr. Vigue, however, holds a responsible position in the local cotton mills and prefers to stay in Waterville, so it is quite probable that the father will dispose of his property at Rumford and live with his new found child in this city.

Mrs. Vigue returned from the visit to her father this week and is pleased to learn that her father is alive and well. She said: "I am very happy to know that my father is alive. I had often wondered about him and thought that if he were not dead I would like to see him. As I had never known my parents to remember them, I did not miss them so much as if I had known them, and then my uncle and aunt have been so kind to me that I did not get a chance to feel that I was without parents. They have been father and mother to me and their home has been my home and I have been happy in it."

FATHER AND SON

In the Same Class in U. of M.

COLUMBUS, Mo., Sept. 23.—For the first time in the history of the University of Missouri, or perhaps of any university, a father and son are candidates for the same degree, and will stand in the same class this year and be awarded a diploma and the degree of bachelor of science in agriculture. They are E. E. Vanatta of Vandalia, Mo., 45 years old, and son, Earl S. Vanatta, 22 years old. Both are seniors in the school of agriculture, and both have taken the full course, except that the father will have finished it in three years and the son in four.

When Earl S. Vanatta entered the school of agriculture four years ago as a freshman, he did not dream that his letters home would prove so interesting that his father would be induced to sell his farm, move to Columbia and enter for the same course, but that is what happened. His father sold his farm near Vandalia, came to Columbia, and in three years has overtaken his son, less than half his age, and will receive his degree in the same class. He has done more, for his excellent work has made him eligible to the Alpha Zeta, the leading honorary fraternity of his department, which his son was not able to make, although he is a member of an honorary fraternity himself, the standard of which is not so high.

Vanatta Senior, as the students call him to distinguish him from his son, was a student in the University of Missouri in 1883-4, but did not get to finish his course because he fell in love with and married a girl in Stephens college. Both quit school and bought a farm at Vandalia, Mo. When their son Earl had finished High school they sent him to Columbia to take the agricultural course. Earl's letters proved too great a temptation, so they sold their farm, moved to Columbia, and university students experienced the sensation of having a father and son both students of the university.

Mr. Vanatta has always taken part in student activities and holds several offices in the class organizations. He is popular with the students and takes work in the gymnasium as well as the 18-year-olds. He jumps, wrestles and takes cross-country runs with the best of them. His popularity is largely due to the fact that he built a large clubhouse for the students in his department. It is known as the "farm house" and is conducted on the cooperative plan by the students in his department, much cheaper than they could board at private houses. The house cost $8,000, and he rents it to the students cheaply. He and his wife and son also live at the house.

The Supremacy of

STEIN-BLOCH SMART CLOTHES

This week the D. S. O'Brien Co., makes its opening demonstration of STEIN-BLOCH Clothes for Fall and Winter.

Though known to Lowell dressers only a comparatively short time, STEIN-BLOCH Smart Clothes are already acknowledged by those who know, as the standard of men's fashions in Lowell—as they've been for many years in the rest of the country.

STEIN-BLOCH supremacy isn't confined alone to this country. They've been introduced to London wearers, (in open competition with the best makers in this country) by Selfridge, the American merchant.

There's no monopoly of excellence in clothes making as in any other endeavor. Some clothes are noted for their honesty—and lack of style. Others have an overplus of style, at the expense of good taste. For all round clothes excellence, original styling and high class tailoring, our judgment goes out to Stein-Bloch.

That's why we offer them to you.

In addition to our regular lines of suits and overcoats, we show this week many special models and fabrics of exclusive character, and of higher cost than we are warranted in carrying regularly.

These models represent the "last word" in correct and fashionable apparel for men of all ages and for all occasions of business or dress.

We'd like you to see them—to try them on—to compare them with the clothes you've been buying—for your own sake, and ours.

We'll not urge buying—we'll let the clothes tell their own story.

Do you care to listen?

"SMARTNESS," the Stein Bloch booklet, will be sent to any address, on application, or can be had for the asking. If you want to dress correctly, "SMARTNESS" will tell you how.

IT SAVES TO PAY CASH

In Order to Pay for Postage Stamps

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—For the last six years the district government has been compelled to borrow each month from Z. D. Franzoni, proprietor of Gilman's drug store, at 627 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, all the money that is needed to pay the postage on official mail sent out by the various branches of the municipal government.

This fact was disclosed by a report filed by Property Clerk M. C. Hargrove. It appears that the district government has been forced to borrow from Mr. Franzoni about $700 each month.

"This state of affairs," said Mr. Hargrove, "is due to the law forbidding paying for any kind of supplies until they are delivered. On the other hand, the federal government, through the post office department will not sell postage stamps to the district government or any one else until the cash is paid. To get around this we have been compelled to borrow the money from a private citizen of the district with which to buy our postage stamps and he waits until the stamps have been delivered and the district pays for them, then I turn the amount borrowed over to him."

When this law was put in effect about six years ago, congress allowed an appropriation of $5000 for postage stamps. Since then it has been increased to about $8500, but each year it is specified that the stamps must be delivered to the property clerk before the money is paid, and it, therefore, is necessary to borrow the money.

FOOTBALL LEAGUE

FINAL MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS HELD

The directors of the Massachusetts Football league held their final meeting before the opening of the season last night at the Adams house in Boston. The principal business of the evening was the election of a board of directors which resulted as follows: Stanley E. Boyd of Waltham; J. J. Dorherty of Haverhill, C. R. Donnell of Norwood, J. J. Riley of Boston and W. J. King of Lowell.

The league will be made up of five teams: Boston, Norwood, Waltham, Haverhill and Lowell. The season will open in Lowell Oct. 2, with Boston as the attraction.

The Y. M. C. I. team, which was scored on but once during the past two seasons, will represent Lowell, while other old rivals, the St. Alphonsus A. A., will represent Boston. The Lowell team will be in all probability selected from the following: Kirane, Kempton, Al Cooney, Pearson, McOsker, Fossett, Gheradine of Boston, Moore of Revere, Rinkert of Everett, McGinnis of Revere, H. Jewett, V. Jewett, J. O'Connor, King, McGlone, Stevens, Roarke and it is quite possible that Archie the old Andover star, will be seen in the Lowell lineup.

Acting Manager King of the Lowell team would like to meet all players and also all candidates who wish to try for the team at the Y. M. C. I. rooms, Friday night at 8 o'clock.

SURPRISE PARTY

Miss Mary Ready Presented Bracelet

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ready, 32 Court street, was the scene Tuesday evening of an enjoyable surprise party, when a number of young friends assembled and presented their daughter, Miss Mary, with a beautiful gold bracelet. Mr. James Fury delivered the presentation address. Although completely surprised, the hostess found fitting words to express her gratitude to the assemblage.

Following the presentation an entertainment was given. It included vocal solos by William Ward, Ayer City's favorite tenor; piano solos and selections, Miss Ruth Constantineau, Miss Helen Dugdale, Miss Mary Ready, Miss Anastasia McNamara and Mr. Peter Dunkert; solos, Misses Agnes Roper and Anastasia McNamara, Lawrence Rogers, the talented coon shouter, and little Frank Ready. Fred Taylor delighted the party with a whistling solo. The Manhattan quartet, composed of Messrs. William and Dennis Ward, Joseph Ready and Frank Dority, favored with several selections, and made a decided hit. Last but not least on the program was Bernard Dority, the popular humorist, and he delighted all with his witty sayings. Refreshments were served.

IN BANKRUPTCY

PETITION FILED BY WELL KNOWN LUMBERMAN

DOVER, Me., Sept. 23.—W. L. Rogers, a well known Greenville lumberman, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, the papers being in the hands of Hon. John F. Sprague of Monson, referee in bankruptcy for this district. The liabilities are given as $39,271.54, while the total assets are given as $29,435.

The principal creditors are T. R. Savage & Co., Bangor; D. T. Sanders & Co. Greenville; Thaxter & Co., Bangor; Lawrence Bros. & Co., South Gardiner. The first meeting of the creditors will be held before Referee Sprague in Dover, Sept. 30. The filing of the petition was a surprise in business circles in this section.

REFORM CLUB MEETING

The regular meeting of the Lowell Reform club was held Tuesday night in its quarters in the Central Savings bank building. The attendance of members was large and much business was transacted during the evening.

Great interest was displayed in the club's plan of campaign for the fall and winter as mapped out by Chairman Bowers of the lecture committee.

The first public meeting to be held will take place at the club's quarters on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19. The speaker on that occasion will be announced later.

President E. M. Bowers of the L. R. C. corporation spoke encouragingly of the club's future plans, and urged every member to do his share of the work. A musical and literary program was then given and was well carried out, the Glee club giving some especially fine selections.

Rehearsals are now going on for the fall winter meetings.

PRIMARIES SLIMLY ATTENDED.

The primaries held Tuesday evening were remarkable for the lack of interest shown. Were it not for a few contests that brought out the friends of the candidates the so-called primary elections would have been characterized by the solemnity of a funeral attended only by the bearers. We shall never reform our government either in city or state until the voters turn out in full numbers to the primaries, and not only that but see beforehand that good men are put up as candidates.

WHERE VIGILANCE PROVES EXPENSIVE.

Through the zealous work of the assessors we understand that a very large number of polls have been assessed in certain wards from which collection of a poll tax is practically impossible. But the state will have to get a dollar a head for them just the same. Thus the vigilance of the assessors unless backed up by equal vigilance by the constables who collect poll taxes will prove expensive to the city. It would be well, in view of this fact, to let these people understand once for all that they must pay their poll taxes.

AWAITING THE FINAL DOOM.

The scene at Duxbury, Mass., where a lot of people have assembled to witness the end of the world and final doom is one that is fully as absurd and ridiculous as any that could be witnessed among the most savage tribe to be found in any part of the world. Yet these people are accounted intelligent; they are undoubtedly able to read and write, but somehow they have caught up the delusion put forward by some crank and being convinced that the end of the world is really at hand, they have abandoned their homes and their occupations so as to be ready to depart in peace. They may be somewhat disillusioned after Friday, but people who can be worked up to believe such nonsense cannot be expected to show sane judgment at any time.

AS TO A COLLEGE EDUCATION.

The question is being discussed as to whether it is advisable for a boy to take a college education unless he intends to enter one of the professions. We believe it is a great mistake to spend three or four years in taking a college course unless there be some fixed plan for utilizing the education thus attained after that course is finished.

We have a great many college graduates in this country who are unable to earn a living simply because they spent the years during which they should have mastered some business, in getting a general education. Had they learned the trade of a carpenter and builder, blacksmith, architect, electrician or engineer during the time they spent in college, they would have no difficulty in earning a livelihood afterwards.

A general education will not enable a man to make a living except perhaps when he gets an opportunity to teach school. Technical training in any remunerative business will pay the young man much better than a college education. Therefore, we should say that a young man who does not intend to become a doctor, a lawyer, a teacher, a clergyman or journalist had better learn some trade after he leaves the high school instead of going to college. With a high school education he should be competent to make progress in any business he enters provided he shows the necessary tact and enterprise.

DIFFICULTY IN LOCATING THE POLE.

Both Dr. Cook and Commander Peary will now endeavor to demonstrate that they each visited the North pole. It will require more than the picture of a snow mound in the center of a dreary waste of ice and snow to do this. At the time that Dr. Cook said he visited the pole, April 21, 1908, the sun should be about 12 degrees above the horizon. That being the case he could not see the polar star. If a person looked from the shaft of a deep mine in daylight he could see the stars in the sky, but Dr. Cook did not have that opportunity in the polar regions.

It is easy before reaching the pole to measure the latitude and longitude but in the vicinity of the pole it is quite difficult to make astronomical observations that will indicate the precise point.

Dr. Cook may have satisfied himself that he reached the precise point of the earth's axis and so may have Commander Peary, and yet there may have been five, ten or even twenty miles between the points which they respectively selected as the pole.

A great deal depends upon the observations taken as to the altitude of the sun with a record of the temperature and the barometric pressure as variations are made as a result of these influences. The altitudes would have to be worked out and the location of the pole decided upon by averaging the observations pointing to the pole. The result might then, even after the greatest care, be slightly inaccurate. It is fair to presume, therefore, that both the Arctic explorers may be justified in their contention as each may have reached what he decided to be the actual pole as a result of his observations.

The time will come when the pole will be marked in such a way that its location can no longer be doubted. Dr. Cook and Commander Peary assert that the pole is covered with ice which is continually shifting. We predict that the next Arctic expedition will locate the precise pole and it may be some distance from the locations fixed by Dr. Cook and Commander Peary. When, in addition to present appliances, the flying machine and wireless telegraphy are brought into requisition in locating the pole, we may expect that it will be located correctly and permanently marked so far as that is possible. The contradictory stories told by Cook and Peary will cause scientists to doubt both authorities and to look for accurate results to some future traveler to the pole.

SEEN AND HEARD

Persons who have been in the habit of hitching their horses to the stone posts in Merrimack street will miss them when they're gone and they are fast disappearing. The new paving is doing away with the stone posts and it is better thus. Hitching posts in business street are not the proper caper in these days.

If a fellow is married and has the price it must do his old heart good to step in and buy one of those $5 silk petticoats marked down to $2.98—for his wife, of course.

Wonder if Mrs. Cook or Mrs. Peary will dare to say to Dr. Cook or Mr. Peary "How long were you, deary, without taking a bath?" No doubt both explorers will take one now, whether they need it or not.

It has been shown that an Eskimo will follow a good cook to the North pole.

The editor of a western paper says there's no such thing as another fellow's girl, that a girl is not another fellow's girl till she's another fellow's wife. How about that?

A gentleman of an inquiring turn of mind recently accosted a Rochdale mill lad with the query:

"What time do you get up in a morning?"

"I get up at a quarter past five, an' has a bit o' breakfast."

"Anyone else get up?"

"Oh, aye, mi mother gets up an' makes my an' mi sister's breakfast, an' then hoo gets mi dad's ready for 7 o'clock."

"And your dinner?"

"Oh, aye; mother gets that ready, too, and then hoo gets t' father's, as he comes later'n me."

"And then I suppose your mother has the afternoon to herself?"

"Oh, nowe; hoo cleans up an' looks after t' childer, an' then hoo gets t' tay ready an' weshes up, an' puts t' childer to bed."

"Then she'll have a quiet rest?"

"Well, hoo mebbe sews buttons on an' mends stockin's an' such like."

The inquirer paused, and then continued:

"What wages do you get, my boy?"

"I get ten bob a week."

"And your father?"

"Thirty-five bob."

"And your mother?"

"My mother!" said the lad in surprise; "my mother gets no wages; hoo doesn't work!"—Cotton Factory Times.

Here's a one minute sermon by the "old man" in the Manchester Union: The more one does for some men, the more ungrateful they are. Especially is this true with the hog species of the human race. And if the hog is ignorant and unintelligent, it is all the worse. He can't see further than the end of his nose, and he cares only for himself. He would sacrifice his friends for the whispered calumny of a street corner loafer. He is deaf to his own shortcomings and he butts through life regardless of the feelings of even the friend who would do him a favor. When driven to the wall, he is more or less of a coward, and his whimperings are amusing. When he sees a way out of the corner, he is like the bovine into which the matador has struck one of his darts. These kind of men are seen in every community. They are quick to give the lie and will throw mud at the first opportunity. Yet, when these sort of people sometimes find that they cannot have their own way, they wonder at it. They think they are hardly treated. They think everybody is against them, when only their own lack of tact is to blame. When any man ceases to be a gentleman, he ceases to have claims upon the considerations of decent men. And he will squirm and squirm, and raise his hands and protest, until Grim Death steps in and settles the matter by picking the hog up by the bristles and lugging him off.

We might add that it is wonderful how many hogs think they are gentlemen and have all kinds of contempt for other hogs no worse than themselves.

A PRAYER TO AZRAEL

Because thy face is more compassionate
Than God's own angel Pity, he who stands
Above the world with healing in his hands,
Early and late,
Therefore I dare to ask a little thing.
Though unto thee no man is small or great,
The humblest beggar, the annointed king
Of one estate,
Yet, oh, how often, often on thy breast
Feeling thy sombre arms about them close
As twilight folds a rose,
So, even I this little prayer dare bring
Unto thy pitying.

I pray thee find me not my hour to go
Closed within any dwelling men have made—
Those four new walls where I may crouch afraid
As from a foe;
But seek me on my hills, my hills whereon
The free winds drift and blow,
Between the green and gold of earth and sun.
Ah, find me so!
I would not quite forget in some new birth
The joy of this my earth,
Nor lose what time I look on Paradise,
The vision in my eyes
Of green boughs swaying in a singing wind,
Oh, Azrael, be kind!

Theodosia Garrison, in Ainslee's.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

George Bernard Shaw's Wexford ancestry has been divulged, for only an Irish playwright can be "produced" at the Abbey theatre in Dublin. Mr. Shaw's mother was Elizabeth, daughter of Walter Bagenal Gurly of Wexford, whose sister Hannah became a nun at Maryborough in 1824, and founded the Presentation convent at Stradbally, Queen's county, in 1860, dying there 12 years later. His mother's grandfather was Joshua Tench of Wexford, one of the "rebels" or "patriots" of '98. But on his father's side Mr. Shaw comes of Protestant stock. In some autobiographical passages he penned ten years ago Mr. Shaw has characteristic things to say of this side of his family. "My father" (he wrote) "was an Irish Protestant gentleman. He had no money, no education, no profession, no manual skill, no qualification for any definite social function. I was christened by my uncle; but as my godfather was intoxicated and did not turn up, the sexton was ordered to vow and to promise in his place, precisely as my uncle might have ordered him to put more coals on the vestry fire. Protestantism in Ireland is not a religion; it is side in political faction, a class prejudice, a conviction that Roman Catholics are socially inferior persons. What helped to make this 'church' a hotbed of all the social vices was that no working folk ever came to it. I cannot say that in Ireland every man is the worse for what he calls his religion. I can only say that all I knew were."

Mrs. Isaac L. Rice of New York was chosen at the recent conference in London of the International society for the Suppression of Street Noises to have charge of the second congress of the society, which is to be held in New York in 1912. The first congress is to meet in Berlin in June, 1910.

Two new young men begin work at Brown this fall in positions intermediate between students and faculty. They are C. E. Silcox, the secretary of the Brown Christian association, and Paul Matteson, the secretary of the Brown Union. Each man will give his entire time to this work, and the social and religious interest of the university will certainly not be neglected. Mr. Silcox graduated last year from the University of Toronto, where as president of the association he did an effective work. Mr. Matteson, the son of ex-Chief Justice Matteson of the Rhode Island supreme court, graduated from Brown, three years ago, and has spent the last year with Dr. Grenfell in Labrador.

The Hon. Mrs. Assheton Harbord of England maintains that ballooning is not only less dangerous, but also far less expensive than motoring. She was once caught in an electric storm while crossing the English channel in a balloon, and on another occasion was obliged to make a descent at such speed that the members of her ballooning party entered Holland on their heads. In neither instance did Mrs. Harbord or any of her party experience anything worse than a severe shaking up.

Rev. Percy Martin of Muswell Hill, London, Eng., has accepted a call from the Congregational church at Williamstown to become its pastor. Mr. Martin will go to Williamstown about Nov. 1. He preached there through July last, exchanging pulpits with Rev. F. T. Clayton, the former pastor of the church, who went abroad.

The famous "simple life colony," known as "Monte Verita," at Locarno, in Switzerland, has gone bankrupt and the plant is for sale. The colony, which was started about half a dozen years ago by a German named Hofmann, prospered greatly for a while. Persons of high degree flocked thither from Germany, Austria and Italy, to live on fruits and vegetables. Duchesses and countesses clothed themselves in a kind of white sack and went about with bare feet and flowing hair. They even sold their jewels and gave the proceeds to the colony. But the charms of simplicity seem to have palled upon the devotees and they have gone back to the pomps and vanities of the world.

Millions of Stomachs Refuse to Do Their Work Properly.
All over this broad land millions of stomach owners are being held in humiliating subjection just because they are so stubborn that they will not accept a fair, square and broad minded offer.
Life is short for all of us; it will be shorter for those who let their stomachs go from bad to worse.
Carter & Sherburne have a famous prescription called Mi-o-na and they believe so thoroughly in its remarkable curative power that they say to every owner of a distressed stomach that they will guarantee Mi-o-na tablets to cure acute or chronic indigestion and all stomach ailments or money back, and the price is only 50 cents a box.
And still there are stubborn people right in Lowell who won't accept this offer but continue to suffer from gas on stomach, heartburn, sour food, stomach distress, foul breath, dizziness, biliousness and headaches just because [illegible]—that's all, there is no other reason.
Mi-o-na tablets stop dyspeptic agony in five minutes; they cure obstinate cases of indigestion and turn the old stomach into a new one in a few weeks or money back.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The reputation of Mr. Louis Mann as a master of refined comedy attracted a large and intelligent audience to the Opera House last evening and those who anticipated an artistic piece of acting were not disappointed. Mr. Mann appeared in the leading role of "The Man Who Stood Still," a comedy in four acts by Jules Eckert Goodman. This play is a rare admixture of comedy, business and love tangles that offer every variety of heart interest and a fine opportunity for the leading characters to display their ability not only in the comical situations but in the serious moods in which lovers are disappointed, business hopes are dashed, rivals are brought in conflict and fortunes disappear.

The story of the play revolves about a cynical character named John Krauss, a German watchmaker, whose hatred of progressive methods of business suggest Nature's terror of a vacuum. Old Krauss had a daughter "Marie" and a business friend named Edward Spiegel. It naturally occurred to the old man that it would be a nice thing to have Marie marry Spiegel's son. Krauss had a business rival, however, named Martin MacFerguson, and this rival had a son who made love to Marie and who by deception finally induced her to elope with him. Then by going through the formality of a mock marriage, he persuaded her to believe they were man and wife. Marie's father was determined never to forgive his daughter, but as the years passed and business reverses tempered his rage, he finally was led to forgive her for the manner in which she had betrayed his confidence at a time when he was arranging a match between her and young Spiegel who actually loved her.

The cast of characters is as follows: John Krauss, Mr. Mann; Marie Krauss, his daughter, Miss Emily Ann Wellman; Katrina Krauss, his sister, Madame Mathilde Cottrelly; Edward Spiegel, Louis Hendricks; Fred Spiegel, Alice Spiegel, his children, Leslie Bassett and Miss Lillian Sinnot; Martin MacFerguson, Edwin Maynard; Frank MacFerguson, his son, H. A. La Motte; Joseph Abrams, John Charles; a crossing sweeper, Frank Julian; the baby, Seawillow Johnson.

Mr. Mann's portrayal of the character of Krauss done in the German dialect with copious gestures and realistic dramatic action was a rare piece of acting. Every incident was made the vehicle for showing the actor's ability to portray the emotions of the heart and to touch the hearts of his audience by his pathos, to move to laughter by his humor, and with all these was a masterly touch of finesse given to every incident portrayed.

Louis Kendricks as Edward Spiegel contributed much of the humor in the play, while John Charles as Joseph Abrams displayed much talent in the interpretation of his role. Madam Mathilde Cottrelly, a sister of Krauss, gave a finished portrayal of her part, and did some very fine acting. Miss Emily Ann Wellman as Marie played her part very acceptably, and the rest of the support was fairly good.

The appreciation of Mr. Mann's acting was shown in the number of curtain calls. At some of the climaxes in the play there were over a half dozen curtain calls in which Mr. Mann appeared with his company to bow his acknowledgments. The applause at the close of the pinocle game between Krauss and Spiegel was uproarious. When Mr. Mann returns to Lowell he will be assured of a rousing reception by the lovers of fine acting and racy comedy.

"A BROKEN IDOL"

Madge Vee who is appearing as a Chinese girl in "A Broken Idol" for the big musical comedy success which plays its first engagement in this city at the Opera House, on Saturday, Sept. 25, matinee and night has taken up the study of the Chinese language. She has begun to memorize the thousands of arbitrary characters that are used in writing the language and hopes to be able in time to read Confucius in the original.

"I became interested in the language in my search for a correct Chinese costume," said Miss Vee. "I made a pilgrimage to the Chinese quarters and there I met wives of the wealthy Chinese merchants.

"They showed me many kindnesses. Expressing a desire to learn more of their life I was invited to make my home with a wealthy Chinese woman.

"I find the language taxes the memory greatly, and yet, to one who is called upon to learn new roles frequently it shouldn't be such a task to learn the languages."

STOCK NEXT WEEK

The Whiteside-Strauss stock company, one of the popular stock companies will be the attraction at the Lowell Opera House for four days commencing Monday, Sept. 27, matinee daily except Monday.

The plays are all new and presented exclusively by this company. They include several well known New York successes.

Several high class specialties are seen headed by the "Johnson Sisters," America's foremost singers and dancers. "The Musical Lockwoods," high class musical artists, playing a variety of brass, reed and novelty instruments. New Illustrated Songs. Miss Maude Clement, the petite comedienne, Burdette Bros, the greatest of all comedy acrobats, Miss Vivian in character songs, and Mr. Will H. Strauss that funny fellow. Ladies' tickets will be issued for Monday evening only.

THE TRAVELING SALESMAN

"The Traveling Salesman" which comes to the Opera House, Oct. 1 and 2, is in no wise diminished but has every evidence of increasing popularity and without doubt has proven one of the biggest successes of the theatrical season wherever it has been produced. There are few professions or modes of business life, which have not been idealized by the diligent searching playwright into stage types, which either through caricature or exaggeration, are evolved into comedy roles whose chief reason for existence is a mission of laugh production. The different professions and even the newspaper reporter, are well-known stage types, but James Forbes is probably the first author to take the "drummer"—the man who sells on the road—and turn him into the most important character of a footlight performance. If you are a traveling salesman you will enjoy your namesake; if not, you will enjoy the true representation of the numerous incidents that occur in the life of the modern "knight of the road," both humorous and otherwise, of which we often hear of these happenings and enjoy the recital of, presented by a proficient company of players and perfect scenic investiture.

ENID MAYO.

Miss Enid Mayo and a strong company of actors appeared before crowded houses at the Franklin Square theatre, yesterday afternoon and last night, in "The Girl Outcast." Miss Mayo was the outcast, and played her part with enthusiasm at times, combined with tragedy, deep sorrow with just a few joyful moments during the entire four acts. She received hearty applause at frequent intervals during the play. The costumes of Miss Mayo attracted much attention from the women in the audience, and when she first caught a fine lace overall and later a French lace dress on the stage furniture, and a loud r-r-rip sounded through the house, the exclamations of dismay from the women in the audience drowned out the voices of the players.—Worcester Daily Telegram.

Miss Mayo in "The Girl Outcast" will be seen here at the Opera House tonight.

DAVID COPPERFIELD.

The visit of Charles Dickens to this country in 1842 was followed by his "American Notes" in which he sharply criticized some American methods. At first "American Notes" was received with indignation on this side of the Atlantic. But later, when "David Copperfield" appeared, this masterpiece of friction wiped out the memory of the stings he had administered. In many respects "David Copperfield" is the most interesting story ever penned. The dramatization of this famous novel forms a play of heart touching pathos, blended with that unique humor which marks all of Dickens' works. If you have never read "David Copperfield" you will quickly grasp its strong characteristics by seeing the play which will be presented at the Opera House tomorrow night, under the able management of Edward C. White.

STAR THEATRE

"The Cowboy of Old Arizona," interesting and exciting as it is, was talked by the capable company of actors at the Star theatre this afternoon, and was given added life.

THEATRE LA SCALA

The feature subject at the Theatre La Scala today is a Pathe picture true to life in story and as well acted as some of the celebrated films D'Art. It is a most entertaining series of pictures. "A Soldier's Heart" is a well written dramatic subject and "Three Reasons For Haste" is a remarkably clever comedy.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Inasmuch as no vaudeville show can be called vaudeville unless it holds plenty of variety to it, it becomes necessary to inject into bills, at intervals, some striking comedy acrobatic act. At Hathaway's theatre this week one of the few very good ones, "A Piece of Dresden China," has been secured.

"Winning on Wind," in which Lewis McCord and a large company appear is a very funny comedy. Yosco and Lyons, instrumentalists and singers, are thorough musicians. Mr. Lyons plays the harp rather better than vaudeville usually gets and would undoubtedly make a mark for himself on the concert stage, while Mr. Yosco is a thorough entertainer, playing a variety of instruments and singing well.

Other good acts on the program are: Jere McAuliffe, in a brace of keen parodies; the Aldines, comedy acrobats; the Four Sullivan Brothers, singers and dancers; McAdams and his talking dog, "Spike," and the Hathascope with new motion pictures.

BIG CELEBRATION

SOLON W. STEVENS,
One of the Orators.

CHARLES H. CONANT,
Delivered Patriotic Address.

Of an Historic Event by the Chelmsford Folks

Chelmsford is going some these days. Hardly had the last echo of the Middlesex North Agricultural fair died away when another and more patriotic event was ushered in.

The day was yesterday and the event was the 50th anniversary of the dedication of the Revolutionary monument that does silent watch upon the common.

The exercises were held in the town hall. The school children took part in the exercises and a goodly crowd was there. The work of the children was appreciated and the speakers were very attentively listened to.

The Adams orchestra, a one-family orchestra afforded music and the musical Adams' opened the exercises with a selection. William E. Adams was the director.

This was followed by the national anthem "America," sung by a stage full of school children under the direction of Miss Mary B. Raynes. There was a prayer by Rev. L. L. Greene, and Mr. Edward Everett Adams sang an ode written for the exercises 50 years ago. Mr. Joseph E. Warren, president of the Chelmsford Monument association, presided and introduced Mr. Josiah Richardson Fletcher, the only living member of the original officers of the association.

Mr. Fletcher though well along in years, retains a vigorous mind and voice and he spoke with patriotic sentiment.

Solon W. Stevens

Mr. Solon W. Stevens of Lowell made the address of the afternoon. He spoke of the noble part that Chelmsford men had taken in the fight for their country, recalling that no less than 65 Chelmsford men were engaged in the memorable battle of Bunker Hill. In conclusion, he said:

"This monument should be invaluable to Chelmsford people as a perpetual reminder of the principles and virtues which inspired the founders of this republic. It stands as a guaranty of loyalty and patriotism. It adds lustre to the pleasant town which is so attractive to the stranger and so dear to the resident, and its value will continually increase with age."

Charles H. Conant

The next speaker was Charles H. Conant of Lowell. He spoke for the Sons of the American Revolution. His address was stirring and patriotic throughout.

Mr. Adams sang "America, America," after which the audience joined in singing the following ode, to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne," written for the dedicatory exercises by Mrs. Martha L. Emerson 50 years ago:

With grateful hearts this day we come
To consecrate this mound,
To those who founded Freedom's home
On fair Columbia's ground.
In gratitude our souls shall rise,
And thousand tongues unite
To swell the triumph to the skies
Of truth's undying light.

And while we peacefully enjoy
Rights by our fathers given—
Rights which no foe shall e'er destroy
While shines the light of heaven—
We would not still unmindful be
Of all the pain and strife
Which gave our nation liberty,
Its wealth and strength and life.

Nor shall the brave and honored Eight,
Who nobly fought and bled,
And met unshirkingly their fate,
Sleep as forgotten dead—
No! while this monument shall stand—
A token e'er 'twill be
That Patriots' names—in Freedom's land,
Are blest in memory.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. C. H. Ellis. At the conclusion of the exercises the Chelmsford band gave a concert upon the common.

RECOUNTS ASKED

For in the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Representative Districts

There seems to be a disposition on the part of some of the representative candidates in the 15th and 16th representative districts to have a recount, and it is more than probable that John A. Cotter of ward 2 will petition for a recount. On the face of the returns there were only 10 votes difference between his vote and that of the successful candidate, John E. Kearns. Mr. Cotter feels that there may have been a possible mistake, and thinks that it will certainly do no harm to have the board of registrars look over the ballots cast at the recent primaries.

In the 16th district, wards 4 and 5, John J. O'Connell has filed a petition for a recount.

Seventh Senatorial District

The contest for the senatorial nomination in the seventh district, a district which runs from the town of Ayer to the town of Saugus, and includes the democratic ward of Lynn, ward 6, seems to be in doubt. There are two active candidates, ex-Representative Alonzo G. Walsh of ward 2, Lowell, and Representative Frank P. Bennett of Saugus, and the silent candidate is Senator James Wilson Grimes of Reading who for three years has been honored with the senatorship from this district. From the present outlook it would appear that neither Mr. Walsh nor Mr. Bennett has the necessary 23 delegates to assure him the nomination in the convention.

There are 47 delegates in the district, and 23 are necessary for a choice. Mr. Walsh's pledged delegates are as follows: Billerica, 3, Carlisle, 1; Littleton, 1; ward 3, Lowell, 2; ward 9, Lowell, 5; Tewksbury, 2; Westford 2. Mr. Walsh claimed that the two men in Wilmington were his, although Mr. Bennett asserted the same thing.

The claims of delegates from the Bennett headquarters were as follows: Ayer 2, Acton 2, Boxboro 1, Burlington 1, North Reading 1, Lynnfield 1, ward 6, Lynn, 7, and Saugus 5. This is a total of 20 delegates.

There seems some discrepancy in the claims of the two candidates. Mr. Bennett claims one of the three men in Billerica, although Mr. Walsh says the three delegates are pledged to him. Mr. Bennett claims one man in Burlington, although Mr. Walsh has heard nothing officially from that town. Both candidates are apparently claiming Wilmington. Senator Grimes get the six delegates in his own town, Reading, and will hold the balance of power in the convention.

PLAINTIFF WON

Given Pay for Work on Farm

SKOWHEGAN, Me., Sept. 23.—Yesterday the first jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the case of Gould vs. Walker for $61.15, with interest from date of writ. The action was one where the plaintiff, John B. Gould, sued his employer, Cyrus Walker, for the balance due on six months' work on a farm in the Anson valley at the rate of $6 per week. He had received payment at the time of settling at the rate of $5 per week.

The case of Haynes pro ami vs. the Maine Central R. R. company did not go to trial yesterday as was expected. Tuesday E. N. Merrill inserted an amendment in his original writ. This the attorney for the defendant would not allow. After an argument before the court it was agreed to continue the case to the March term. It could not be tried at the December term from the fact that Forrest Goodwin, counsel for the defendant, will leave next month on a trip around the world. The plaintiff in the case was Chester Haynes of Norridgewock, who was injured in a wreck at Boston on Oct. 2, 1907.

MAN IS MISSING

Was Last Seen at a Clambake

HAVERHILL, Sept. 23.—Seven years ago entertained for the night of 5 by J. Murphy, aged 50 years, one of the best known citizens of the city, his family not having heard from him since last Sunday afternoon when he left work of a clambake at Black Rocks.

When Murphy did not return Sunday night his family made inquiries. It was learned from members of the party at Black Rocks that a hat was found in front of the cottage late Sunday night, but no evidence was obtainable as to whether or not it was Murphy's hat. People in the party say that Mr. Murphy left his friends before the party broke up.

Yesterday Winslow Hardy, a son-in-law of Mr. Murphy, went to Black Rocks to investigate. The members of his family are very much worried and fear that something serious has happened.

GRAND SPECTACLE

Passed in Review of Representatives of Other Countries

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The armada which is to represent the United States at the Hudson-Fulton celebration steamed up New York harbor late yesterday to its anchorage in the North river above Grant's tomb. Through the early part of the day the fleet had been fogbound off Sandy Hook, but the mist began to lift soon after noon and shortly before 2 o'clock the first of the battleships lifted anchor and started up the bay at a six knot pace on the 30 mile trip to its official stopping place.

The fog interfered also with the plans of the British and German fleets which were expected yesterday, and they delayed their arrival until today.

The Italian cruiser Aetna passed into the harbor before the American battleships and proceeded to her berth in the North river off 34th street, where she was joined a few hours later by her mate, the Etruria, which came in through the sound from Bridgeport at dusk.

Thousands of New Yorkers flocked to the river front yesterday afternoon to witness the arrival of Rear Admiral Schroeder's fleet.

The 21 big ships came up the bay in single file—15 battleships, three armored cruisers and three scout cruisers. Behind them were the auxiliaries, Colgon, Prairie and Panther. Torpedo boats, submarines and other auxiliaries will join them later in the week. In all, 52 vessels of the United States navy will be on the Hudson for the parade Saturday.

There was a great booming of guns as the American ships steamed up the river to their berths, passing in succession the anchored representatives of France, Mexico, Argentine, Italy and Holland. In reply to the rear admiral's salute, fired by each of the visitors, the flagship Connecticut for the fleet returned the appropriate number of guns, shrouding both shores of the old Hudson with a thin cloud of powder smoke while echoes from the palisades sent back again and again the roar of the cannonade.

There was an impressive Hudson-Fulton ceremony yesterday at the Brooklyn navy yard, when the "Half Moon," the copy of Hudson's famous craft, which is to play one of the chief roles in the celebration, was formally placed in commission. Bands played the national airs of Holland, the old Dutch colors waved, and the Netherlands commissioners hoisted their colors above the quaint little craft.

There were formal honors for Fulton, too, yesterday. His grave in Old Trinity churchyard was the scene of a pilgrimage of members of the Fulton Memorial association, which decorated a monument erected in his honor with southern smilax, wreathed laurel and American flags.

Grand Admiral Von Koester, personal representative of the kaiser and the German people, at the celebration, reached New York yesterday on board the Hamburg-American liner Bluecher.

Admiral Von Koester issued a formal statement last night, expressing the pleasure with which he looks forward to the celebration and conveying to the city and nation the good wishes of Germany.

Health and prosperity to Holland's queen and to the president of the United States and the success of the Hudson - Fulton celebration were pledged last night at the first of the banquets to be given by the Holland society of New York to the members of the Netherlands commission.

The Americans toasted the visitors and lauded Hudson and the compliment was gracefully returned, the name of Fulton binding the chain of good feeling. Among the other speakers were Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, chairman of the Hudson-Fulton commission, and Judge Augustus Van Wyck.

FIVE WERE HURT

Augusta, Me., Doctors Thrown From Auto

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 23.—Five Augusta physicians, Dr. George R. Campbell, Dr. W. H. Harris, Dr. Wellington Johnson, Dr. George A. Coombs and Dr. Albert H. Sturtevant, were injured in an automobile accident early yesterday while returning from Belgrade in Dr. Sturtevant's car.

One of the rear tires broke while going down hill and the machine ran into a tree and upset. The accident occurred six miles from Augusta on the Belgrade road, near the Caldwell place. Dr. Johnson's left arm was broken in two places above the elbow and his shoulder was dislocated. Dr. Sturtevant suffered a contusion of the chest by striking the steering wheel, and dislocated both thumbs.

Dr. Harris was injured in the back and was taken to the General hospital. Dr. Campbell's right ankle was wrenched. Dr. Coombs wrenched his arm and strained his left leg. One of the party was obliged to walk three miles to get to a telegraph office to summon aid from the city.

Alderman William J. Skehan was seriously injured in an automobile accident yesterday. Mr. Skehan, with Perley Greenleaf and Harry Gilman of Waterville, were coming from the driving park in Mr. Gilman's car, which was stripped for the county fair races yesterday, and when opposite the state house the automobile skidded and went over a 30-foot embankment. The left leg of Mr. Skehan was caught in the machine and the foot badly crushed. He was taken to the Augusta General hospital. The others were slightly injured.

ONE MAN SHOT

RIOTING IN CONNECTION WITH OMAHA STRIKE

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 23.—John Petrick, a bystander was shot through the hip and seriously wounded, two policemen were hit with bricks, one of them being perhaps fatally wounded and a third man was less seriously injured in riots which occurred after dark last night in connection with the car strike. Eight cars were partly demolished. The injured men with the exception of Petrick are strike breakers.

B. & N. POLICY DENOUNCED

LEBANON, N. H., Sept. 23.—Resolutions strong in condemnation of an alleged policy of the Boston & Maine railroad were passed yesterday at the second day's session of the Eighth annual convention of the New Hampshire State Federation of Labor.

Following a discussion of the accident of Tuesday at Pattee, in which several were killed, the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, That the sympathy of this convention be extended to the families and relatives of those who lost their lives or were injured in the railroad accident at Pattee. We condemn the niggardly and penurious policy of the Boston & Maine Railroad in continuing the use of old and antiquated cars and we further condemn the management for its heartlessness in compelling train dispatchers, telegraph operators and train men to work long hours for small wages and we strongly urge our state authorities to make a rigid investigation of this accident that the traveling public may not be sacrificed to the greed of the Boston & Maine railroad."

EX-REP. HAMMOND DEAD

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The news was received here yesterday of the death of former United States Representative Thomas Hammond at his home in Hammond, Ind., early yesterday. Mr. Hammond was born in Ashburnham, Mass., 66 years ago, and was one of the pioneers in the beef business in Chicago.

PEARY PAPERS

Taken From the Roosevelt by Souvenir Hunters

NORTH SYDNEY, N. S., Sept. 23.—The departure of the Arctic steamer Roosevelt was delayed last night owing to the fact that the records and other important manuscripts which were taken from the steamer Tuesday by souvenir hunters have not been returned. Shortly after 6 o'clock the Roosevelt left her pier, after taking on a full supply of coal for the run to New York. A few hundred yards from the pier Captain Bartlett dropped anchor. A steam launch from the government boat Tyrian went alongside the Roosevelt, and Naval Commander Dixon went aboard. Commander Dixon had just come from Sydney where he had held a conference with the United States consul, John Kehl, with reference to the failure of an American ship to display the Canadian flag when welcoming the arrival of Peary. He had a message from Prof. McMillan to Captain Bartlett, asking the latter to defer sailing because he expected soon to recover his stolen documents.

Prof. McMillan, who feels his loss keenly, said later that he had received information that some of the important papers had been traced, the wife of a prominent citizen having admitted that she abstracted certain papers from the professor's room. It was in order to find this woman and to ascertain if she really had the records that McMillan wanted time and requested that the sailing of the Roosevelt be delayed.

The report, however, was not entirely true, for the woman denied taking the articles mentioned although she owned up to having taken some articles from the professor's room.

It was the United States auxiliary schooner Grampus, commanded by Captain Hensen, which did not hoist the Canadian flag, the failure to do so resulting in an attack on him by a Sydney citizen. Captain Hensen accompanied by Commander Dickson placed the matter before the United States consul yesterday, the Canadian commander being greatly incensed over the unfortunate incident. He explained to the consul that Captain Hensen could not display the Canadian flag, for the very simple reason that he had none aboard, and inasmuch as the Grampus only accidentally met Peary on the way here, the American commander could not possibly obtain a Canadian ensign even if he wished to hoist it.

"To my mind," said Captain Dickson, "the insult to Captain Hensen should not be taken seriously, considering the source from which it emanated." "However," added the officer, "I would hardly stand for such a thing were I in Captain Hensen's place."

Consul Kehl said he would use his best endeavors to close the incident as quickly as possible.

SHOT HERSELF

Wife of Prominent Farmer Tried Suicide

LITCHFIELD, Me., Sept. 23.—Mrs. Fred M. Babcock, wife of a well-to-do farmer, shot herself with a weapon of small calibre yesterday at her home here. The bullet entered the body just below the heart, but struck no vital organs and came out under the left shoulder blade. Dr. Clason was called and stated that she was still alive and that if no complication set in that she would recover.

Mrs. Babcock has been ill many years and has been subjected to two surgical operations, making her despondent. She is 50 years of age and has five daughters and one son.

THE W. C. T. U.

MIDDLESEX BRANCH MEETS AT SOUTH ACTON

SOUTH ACTON, Sept. 23.—The annual convention of the Middlesex county branch of the W. C. T. U. was held here yesterday, and as it was the 25th annual convention the event was also observed as the silver anniversary of the organizations, the hostesses being Mrs. Lily G. Chase, president of the South Acton union, Mrs. Clara H. Nash, president of the West Acton union, and Mrs. John White, first vice-president of the Acton Centre union.

The exercises, held in the Universalist church, were largely attended, nearly all the 15 cities and towns comprising the Middlesex county branch being represented. The visiting delegates were welcomed by Mrs. Chase and Mrs. Nash. Mrs. Abby F. Rolfe, president of the organization, responded for the delegates.

Reports of the various departments were made as follows: Scientific temperance instruction, Mrs. Hall; medical temperance, Dr. Reed; literature, Mrs. Alexander; settlement work, Mrs. Smith; soldiers and sailors, Mrs. Crosby; Sunday school work, Mrs. Rowe; social meetings and open-air work, Mrs. Brigham.

As a result of the inter-county contest now on, gratifying reports were made by nearly all the local unions on increased membership, Marlboro leading with 93 new members the past year, and Woburn second with 35. This was followed by an address and prohibitory amendment quiz by Miss Elizabeth P. Gordon.

Mrs. Rolfe of Concord, one of the oldest W. C. T. U. workers in the state, was re-elected president unanimously.

To be Awarded by Women's Clubs

The general Federation of Women's clubs will award a scholarship of $1500 to be held at either Oxford, Cambridge or London university for the year beginning October, 1910. The scholar will be selected from among the graduates of American colleges of good standing and the age of the successful candidate when she enters upon her scholarship shall not exceed 27 years. She also must be unmarried.

In this state the application may be made to either Mrs. Caroline Stone Atherton, 52 Ruthven street, Roxbury, or to Mrs. Lillian M. Hellen, 45 Rennick road, Newton Highlands. Full credentials must be sent with the application. After the local officers have given their written approval of the candidacy, the permit to enter the examinations is granted upon its presentation to Miss Gill. A copy of all credentials should be filed at the same time with Mrs. Potter. Their addresses are given below: Miss Laura Drake Gill, 1328 19th street, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Frances Squire Potter, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.

COURT SENSATION

Man Approves of Love of His Wife by Another

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—A very singular condition of affairs in the relations of Hartley Dennett, a Framingham and Boston architect and designer, and Dr. and Mrs. H. Lincoln Chase of Brookline was revealed yesterday afternoon in the probate court at East Cambridge, when Judge Loyed E. Chamberlain heard the petition for custody of her two children filed by Mrs. Dennett.

Mrs. Dennett claimed that her estrangement was caused by the love of her husband for Mrs. Chase, that the latter reciprocated his affection and that she had discussed with Mrs. Dennett with "barbaric frankness" the relations existing between her and Mr. Dennett. The children were turned over to her by the court.

Dr. Chase and Mrs. Chase were both present in the court room. Mr. Dennett sat with Dr. Chase.

In an interview Dr. Chase afterward declared that the love existing between his wife and Mr. Dennett was pure love, such as was taught by Jesus and in the writings of Emerson.

Mr. Dennett is a man of medium height, with light colored bushy hair and mustache and he wore a low collar and windsor tie. He is apparently between 35 and 38. Mrs. Dennett is perhaps a little more than 30 and very pretty.

Mrs. Dennett testified to her marriage to Mr. Dennett and the birth of their two children. Trouble arose between them through the affection of Mr. Dennett for Mrs. Chase. He lost interest in his work and finally the estrangement came. She told of a talk she had had with Mrs. Chase, in which the latter discussed Mr. Dennett with "barbaric frankness" and their affection for each other.

Atty. Merriam, who appeared in behalf of Mrs. Dennett, argued that Mr. Dennett would be all right if Mrs. Chase could be induced to drop her influence over him and let him attend to his business. At one time Dennett could earn $5000 a year, he said, but his business had gone down owing to the demoralization caused by "this miserable snare." He asked the court to make a ruling which would force the husband to help his wife and children.

Judge Chamberlain then told Mr. Dennett he could make a statement if he desired.

Dennett said he could not answer the charge. It was without explanation. "My wife has different convictions from mine in this affair between Mrs. Chase and me," he said, "and the difference goes into everything in our lives."

He said his wife did not co-operate with him. He wished to divide the responsibility, she to take one child and he the other, each to start in with a recognition of the duty and responsibility of the other. This, he said, would be a separate co-operation and in this way each would have a mutual trust.

"This was a question between her conscience and mine and this difference has gone away through our lives."

Judge Chamberlain then asked the general question as to how much money should be contributed toward the support of Mrs. Dennett and her children.

Mrs. Dennet thought $250 a month.

Mr. Dennett said his income was variable and that such a sum would be a strain.

Judge Chamberlain said there was no excuse, legal or moral, for the breaking up of the Dennett home, and he ordered a temporary decree, giving Mrs. Dennett the custody of the two children. The amount of money to be contributed is to be decided later.

BOMB WAS FOUND

Twelve Workmen Were Placed Under Arrest

EL PASO, Sept. 23.—The discovery last night of a bomb in a residence being erected in Juarez, across the border in Mexico, caused a sensation in that town. The police were notified and 12 workmen were arrested.

It was at first reported that the bomb was found in the rear of the custom house, where President Diaz and President Taft are to meet October 16, but this was afterwards denied by the authorities. A boy found the bomb.

NAVAL DISPLAY AT NIGHT

WARSHIPS SALUTING

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Besides the Dutch, British, German, French and Italian warships that will be in the Hudson-Fulton parade at New York there will be 52 vessels of the United States navy. Among these are the Connecticut, Vermont, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Mississippi, Idaho, Georgia, New Jersey, Nebraska, Rhode Island, Virginia, Wisconsin, Maine, Missouri, Ohio, North Carolina, New York, Montana, Chester, Birmingham and Salem. There are to be two water parades on Sept. 25. These take place in the Hudson river from the Battery to Spuyten Duyvil. In the afternoon parade the Clermont and the Half Moon will lead the greatest fleet of excursion and pleasure craft ever assembled in American waters. These vessels will encircle the battleships and each of the 70 or more fighting machines will fire a salute to the Half Moon and Clermont. At night the warships will be illuminated, and the pleasure boats will again encircle them. During this proceeding every searchlight in the international fleet will play upon the passing vessels, the Palisades and the city. The line of warships at anchor will be more than eight miles long.

WELCOME TO PEARY

Maine People Give Grand Greeting to the Arctic Explorer

VANCEBORO, Me., Sept. 23.—Maine made its welcome to her foster son, Commander Robert Peary, today, and all along the route of his journey through the state the friendly greetings of the people was a pleasing recognition of his achievement in finding the North pole. Commander Peary and his family are expected late today at Portland, where they will probably remain over night and go to their home at Eagle bay the next morning.

The Peary party passed through St. John, N. B., early today and in the few minutes between trains several people gathered about the explorer and congratulated him on his success. The commander said he did not know what the plans are for his reception at Bangor. It is understood that while he is glad to meet the people he desires to refrain from making any speeches.

Com. Peary is keeping his own counsel with regard to the information he has obtained on the main question. "Has Cook found the pole?" but intimations are not wanting today that the time is near at hand when this will be made known. The explorer will probably remain at Eagle Island several days and during that time will assemble the records he has made of the trip to the pole and at the same time keep himself advised of the developments in the Cook controversy.

PEARY FAMILY

ARRIVED AT ST. JOHN THIS MORNING

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 23.—Commander Robert E. Peary, accompanied by his family and a small array of newspaper men, arrived here at 6.45 a.m. today from Sydney, N. S. Fifteen minutes later the party left on the Provincial express for Portland, Me., from which point Commander Peary will proceed to his summer home on Eagle Island at the mouth of Casco bay.

The brief quarter hour that the explorer remained in St. John was spent in granting interviews to the local newspaper men and in hastily glancing at the morning papers. [illegible] of the [illegible] for his picture [illegible] to meet the explorer.

SCHOOL CHILDREN

School was dismissed and the school children, each carrying the Stars and Stripes and a bunch of flowers, were marched down to the train. Everyone cheered and Commander Peary was showered with flowers when he and Mrs. Peary appeared on the rear platform of their Pullman car.

The appearance of the commander with his wife was the signal for a prolonged outburst from the crowd on the station platform. While the locomotive whistles tooted everyone cheered until they were hoarse and the school children continued to wave their flags. Peary acknowledged the welcome by speaking briefly, addressing his remarks principally to the children. His wife stood by his side and was apparently overjoyed. It was the first time he has addressed a gathering since leaving Cape Breton.

Meanwhile the train was being turned over by the Canadian Pacific to the Maine Central. Wires were sent forward to Bangor for reservation on the Bar Harbor express, which leaves that city for Portland at 2.40 p. m. After Peary had finished speaking, little Ruth Howe presented him with a bouquet of sweet peas. One little schoolgirl exclaimed: "Well, 'spose we will see Mr. Peary's picture in our geography now with a big polar bear right under it with the Stars and Stripes."

Shortly before 10 o'clock the train pulled out of the station on its way to Oldtown, its next stopping place. The crowd cheered until it was out of sight and then dispersed.

The [illegible] will probably reach Oldtown about 1 o'clock.

AWAITS WORLD'S END

Sect of the Latter Reign Holding Services at Duxbury

WEST DUXBURY, Sept. 23.—Firm in their conviction that the world will come to an end at 10 o'clock Friday forenoon, a colony of about 200 members of the denomination known as the Latter Reign of the Apostolic church are spending their few remaining hours in prayer, song and exhortation. The scene of their religious ardor is Ashdod," a little wooden chapel on High street, the main turnpike between Boston and Plymouth. The chapel, in the language of the natives is "five miles from everywhere," and to a certain extent this is correct, so far as that vicinity is concerned, as the chapel is that distance from Kingston, Duxbury and Hanover.

Worldly tasks have been laid aside and jobs have been thrown up in order that the faithful may in the few short hours that they believe remain to them prepare their spiritual natures for the millenium. Believers are here from all over New England, especially large delegations coming from Springfield, Providence and Pawtucket. One well dressed woman from Providence called her husband up on the long distance telephone and urged him to "come over at once." Responding to her husband's statement that he would be discharged if he left his employment, she assured him that it would not make any difference as there would be no work of any kind after 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Services Day and Night

The services are practically continuous night and day. There is gospel hymn singing interspersed with frequent exhortations and prayers. In all [illegible] of the worship the congregation participates, singing the hymns with fervor and interrupting prayer and exhortation with [illegible].

The chief exhorter at the meetings is Robert Swan, who is assisted by Joshua [illegible]. For the past few years he has been in charge of the meetings at the chapel. The congregation, for the greater part, is composed of well dressed persons of apparent intelligence. A few colored persons are also among the number.

Occasionally the services at the chapel are suspended long enough to permit of a trip to a pond about half a mile distant, where the converts are baptized. Fourteen were immersed Tuesday, a few of them being children of 8 or 9 years of age. Above the speaker's rostrum in the chapel is a clock under which, in big letters, appear the words: "Jesus is coming. Get ready." Frequent reference to the clock and the inscription is made by the exhorter during his sermons.

To feed the crowd attending the meetings, a big tent has been erected near the church, while the houses in the neighborhood and even the church horsesheds furnish lodging for the people.

None of the faithful appears to have a shadow of doubt that the world will end Friday forenoon. When asked what they will do if the expected agent does not materialize, most of them refuse to entertain such a supposition. Some suggested that a love feast be held for ten days or so, while others still said that if the millenium did not come on Friday it would come next year at the same season.

DEATH LIST GROWS

Reports Show That Many Perished in Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—At an early hour today the list of known dead who perished in Terrebonne parish during Monday's hurricane had swelled to more than 40, and it is believed a score or more may be added to this number. Additional reports of deaths in other sections of Louisiana are also being received and the toll of human lives exacted by the hurricane will count perhaps a hundred people when the final report has been made.

Further details of property loss, reaching millions of dollars, come in with the gradual restoration of communication.

No trace of the crew of nine men on the sloop Seven Brothers wrecked near the Rillegets, 20 miles east of New Orleans, has been discovered.

FERON NOT YET

His Case Will be Up on October 29

Acting Superintendent James Brosnan of the police department received a letter this morning from General Josiahus Whitney, head of the state police, stating that the case of Henri Feron, the alleged murderer of Mrs. Flora Rivers, who is now in Quebec awaiting extradition, would not be reached until Oct. 25th. No particulars were given in the letter.

Inspector Byrne of the state police and Inspector Charles Laflamme of the local police are in Quebec with extradition papers waiting to bring Feron back to Lowell.

SEVEN ROOM COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 1477 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT 49 COBURN STREET, ALSO FRONTING ON JEWETT STREET.

This cosy little cottage which consists of seven rooms, has four on the first floor, and three sleeping rooms on the second, has water closet in the cellar and on the first floor, is in excellent shape, inside and out, and is rented to a first class family for $12.00 a month. Now the fact of this cottage having a frontage on both Coburn and Jewett streets with a fair sized yard on the Jewett street side with a few small shrubberies, is certainly a great advantage as it gives daylight on all sides of the property. My only reason for disposing of the property is that I am living in Boston and I have decided that this is the best and quickest way to make a sale. Now for an investment or a home this is a grand opportunity for someone who wants to locate in Centralville and it is certainly a special inducement to the housekeeper as a cottage of this kind will accommodate a good sized family and you will agree with me after looking this place up that it is a very nice and cosy little home.

Terms: $200 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off. All inquiries should be made of the auctioneer, who is in full charge.

WILKINS CASE

Possibility of Divorce From Dead Man

SALEM, Sept. 23.—A suit for divorce from a dead man is the possibility that arose in the hearing of the libel of Mrs. Alice M. Wilkins of Beverly before Judge Crosby in the Essex county superior court in Salem yesterday. Mrs. Wilkins seeks divorce from her husband, Eugene A. Wilkins, on the ground of desertion.

On Feb. 22, 1905, Wilkins left his home on a trip as a traveling salesman. Nothing was heard from him for a month. On March 22 a letter was received from Providence by Mrs. Wilkins from her husband, saying he was sending his bag and diamond ring home and nobody would ever know what had become of him. He told his wife to collect his life insurance, $1000. A search was made in Providence, but it was futile. She was unable to obtain the insurance, as she could not prove her husband was dead.

ACCUSES MINISTER

Wife Says That Her Husband Was Cruel

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The Rev. W. Downs, formerly pastor of the Bowdoin Square tabernacle, has been sued for divorce by his young wife, Mrs. Saphronia C. Downs, who charges the former minister with cruelty.

The Rev. Mr. Downs was served with the papers several weeks ago, and at first decided not to fight the case, but now he claims that he will do so, as he believes it his duty to clear his name of the charge of cruelty.

Mrs. Downs has gone to New Hampshire and will, according to her friends, remain there until the case comes up in court.

The divorce proceedings have created a great deal of surprise in Medford, where the couple were married in the fall of 1907, and where Mr. Downs is now engaged in the real estate business and is a prominent member and Sunday school teacher of the Union Congregational church.

Their acquaintance began romantically, as the young woman was a waitress in a Boston restaurant, where both Mr. Downs and his son took their meals. Their friendship ripened into love and they were finally married, although their wedded bliss lasted little more than a few years, when the wife left for New Hampshire.

Mrs. Downs was a cornetist of considerable prominence and formerly played in the church of which her husband was one of the most conspicuous members.

This is the second time that the former minister has been a figure in divorce procedings. About 30 years ago, while he was pastor of the Tabernacle at Bowdoin square, which at that time was one of the prominent churches of the city, he was mentioned in a suit which ended in the congregation asking for his resignation, which he refused to give, so that the church was finally closed by the officers.

The Rev. Mr. Downs was named as co-respondent in this divorce scandal, and stated yesterday that he went through that to clear his name and that the same reason that animated him to fight that case is what is making him contest this one.

GREAT CHANGE

In Interior Decorations in Court House

Lawyers, reporters and others who have had occasion to visit the court house in Gorham street within the last few weeks have had more or less to say about the newness of its appearance. The very refreshing change which has taken place in the appearance of the court house on the hill is due to the painters' brush and the skill of the painter. The new court house is quite a splendid building, but until recently the painter had never done justice to its interior. Heretofore it seemed as if he struggled with his brush; as though he felt the coming of seasons of weariness and darkness.

The last painter was more optimistic. Even in the criminal court he painted a ray of sunshine yet there is no lack of harmony. The bright fancy of the painter flirts with the great stillness of the room, as if he would have gladness instead of sorrow.

There was one thing that the writer, who visited the court house but yesterday was glad to learn. Practically unacquainted with the painters and decorators throughout the city, the thought that the work had been done by painters from out of town pushed itself along his thinking wires and he made inquiry concerning it. As to the belief that the work was done by Boston or other out of town parties he was quickly disillusioned. The work was done by Dwyer & Co., painters and decorators. Their place of business is at 47 Concord street, and the court house job is a credit to them.

The interior of the court house from the front door to the last room on the last floor is a symphony of color. All of the rooms are pretty and inviting in their new coats of paint and the color scheme is perfect. Ivory white trimmings predominate and the warm buff color of the wall harmonizes with the purity of the ceilings. Then comes the relief of the gray blue panel, the pretty contrast of the pale green and ivory with here and there a companian piece of old rose. A great many of the combinations are entirely original and decidedly pleasing to the eye. All of the individual colors are perfect, and they have been artistically assembled.

One of the court officers who came to Lowell a few days ago and who remained while the court was in session, is quoted as saying that the interior of the court room in Gorham street, so far as painting is concerned, is more artistically done than any court house he has seen in many moons. "A triumph of colors" was the way he expressed it.

RICH MEN

CAME TO THE AID OF GIRL DUPE

PITTSBURG, Sept. 23.—Business men of means and position literally overran Magistrate Kirby's court yesterday, begging permission to go bail for Stella E. Jones. At the same time they hissed Gilbert Esler, the flashily dressed young man for whom the girl stole $3,800 from her employer.

Miss Jones, who was bookkeeper for the Pittsburg Milk company, was put under $5,000 bond on a charge of grand larceny. Much sympathy has been expressed for her, as it was known that she took the money to give to Esler, with whom she was madly in love. He spent it on other women. Few of the men in court had seen the girl before, but a dozen pressed forward in rivalry to stan the bond. The magistrate finally divided the bail into three parts, $5,000 of which was awarded to Edward Johnson, manager of the Hardwood company of Pittsburg, and $1,000 each to John C. Adams and William Bumgart other wealthy business men. Esler was locked up. No one would sign his bond.

127 ARRESTED

Alleged Members of the Mafia Held

PALERMO, Italy, Sept. 23.—In the arrest of 127 alleged members of the notorious Mafia here yesterday the police believe they will be able to clear up the mysterious murder of Police Lieutenant Petrosino, of New York, as well as a number of other American crimes.

The arrests were made as the result of investigations made by other American detectives, after Petrosino's death, working in conjunction with the members of the Italian secret service. The wholesale rounding up of the Mafia yesterday came as a complete surprise to the organization, and it is said that many incriminating documents were secured. A complete magazine of bombs and arms was seized.

MISSING GIRL

RETURNED TO HER HOME AS A BRIDE

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The disappearance of Miss Mabel McGirr, 20 years old, of White Plains, on Labor Day, was solved yesterday, when she returned home and said she had been married.

Miss McGirr lived with her sister, Mrs. William E. Heim at No. 17 Lafayette street. Labor Day she told Mrs. Heim she was going to Brooklyn. When she failed to return, her family, fearing foul play, had a general alarm sent out. Mr. Heim declines to tell the bridegroom's name.

THE MAYOR

HAD CONFERENCE WITH CHAIRMAN OF POLICE BOARD

The mayor and the chairman of the police board, Thomas Duckworth, had a very lengthy conference this morning, but when a reporter of The Sun called, His Honor said there was nothing of any consequence.

TO OPEN BIDS

FOR PURCHASE OF AUTOMOBILE FIRE PATROL

Purchasing Agent Peter A. Mackenzie announced this afternoon that bids would be opened and the contract awarded for an automobile fire patrol for the Warren street fire station on Monday next at 9.30 o'clock in the presence of the mayor and the several bidders.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cawley of Ludlow street left Lowell this morning for Albany and New York city. They will attend the Hudson-Fulton celebration while in New York city and will be the guests of Joseph T. Cawley, formerly of Lowell.

Hon. John J. McManmon left today for New York where he will attend the Hudson-Fulton celebration.

GREAT RECEPTION

To be Tendered Archbishop O'Connell in This City

Archbishop O'Connell will be tendered a great reception in this city on Sunday, Oct. 3, when he will come here to lay the corner stone of the new building being erected at the corner of Andrews and Moore streets by the Sacred Heart parish. The archbishop will arrive in this city early in the afternoon and will be met at Davis Square by a grand escort that will include a number of the Catholic societies of the city. There will be several bands of music and the O. M. I. Cadets who made such an impression on the archbishop by their fine marching and formations in the recent Holy Name parade in Boston will probably head the line. The Holy Name society of the Sacred Heart parish will be in line and the Mathew Temperance institute, the Burke Temperance institute, all the divisions of the Hibernians of which order the archbishop is chaplain, the Y. M. C. I. and other societies have been invited to take part and it is expected that they will accept.

The residences along the line of march will be decorated and the occasion will be a memorable one in the history of the Sacred Heart parish. Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., the hard working pastor of the Sacred Heart church, was in Boston yesterday and received the acceptance of the archbishop to his invitation to come to Lowell and lay the corner stone of the new building. This evening the members of the Holy Name society of the parish are requested to meet at 7.30 o'clock when a drill will be held and business relating to the reception transacted. Prior to the laying of the corner stone the archbishop will confirm a class of children and will address the people of the parish. It is hoped that every member of the societies that have been invited to take part in the parade will make a special effort to be in line on Sunday, October 3d.

SPECIAL VENIRE

In Connection With the Steel Cases

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—A special venire of 130 men was drawn by the board of aldermen today in a special meeting in connection with the "steel agreement cases" now pending in the superior criminal court. Judge Harris yesterday had to postpone the case after a previous venire of 60 had become exhausted and a batch of special talesmen failed to fill the jury box.

WIFE HAS SUED

Hawkins Defendant in $30,000 Action

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—William E. Hawkins, the millionaire president of the American Brass & Copper company, is being sued in supreme court for borrowing $30,000 from his wife, and, according to her claim, forgetting to pay it back. The loan was in the form of stock which Mrs. Hawkins declares she gave to her husband upon his promise to sell it for her at a fancy price.

Mrs. Hawkins is also the plaintiff in a suit for separation. She has left her beautiful home at Amityville, N. Y., and is now living with her brother in Brooklyn. Her husband has filed an answer with the county clerk in which he asserts that the real name of Mrs. Hawkins is Nellie C. Jones. He denies that the $30,000 worth of stock in question was ever the personal property of his wife.

Mr. Hawkisn informed Justice Guy who has ordered Mrs. Hawkins to appear before a referee for examination, that the stock was given to her as collateral security for a loan of $1000 that she made to him. He repaid this, he states, and an additional $1000 for the surrender of the stock.

FINDS $15,000

IT WAS LEFT IN LUNCH ROOM BY MESSENGER

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Harry Bohrer, manager of a lunch room at 112 Pearl street, could have been $15,000 ahead had he been dishonest yesterday. He found a wallet containing $15,000 in the lunch room and saw that nearly all the bills bore the stamp of the State bank, 52 Norfolk street.

Bohrer phoned to the bank and then went there. The cashier identified the notes as those entrusted to a messenger a couple of hours before. The messenger later appeared at the lunch room seeking the wallet, which had slipped from his pocket. Bohrer recently restored to a bank $1000 found in the same manner.

GRAVESEND RACES

GRAVESEND, N. Y., Sept. 23.—First race: Jean D'Arc, 98, Glass, 3 to 5, 1 to 4, out, won; May Amelia, 108, King, 3 to 1, 8 to 1, 3 to 1, second; St. Joanne, 108, McCarty, 5 to 2, 7 to 5, 1 to 2, third. Time 1.04.

POLICE BOARD

RECEIVED COMMUNICATION FROM MINISTERS

The board of police today received letters from Rev. J. M. Crain, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. A. C. Ferrin, pastor of the High street church, denying that they wanted the board, as was stated in last Sunday's issue of the Boston Herald.

The letters were sent to the board as a result of the motion made by Commissioner John J. Burns that the clerk communicate with the reverend gentlemen in order that the Boston Herald may be asked to retract certain statements made against the board of police.

COURT MARTIAL

Taking of Testimony is Completed

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 23.—The court martial which is trying Naval Constructor John G. Tawresey on the charge of negligence in not reporting alleged suspicions that the naval tug Nezinscott, which sunk off Cape Ann recently, drowning four men, was unseaworthy today completed the taking of testimony in the case. Tomorrow the consideration of the testimony in the first of four cases in which members of the crew are charged with abandoning their captain and others, will be taken up.

Naval Constructor Tawresey himself took the stand today. He declared he had not said that the Nezinscott was unseaworthy.

"Had I been on duty at the time the Nezinscott left the navy yard I would have notified the commandant that it was not safe to carry such a great cargo," he said. Naval Constructor R. M. Watts testified as to Constructor Tawresey's efficiency.

WAS FINED $15

PHILANDER C. KNOX JR., GUILTY OF FAST DRIVING

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 23.—Philander C. Knox, Jr., son of Secretary of State Knox, was fined $15 and costs in the sixth district court today on the charge of fast driving of an automobile. He was speeding to Boston Sept. 14 to attend the dinner to President Taft when arrested on Waterman street. He paid the fine after pleading guilty.

WAS NO PLOT

IN CONNECTION WITH EXPLOSION OF BOMB

EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 23.—It developed today that there was no plot in connection with the finding a supposed bomb in Juarez, Mexico, last night. The "bomb" proved to be a small pepper box containing a substance like paraffine poured over the top.

The police have arrested an American tramp who had been sleeping on the premises of Senor Arguilles and who had been ordered away. The tramp had made threats. American consul Edwards had the bomb examined today and found it to be harmless.

FINED $6

MAN FOUND GUILTY OF ASSAULT AND BATTERY

Antoni Predula was found guilty of assault and battery in police court today and fined $6.

Joseph Reed, charged with threatening was found not guilty and discharged. The case of drunkenness against John Priddy was also dismissed.

GRAND LODGE, ODD FELLOWS

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 23.—The grand lodge of Odd Fellows today considered the subject of providing a sanitarium for members of the order afflicted with tuberculosis. The Odd Fellows of Colorado, California and Arizona have had a heavy burden to carry in looking after members of the order who come to those regions hoping to regain their health, and grand lodge delegates say the whole order should look after the sick.

THE DEMOCRATS

Of Chelmsford Held Caucus Last Night

One of the most interesting democratic caucuses ever held in Chelmsford since the days when James P. Dunnigan and Patrick T. McMahon were trying for the supremacy, was held last evening at the town hall in North Chelmsford.

The meeting was called to order by John E. Harrington, chairman of the town committee. John E. Harrington was chosen chairman and Charles F. Devine was chosen secretary.

The following residents were elected to attend conventions: State, John E. Harrington; senatorial, James P. Quigley; county and councillor, Chas. F. Devine; representative, Patrick S. Ward, Walter J. Devine, William A. Shinkwin.

The town committee for the year 1909-10 is as follows: John E. Harrington, Charles F. Devine, Patrick H. Haley, John F. McManomin, John J. Dunn.

GRAND JUNCTION ENTERTAINED PRESIDENT OF UNITED STATES

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Sept. 23.—This city entertained the president of the United States for the first time in its history this morning when President Taft arrived and was escorted through the principal streets to the fair grounds, where he made a brief address in front of the grandstand. Fully 12,000 greeted Mr. Taft at the fair grounds. From here the presidential party traveled in a special train to Montrose. He will return early in the morning and leave for the west.

MANY VISITORS

To Attend Hudson-Fulton Celebration

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—With a column of warships of various nations more than a mile long in the Hudson river, and the British and German squadrons expected to arrive today, the streets and buildings blossoming with bunting and thousands of visitors beginning to arrive, New York was beginning today to awake to the fact that the opening of the great Hudson-Fulton celebration was near. The boom of the big guns as the warships assembled stirred the enthusiasm of the city for the splendid spectacles which commences on Saturday. Meantime this was a busy day on board the battleships and cruisers ranged in a long column in the Hudson river. Official visits were exchanged between the officers of the fleets and the city officials and officers of the United States army and navy in this city.

In the midst of the fog today the torpedo boat destroyers which will be included in the naval parade crept up the harbor and stole over to the New York navy yard to await assignment to their positions among the ships at anchor in the Hudson.

Several specialties in the nature of aerial events which are not on the program of the Hudson Fulton celebration are promised by officials of the celebration.

It was early in the afternoon before the three warships outside Sandy Hook were positively identified as the expected British visitors. At 1 o'clock the trio anchored off the Hook and a wireless message from the flagship Drake brought information that they would stay outside the harbor until tomorrow and await the arrival of the battleship Inflexible which was expected to join the squadron late tonight. Tomorrow morning if weather conditions are right the warships will steam up the Hudson and take their places with the other men of war off 129th street.

NO CANDIDATE

Selected by the Fusionists as Yet

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—With the fusion movement so far unsuccessful and no mayoralty candidate agreed upon after two days of discussion there was considerable speculation today as to what would be the action of the republican city convention which meets in Carnegie hall at noon. It was reported that the city convention might adjourn until the Fusionists had decided on candidates but Timothy L. Woodruff, who will act as chairman of the city convention, said:

"The city convention will nominate a full city ticket regardless of anything that happened last night."

It was expected that the republican county committee, the Citizens union and the committee of 153 would draw up a ticket to be presented at the city convention. Some of the prominent republicans said today that the mayoralty nomination was likely to go to one of three men, Congressman William Bennet, ex-Judge Warren or Job H. Hedges.

The convention was called to order by Senator Alfred Hooker of Kings county, chairman of the republican city committee.

Former Attorney General John M. Mayer was made temporary chairman.

COTTON IS HIGH

Largest Price Paid Since the Civil War

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—A fresh wave of bullish excitement fairly carried away the cotton market today with every delivery on the list making new high records for the season and with prices scoring an advance from yesterday of 30 points or more; $10.50 a bale.

Business was the most active in generals so far this season and heavy buying by western houses particularly in view of the dull wheat market caused reports that Mr. Patten, the big Chicago operator, was advising his friends to transfer their interests from wheat to cotton. Southern and local bulls were also big buyers and bullish enthusiasm based upon reports of material damage to the crops as a result of the recent storm and a bullish census statement of last year's American consumption was further encouraged by reports that manufacturers had become frightened and were calling cotton right and left for future delivery. December cotton here sold up to 13.34 and May to 13.42 during the early afternoon, these prices showing an advance of about 1 1-4 cents a pound. The price of approximately 13 1-4 cents reached today is the highest ever paid for cotton at this season of the year when the south had still practically the entire crop to market, since the Civil war. And even supposing that the crop falls as far short of last year's yield of 13,800,000 bales as the bull leaders anticipate and amounts to only 10,500,000 bales at the present price it would be worth around $706,000,000, the largest amount ever realized for a single crop in the history of the trade.

THE REGISTRARS

ARE QUITE BUSY ON THE CHECK LISTS

The board of registrars is quite busy this afternoon upon the new check lists, and tomorrow morning will announce dates for the recounts in the 15th and 18th representative districts. The next date for registration will be September 27th.

BIG ATHLETIC MEET

Long distance running, which since the famous Hayes-Dorando finish at the Olympic games has caught the fancy of the American public, will be more popular during the coming fall months than ever before. For the next month or so the weather conditions for out-of-door athletic contests will be of the best, both for contestant and for spectator. And on Saturday, Oct. 2, Lowell will have an opportunity of witnessing one of the most unique and interesting athletic struggles on the athletic calendar. This will be a race in which a walker will endeavor to defeat a Marathon runner.

Such a race was arranged yesterday. It was arranged in the Sun office, the contesting parties to be Dan O'Leary and an unknown Marathoner. The Marathoner will run ten miles while O'Leary walks six.

Mr. Holske, the world's champion 50 mile walker, is sponsor for the unknown. Mr. O'Leary needs no mention here. So confident is Mr. Holske of his protege's ability to defeat Dan in this unusual race that he has posted $100 with the sporting editor of The Sun to back his opinion, which $100 was immediately covered by O'Leary. In addition to this sum, the winner will receive the gate receipts.

No assistants will be allowed near the contestants during the race. The question of a referee has been left to the judgment of the sporting editor of this paper. Preliminary to the big event, a five mile open race will be held, also a three mile race for boys under 20 years of age.

THE PRESIDENT

To Make an Extended Speech at Montrose

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 23.—President Taft reached Glenwood Springs at 6 o'clock this morning and after a stay of 15 minutes left for Grand Junction and Montrose. While here the president was greeted by hundreds of citizens most of whom had come a long way from their ranches in the surrounding valleys to pay their respects to the nation's executive.

The president awoke early and greeted the people from the platform of his car. He made a short address and shook hands with a number of citizens.

The presidential train is scheduled to arrive at Montrose, Colo., at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon, where the president is expected to make an extended address probably dealing with conservation. It is proposed that the president make the trip to the west portal of the Gunnison tunnel over a narrow-gauge railroad. At the conclusion of his remarks the flow of water through the tunnel which will irrigate 200,000 acres of hitherto arid lands is to be started.

$35,000 DAMAGE

Ten Men Were Burned at Fire

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Ten men were slightly burned and $35,000 damage was done by a fire, which started at 10.15 o'clock last night, in the barrel factory of the Tidewater Oil company at Bayonne, a branch of the Standard. The flames spread to the boiler house and consumed it.

At midnight the fire was still burning, and there was a fear it might spread to the great stills east of the barrel factory, which would mean a blaze that would last for days.

The ten employes were burned when the flames shot through the barrel house, igniting the oil-soaked dust about the plant. They were treated at the Bayonne hospital.

HOLY CROSS

HAD LARGE ATTENDANCE ON OPENING DAY

Never before in the history of Holy Cross college, Worcester, Mass., has its fall opening been so successful as it was yesterday morning when for the 87th term the college officially, for the term of 1909 and 1910, announced that 885 students had been registered, the largest number in the history of the college. After chapel when services were conducted by the president of the college, Rev. Thomas E. Murphy, S. J., the students assembled in Fenwick hall, where those present were addressed by the reverend president and announcements of class promotion were made. "Schola Brevis" was then in order and this morning marked the beginning of the real college life.

BATTLESHIP NORTH DAKOTA

QUINCY, Sept. 23.—The battleship North Dakota now nearly completed at the yards of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co., here will be the first of the Dreadnoughts in the United States navy to have her government standardization trial trips. The date has been set for Oct. 15, over the Rockport, Me., course. The contract requirement is 21 knots. It is expected the North Dakota will exceed this. Although the North Dakota's tests come five days before those of her sister ship the Delaware, the latter is at present further advanced in the percentage of completion.

6 O'CLOCK

GUILTY OF GRAFT

Chicago Police Inspector Was Convicted by a Jury

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Police Inspector Edward McCann, charged with grafting, was found guilty by a jury which reported in Judge Barnes' court today.

Sentence will not be pronounced until after the hearing of arguments for a new trial. The law provides an indeterminate sentence in prison. The charges against the inspector in charge of the Desplaines street district were the most sensational aimed against a police officer in years. States Attorney Wyman charged that graft aggregating many thousands of dollars had been collected from disorderly houses in return for protection. The chief witness against McCann was Louis Frank, a Russian immigrant who although unable to read or write has accumulated a fortune of several hundreds of thousands of dollars in the West Side of Tenderloin. He and his brother Julius for years have exercised a marked power in West Side politics. Louis Frank testified that he collected the protection money from denizens of the Tenderloin. The first two collections he stated on the witness stand were paid to Detective Jeremiah Griffin who, he said, acted as agent for McCann. Thereafter he declared he had given the money to McCann in person.

McCann's defense was that he had suppressed and persecuted vice in his district with so rigorous a hand that a conspiracy headed by Louis Frank was formed against him.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

CONVENT, N. J., Sept. 23.—A special field of fully one hundred golfers started early today in the annual tournament of the Morris county golf club. While New Jersey players predominated every section of the New York district was represented. Among the best known players way early in the [illegible] qualifying round were John W. Ward, former New Jersey titleholder, and F. R. Upton, Jr., the Baltusrol club star. Others off well before noon were W. P. Morgan, winner of the Apawamis tournament; James A. Tyng, ex-metropolitan champion; C. B. MacDonald, former national titleholder, and W. W. Pell, long a Metropolitan campaigner. Up to 1 o'clock the best score was 77, made by John M. Ward.

FUNERALS

LELAND—The funeral of Mrs. Mary P. Leland wife of Foreman Leland of the city farm, occurred from her home, 326 School street at 2 o'clock Wednesday. Services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Dean of St. Paul's church.

Mrs. Roberts rendered the following hymns, "Sometime We'll Understand," "Face to Face," "My Heavenly Home" and "Good Night." Among the floral tributes were the following: Pillow inscribed "Wife," from husband; cross on mound from brothers and sisters; spray of pinks from Bernice and Mildred Leland; spray of china asters, Mrs. Nellie Leland; pillow beneath arch from superintendent and attendants at city hospital; basket of flowers from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Lunahy; spray of china asters from Mr. and Mrs. Pillsbury; spray of white and purple asters from Mr. Curtis Rogers; spray of pinks, Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks and family; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Batten and family; bouquets, Miss Alice Moore, Mrs. Ada Townsend and Gerti Butters. The bearers were Messrs. Melvin and Alfred Leland and Curtis and Leon Fairbanks, all relatives of deceased.

Interment was in the Edson cemetery, Undertakers C. M. Young & Co. in charge.

FORGET—The funeral of Exeplice Forget took place yesterday from his home, 117 Moody street with solemn funeral services at 9 o'clock at St. Jean Baptiste church. Rev. Frs. Bernecha, Magnan and Boullard, O. M. I. officiated. The harmonized funeral mass was sung by the choir under the direction of Dr. Caisse, with Arthur J. Martel at the organ. At the offertory, Dr. Caisse sang "O Meritum Passionis." The bearers were Jos. Chas. Wilfrid, Henri and Edmond Forest, and O. Bourdon. Court St. Antoine, C. O. F., was represented by Fred Giroux, A. N. Boulais, Jos. Roux, C. P. Lozeau, Timothee Roy, Ad. Landry, Philippe Roy, Joseph Jalbert and Wilfrid Roy. The Carpenters' union was represented by P. O. Leclair, J. A. Pion, M. A. Lee, and Philippe Legare. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery and Rev. Fr. Daalere, O. M. I., officiated at the grave. Undertaker Amadee Archambault had charge.

GILCHRIST—The funeral of the late Catherine Gilchrist took place yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the rooms of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons. The burial was in the Edson cemetery.

FITZPATRICK—The funeral of Alice Fitzpatrick took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her parents, 9 Varley avenue. Burial was in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery under the direction of C. H. Molloy & Sons.

DAVIS—The funeral of the late Josephine T. Davis took place this morning at 8.20 o'clock from the funeral parlors of James W. McKenna, 419 Bridge street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The cortege proceeded to St. Michael's church where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Murphy. The choir under the direction of Mr. James Murphy sang "Missa Pro Defunctis." At the offertory "Domine Jesu Christi," was given, and at the conclusion of the mass "In Paradisum" was sung, and as the body was borne from the church "Ego Sum Benedictus" was sung. Miss Carolyn Waite presided at the organ. There were many beautiful floral offerings, among them being a large spray of white asters with white ribbon inscribed "Wife," from husband of the deceased; a large bouquet from a friend and a spray of white asters from Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley. The bearers were Messrs. John H. Burke, Thomas Berry, John T. Donohue and John Morris. Burial was in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Murphy read the committal prayers at the grave. Funeral Director James W. McKenna had charge.

DEATHS

She leaves to mourn her loss a daughter, Mrs. Samuel Harnden; two sisters, Mrs. John Welch and Mrs. William Lennan; 11 grandchildren, Mrs. Ella, Edward, Samuel, Mary, Gertrude, Elizabeth, Adelaide, George, Florence and Lane Harnden, Mrs. George Buckley; two great-grandchildren, George and Margaret Buckley. Funeral notice later.

FUNERAL NOTICE

McDANIELS—Died in this city, Sept. 22, at her home, 168 East Merrimack street, Mrs. Elizabeth McDaniels. Funeral at her late residence, 168 East Merrimack street, Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

THE DEMOCRATS

WILL HOLD STATE CONVENTION ON SEPT. 30.

The democrats of the city have been notified that their state convention will be held in Faneuil hall, Boston, the 30th day of September, one week from today, and the delegates will be called to order at 11 o'clock in the morning by the chairman of the state committee, ex-Senator Frederick J. McLeod.

THE BOSTON MARKET

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The early trading in the Boston market for copper shares today was generally light. [illegible] the [illegible] tone was firm. During the first [illegible] North Butte continued the advance begun yesterday, rising 1¼ to 27½.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY

To Preside at the Cook Banquet

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—No official representative of the nation or state will attend the big banquet given for Dr. Frederick A. Cook tonight at the Waldorf Astoria. The mayor of New York has also declined to sanction the Brooklyn explorer's claims to North pole honors by attending this, the first public function in honor of Dr. Cook outside of his own borough, Brooklyn. But the New York city government will be represented by Patrick McGowan, president of the board of aldermen, and by Bird S. Coler, and several other well known men will sit at the speaker's table. Rear Admiral Schley, retired, will preside by virtue of his position as president of the Arctic club of America under whose auspices the dinner will be given. Other speakers will be Prof. Brewer of Yale, Carl Von Moltke, the Danish minister to Washington, who is here as the representative of his government at the Hudson-Fulton celebration; Congressman Bennett of New York, Job Hedges, a well known republican campaign orator and Charles Wake of the Explorers' club.

Dr. Cook is spending another day of comparative privacy at his suite in the Waldorf Astoria. While his supporters here declare that the readiness with which he answered questions of the newspaper interviewers yesterday showed that he is sure of his ground, his opponents point out that all he has said since his arrival adds little or nothing to the real proof of his claims. The three things now most eagerly awaited by those interested in the controversy are: first, the indictment which Commander Peary is said to be preparing; second, Dr. Cook's own scientific record which he promises to have ready inside of two months, and third, the testimony of Harry Whitney, the New Haven sportsman, who Cook says was one of the first white men to learn of his discovery.

MAYOR WOODMAN

EXTENDED AN OFFICIAL WELCOME TO PEARY

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 23.—Commander Peary received a spectacular welcome on his arrival in this city at 1.15 p. m. Hundreds had stood for hours in the vicinity of the Union station. Commander Peary was officially welcomed by Mayor Woodman and a committee representing the city council, introductions taking place upon the steps of his car and he was then driven directly to the Bangor house where he is to be the guest of the committee at luncheon.

IN OLDTOWN

COMMANDER PEARY WAS GIVEN A GREAT RECEPTION

OLDTOWN, Me., Sept. 23.—Oldtown gave Commander Robert E. Peary, when he arrived here this afternoon, a real down east greeting in which several hundred people participated. As the train drew in the people drew around the Peary car and cheered themselves hoarse, while the explorer shook hands with as many of these as could press close to the car platform. There was only a stop of a couple of minutes at Oldtown, and Commander Peary did not make any speech. Large numbers of people drove in from the country districts and stood up in their wagons and cheered the explorer. A placard on a large pole reading "Welcome, Peary you have reached the North pole, pulled up the pole and put your adversary in the hole," was prominently displayed in the crowd. There were cheers for the explorer by the high school students who gave their class cry, adding the name of Peary as the train left for Bangor.

Mayor John F. Woodman and Harold Hinckley of Bangor, a member of the city government and of the reception committee, also joined Peary here. Mr. Hinckley's brother, Frank Hinckley, accompanied Commander Peary on one of his expeditions. All along the route from Vanceboro Mr. Peary was given enthusiastic receptions at the railroad stations. At Lincoln the local band joined in the welcome.

A DIVORCE SUIT

Has Caused Stir in Society

NEWBURYPORT, Sept. 23.—Announcement of the hearing of a divorce libel at Salem, in which Caroline Lloyd Withington sues her husband, Lothrop Withington, created a surprise in this city. It has been known right along by a few intimate acquaintances that there was a family jar, but the matter was kept quiet locally owing to the prominence of the Withingtons.

Lothrop Withington is a son of Nathan N. Withington, a prominent writer and kinsman of David Withington, a former resident, but now a prominent lawyer in the Hawaiian islands, father of the well-known Withington boys of Harvard, and Arthur Withington, a local attorney. There is one sister, Miss Anne Withington.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 23.—The body of John Hobson, a Boston man, was found in the river near the Narragansett Electric Lighting Co. this noon. It had apparently been in the water for some time. A medical examiner gave permission for burial saying death was due to accident.

SECRETARY KNOX DECLINES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary Knox has decided not to go to El Paso to be present at the meeting of President Taft and President Diaz. The Mexican government has been so informed through the American ambassador in the city of Mexico.

INTERURBAN ROAD PETITION

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Prominent citizens and business men of Lawrence and Lowell appeared before the railroad commissioners today in connection with the petition of the Boston, Lowell & Lawrence Interurban Electric Railroad Co. for permission to construct a high speed electric line between these cities. All were in favor of the petition. It is expected that further witnesses will be heard tomorrow.

THREE WOMEN KILLED

SEATTLE, Sept. 23.—Three women were killed and three men and a woman seriously injured when an automobile containing eight persons jumped off a trestle at Fourth and Weller streets, a short distance from the Union station here today.

NINE WERE DROWNED

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 23.—Confirmation of the report that nine persons were drowned near Pass Manchac, La., was obtained today from Illinois Central construction gangs. The drowned were a station agent, his wife and two children and five negroes.

WIT AND HUMOR FOR SUN READERS

RATHER SENSITIVE.

Mr. Squirrel—You appear to be in a great hurry, Mr. Crow.

Mr. Crow—Yes, indeed. I heard these women in the wayside cottage say they had a crow to pick with each other, and I thought perhaps they were alluding to me.

AT THE BALL GAME.

"JONES is quite a good fielder, isn't he?"

"That's natural. He has been a farmer."

PAINFUL.

The Bug—Get off my corn!

AS SHE REASONED IT.

"IT is but natural," said Mrs. Van Scadders, "that those who possess wealth should consider themselves the best people."

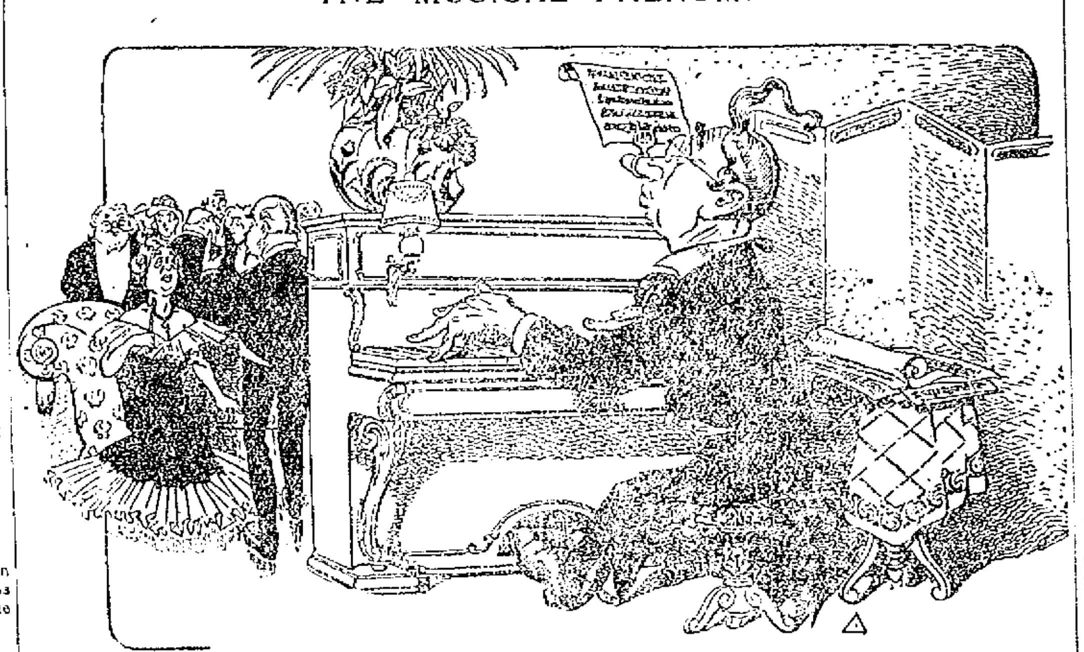

"I don't quite follow you."

"It is an axiom that everything is for the best."

"Yes."

"And the people with money are the only ones who have a chance to get everything."

THE MUSICAL PHENOM.

In order to be a musician it is not always necessary to see farther than the tip of one's nose.

PERHAPS.

Earlie—I wonder where the mosquitoes spend the winter.

His Pa—Maybe that's what they're trying to tell us when they come buzzing around us in the summer.

ORPHEUS AND MORPHEUS.

MIGGS—Your husband is a great lover of music, isn't he?

Mrs. Diggs—Yes, indeed. I have seen him get right up in the middle of the night and try to compose.

Miggs—What?

Mrs. Diggs—The baby.

OLD TROUBLE.

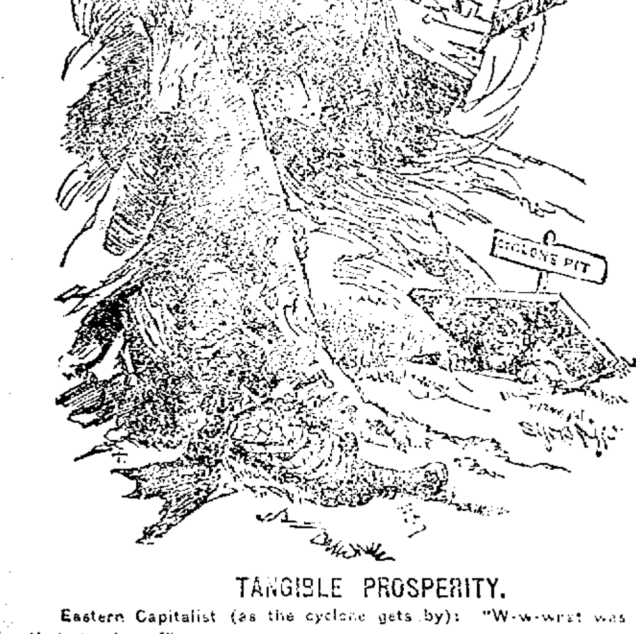

Mme. Quack—Why, how hoarse you are! Are you ill?

Miss Duck—No; only a frog in my throat.

A SIDE HIT.

MRS. BIGGS—Two detectives always follow me whenever I go to a grand function with all my diamonds on.

Mrs. Snaggs—Indeed! Hasn't your installment plan jeweler any more confidence in you than that?

TANGIBLE PROSPERITY.

Eastern Capitalist (as the cyclone gets by): "W-w-wrat was it [illegible] that struck me?"

Kansas Man: "Why, friend, don't you know? That was our real estate boom!"

Whew!

MAY PECHIS—Jack Goodley called upon me the other evening.

Mr. Chellus—Huh! How did you survive it? I suppose he talked about something idiotic all the time.

May Pechis—Well, yes; he spoke about you quite a great deal.

His Latest Yarn.

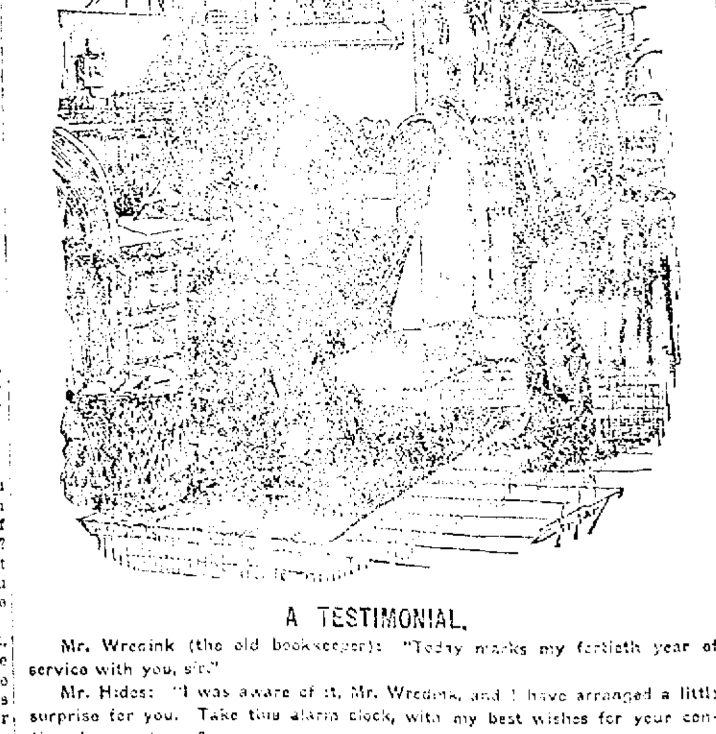

TRANCE MEDIUM—Your husband says he is now in heaven, seated among the angels and playing divine melodies on a golden harp.

Widow—My, how John has improved in his lying!

Not Astrology.

SUE—And you say you can tell by the stars if he loves you? Why, I didn't know that you ever scanned the skies.

Belle—I don't, but I scan his love letters. He is one of those fellows that mark a star for every kiss.

A TESTIMONIAL.

Mr. Wreoink (the old bookkeeper): "Today marks my fortieth year of service with you, sir."

Mr. Hides: "I was aware of it, Mr. Wreoink, and I have arranged a little surprise for you. Take this alarm clock, with my best wishes for your continued promptness."

Everything and Nothing.

GRACE—The other day George called just as Fred was leaving.

Helen—You care for Fred, but you don't for George. Am I right?

Grace—Yes; I feel as if everything was going out and nothing coming in.

Country Confidences.

"DO you prefer city life?" asked the dandelion politely.

"Well, I am down on the farm," replied the thistle.

A Catch.

"HOW did you and your wife first meet?"

"We didn't meet," replied the meek little man. "She overtook me."

Sure Thing.

PAPA—Be careful, Tommie. You'll break your cart. Then what will happen?

Tommie—You'll have to buy me another.

A CLOSE SHAVE.

Father: "Didn't I tell you I would whip you if I caught you in the water again?"

Son: "Yes, sir, and that's the reason I hurried out when I saw you coming."

REPORT DENIED

That Jews Were Attacked at Kiev

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—There have been no attacks upon Jews at Kiev or anywhere else in Russia so far as the Jewish Emigrant society or the German Jewish Relief association knows. The first organization concerns itself with the emigration of Jews from Russia and since the first publication of the reported fatal rioting at Kiev both organizations have communicated with their agents in Kiev and other important places in Russia. Dr. Kahn, who represents the societies during the absence of the chief director, Dr. P. Nathan, said that this sensational report had its entire foundation in the apprehension among the Jews of one of the suburbs of Kiev that they might be attacked in consequence of a quarrel between themselves and some rough local characters. Dr. Kahn said that in this instance he was happy to declare that not a Jew had been hurt or not a penny's worth of property destroyed. He disavowed completely the suggestion that the reports on this matter telegraphed to the United States had originated with the Jewish societies of Berlin.

ANNUAL RUSH

TOOK PLACE AT BROWN UNIVERSITY TODAY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 23.—The regular fall term at Brown university opened today and the students were busy registering in their different classes. Immediately after chapel the sophomores and freshmen had their annual rush on the back campus, victory resting with the first year men. The entering class numbers about 200.

FALL OF RAIN

MAY INTERFERE WITH PHILADELPHIA-ST. LOUIS SERIES

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—A soaking rain which set in during the night was still falling at 11 o'clock this morning, and the prospects were that the last game in the final series between the Philadelphia and St. Louis American baseball clubs will not be played today. If the rain interferes with the game it cannot be played off as Cleveland comes here tomorrow for a series of four games.

FINAL SESSION

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—With the triennial election of officers as the final business to be disposed of, the supreme council of sovereign grand inspectors general of the 33d degree Scottish rite of Free Masonry of the northern jurisdiction, met again today for the closing day's session of its annual meeting. The council meeting was opened at the Masonic temple on Tuesday in this city and was said today to have been the largest and pleasantest in the recollection of the delegates. About 300 delegates of the highest degrees from the fourteen states included in the northern jurisdiction were present.

ARMY OFFICERS

Are Taking Their Walking Test Today

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The four army officers attached to the army of the east who are to fulfil the three days' walking tests prescribed by the war department to determine their physical fitness rather than the riding tests, began today their first hike of thirty miles within the confines of the Fort Strong reservation. These officers were Col. Robert H. Patterson, commander of the artillery district of Boston harbor; Major Charles Jamieson, connected with the ordinance department at Watervilleᵉ arsenal, Troy, N. Y.; Capt. Payton, stationed at Fort Preble, and Mayer Ducher. The walk of today will be repeated tomorrow and Saturday, following which the officers will submit to an examination such as they underwent before beginning the tests yesterday.

The two score of officers who chose the riding tests will gather at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., within a few days to go through their mounted stunts.

RUSSELL CASE

Witnesses Were Cross-Examined Today

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 23.—The third day of the case in which Daniel B. Russell of Dickinson, N. D., seeks to secure one-half of the $700,000 estate left by Daniel Russell of Melrose as the latter's son, was given over today chiefly to cross-examination of the claimant's witnesses by counsel for the defense. Former Deputy Sheriff Lowell of Norwood, N. Y., occupied the stand during most of the forenoon. He identified Daniel B. Russell as the Daniel Blake whom he knew a score of years ago, relating a number of incidents which occurred in Norwood at that time.

JEWS NOT HURT

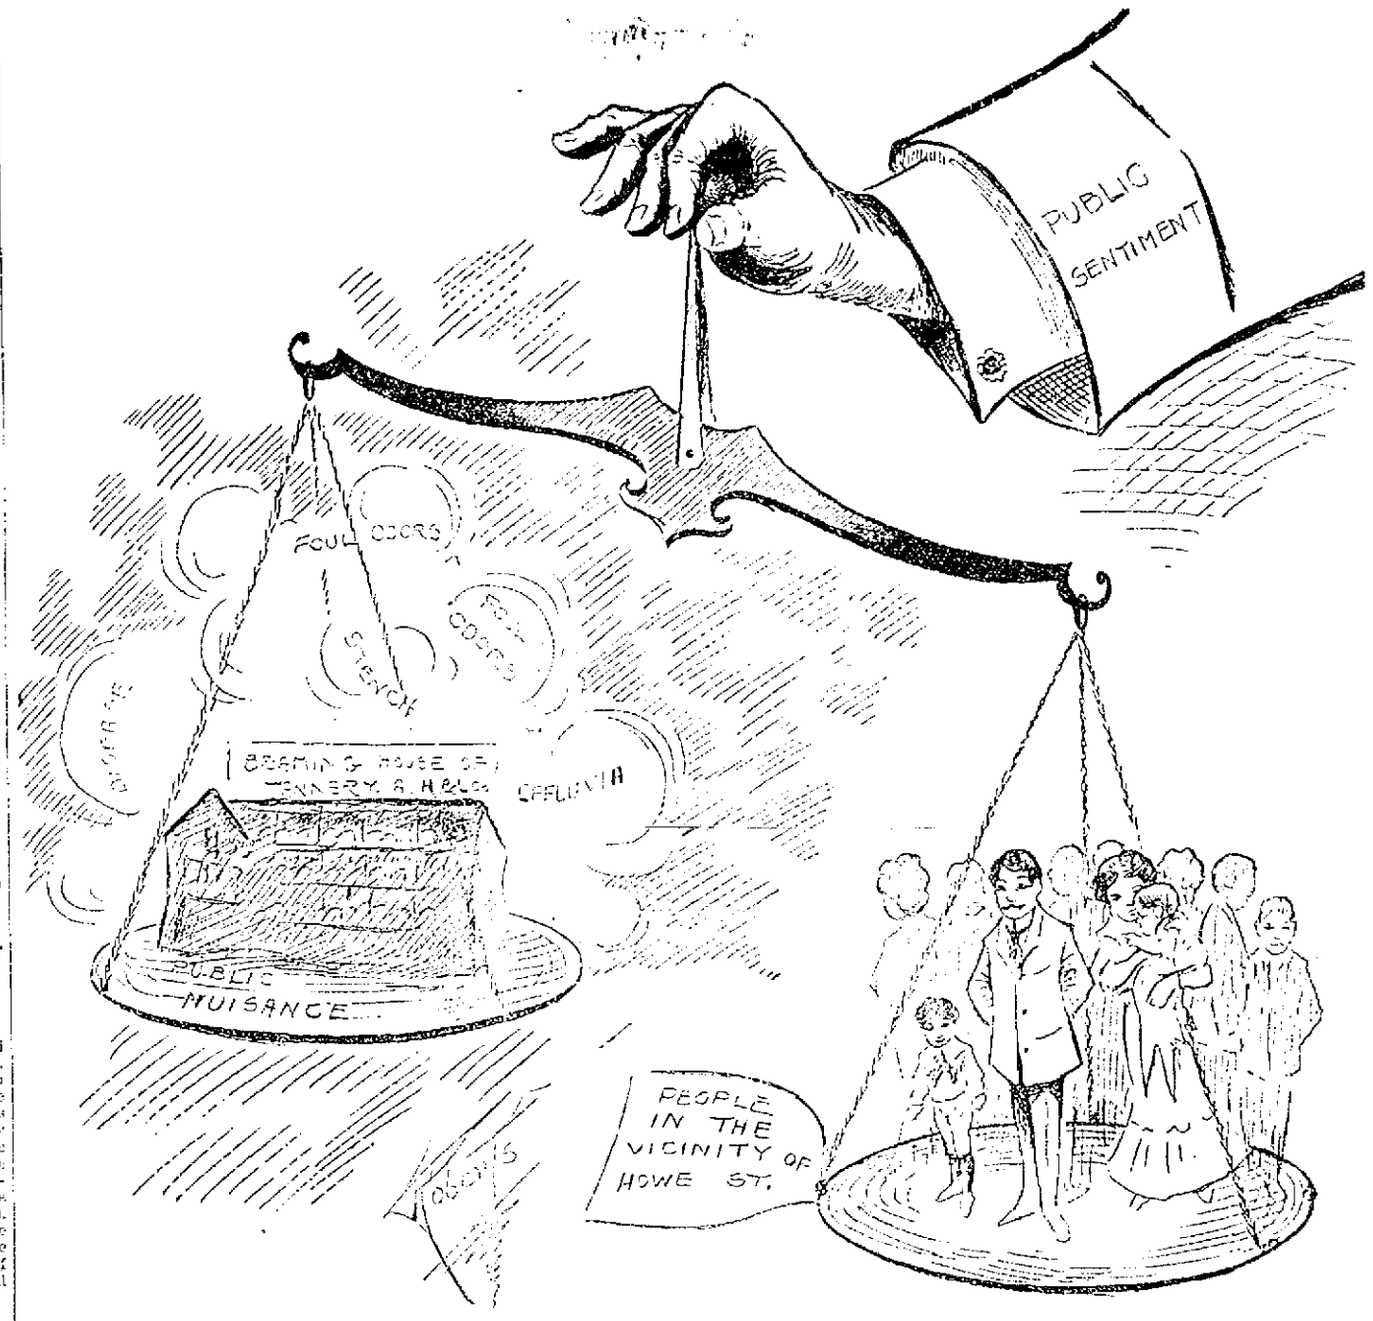

AND NONE OF THEIR PROPERTY WAS DESTROYED

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—An investigation of the circumstantial and sensational reports circulated in the United States for the last two days that there had been fatal anti-Jewish rioting at Kiev, Russia, last week, in which hundreds of persons were killed or wounded, shows that the rumors not only lack confirmation but are given specific denial by several reliable persons on the spot. The Jewish Benevolent societies of Berlin have communicated with their Kiev agents who have assured them that not a Jew in Kiev has been hurt or a penny's worth of Jewish property destroyed.

It is increasingly evident that the story of this fatal rioting arose from a comparatively minor incident in the suburbs of Kiev on September 7 when a small band of reactionaries set upon and beat a party of local Jews. Order was quickly restored and no one was injured.

RECEIVER APPOINTED

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—On his own petition George S. Smith of Portland, Me., was appointed ancillary receiver today for the Thomas O'Callaghan Co., incorporated, dealers in carpets and rugs of this city, a Maine corporation, by Judge Braley in the supreme court. In Portland, Me., yesterday Mr. Smith was appointed receiver for the company. The firm's liabilities are about $60,000, and it is understood that the assets exceed this amount.

THE FINANCIAL AND PRIVATE INTERESTS OF A CORPORATION SHOULD NOT BE CONSIDERED WHEN WEIGHED AGAINST THE HEALTH, COMFORT AND LIVES OF A COMMUNITY.

Of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., Sept. 23.—The condition of the cotton goods manufacture employes and how to provide better for their welfare was the general topic treated in the several papers read at the session of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers semi-annual meeting at the Mount Washington house here today. The session today was the third of the meeting and the final conclave will be held tonight.

The session was opened this forenoon with the reading of a paper on "Accidents to cotton mill operatives," by Edward W. Thomas of Baltimore, Md., which was followed by a treatise on the subject of "Housing mill employes"; and "The intensive use of land," by George H. Miller of Boston. George V. Michaelis of New York spoke on "Sanitary conditions in ventilating and humidifying mills" and W. H. Looley, principal of the Lawrence Industrial school, Lawrence, told of the training of students in the textile trades in a paper entitled "Secondary textile education."

GREAT CROWD

HEARD SECRETARY DICKINSON SPEAK AT NASHVILLE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 23.—The presence of Secretary of War Dickinson as the speaker on topics affecting the interests of the north and south attracted a great crowd to the state fair grounds here today.

General F. D. Grant who is also a guest of the fair reviewed a uniformed regiment of Confederate soldiers in front of the grand stand himself appearing in the full uniform of a general of the United States army.

THE RELIABILITY RUN

MILFORD, Pa., Sept. 23.—The autos entered in the Munsey reliability run from Washington to Boston and return left here today on the third leg of the trip, the first car getting away at 7 a. m. and the others following at one minute intervals. The end of the day's run is at Albany where the machines will remain over night. The run from Philadelphia to this place was a severe one and when the cars left here only fourteen of them had clean scores. The roads north of here are in fairly good condition.

AT AMHERST COLLEGE

AMHERST, Sept. 23.—Amherst college opened its doors today for its 83th year. The beginning of this season finds the buildings of the college augmented by the new geological and biological laboratory work which was completed during the summer.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE OPENS

HANOVER, N. H., Sept. 23.—Dartmouth college opened today with an entering class numbering nearly 350 students. The resignation of former President Tucker having taken effect and the inauguration of President-elect Nichols not occurring until another month, the opening of the college found the institution without a president in office although the duties of president were well cared for by Prof. John K. Lord, acting president, who has served in that capacity during the last year or more of President Tucker's administration.

BANK OF ENGLAND

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The rate of discount at the bank of England remained unchanged today at 2½ per cent.

HIS LEG BROKEN

Officer P. McMammon Met With Accident

Patrolman Peter P. McMammon, of the local police department, was brought home last night from Norfolk, Va., suffering with a broken leg.

Mr. McMammon, with Messrs. John J. Dawson, Joseph Burns, Edward Morris, John J. McCabe, Edward Johnson and William Carleton, all of this city, was enjoying one of the excursions to Old Point Comfort.

Shortly after arriving at the place they enjoyed a dip in a large swimming tank in the Hotel Chamberlain. The tank has a marble foundation and at one end the water is four feet deep, while at the other it is nine feet deep. Mr. McMammon had been jumping into the deep water after which he moved up towards the other end of the tank, where the water is shallow. Not realizing how low the water was at that point, he jumped in and struck the bottom of the tank with force sufficient to break his left leg.

The break is considered a bad one, and though it was carefully dressed by a surgeon at the hotel, it will be some time before Mr. McMammon will be able to be out.

TWO MEN KILLED

56 Wounded in Rioting in Barcelona

BARCELONA, Sept. 23.—Religious rioting at Castro resulted yesterday in the killing of two men and the wounding of 56 others. A religious procession, with the local priest at its head, was about to enter the church at Castro when it was attacked by an armed mob. The priest and another man were instantly killed and before the gendarmes could restore order 56 persons had been wounded.

GEN. SUPT. BIERD

Of New Haven Road Has Resigned

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 23.—Official announcement is made at the offices of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad that Gen. Supt. Bierd has tendered his resignation to take effect on Oct. 1. It was further stated that while his successor has not been chosen it will not be A. R. Whalley. Mr. Whalley has been mentioned in the reports of Mr. Bierd's coming change as a probable successor. In an interview Mr. Bierd says he is to become general manager of a central western road and is not going to the line with which John F. Stevens, formerly of the New Haven road, is now identified.

LEG AMPUTATED

Henry Jones, the well known lumber dealer of Pelham, had his leg amputated near the knee at Portsmouth, N. H. during the early part of the week. It seem that Mr. Jones had cut his foot and as blood poisoning set in it was impossible to save the limb.

FAITHLESS HUSBAND

Deserted His First Wife and Then Married Again

Joseph Stengowska Sentenced to Two Years in the House of Correction at Cambridge

Joseph Stengowska, of Lawrence, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with polygamy. It was alleged that he got married about four years ago to a woman in Lawrence and lived with her until about a year ago when he deserted her and subsequently came to this city and about four months ago married another woman and had been living with the latter until a few days ago when he was arrested. He was represented by Lawyer Edward M. Nally of Lawrence and Joseph Loughran of this city, and entered a plea of not guilty. Daniel J. Donahue of this city and Lawyer Edward L. Ford of Lawrence appeared for the government, the first wife being represented by Mr. Ford and the second wife by Mr. Donahue.

Stengowska's first wife testified that she was married to the defendant in Lawrence four years ago next November and that they had lived together until about a year ago when Stengowska deserted her. She did not see him again until a few days ago when she met him in the police station in this city.

She has two children and has had to support them herself since her husband deserted her.

Agata Swatlic, Stengowska's second wife, said that she had known the defendant for over a year. She said that she knew Stengowska as Joseph Yara and was married to him in this city on Feb. 14, 1908.

After summing up the evidence in the case the court found Stengowski guilty and sentenced him to two years in the house of correction at Cambridge.

Struck His Wife

William Carroll pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with assaulting his wife, Mary. Mrs. Carroll had a fully developed and swollen eye and stated that her husband struck her. She intimated that he was jealous of her and accused her of wrongdoing whenever she went to visit the home of her parents.

Carroll, testifying in his own behalf, denied that he struck his wife. He said that he and she had a few words and that when he rushed her aside she fell and struck against the bed and discolored her eye.

The case was continued till tomorrow morning for further examination.

Sent to Jail

Patrick H. Guinan denied that he had been drunk for the past three weeks, despite the fact that his wife had testified that he had been drunk that long. He was sentenced to ten days in jail.

James Patterson, charged with drunkenness, will spend the next month in jail.

Drunken Offenders

Joseph Smith was charged with being drunk and also with disturbing the peace. He was fined $2 and held under $100 bonds to keep the peace for six months.

Mike Punto said he had had but two glasses of beer and that that would not make him drunk. He was found guilty, however, and a fine of $5 imposed.

Charles Nolan, charged with drunkenness, was sentenced to ten days in jail. Hannah Mullen and Dennis J. Grogan were each fined $6, while one first offender was fined $2.

Heavy Fine Imposed

Octave Daigneault of Dracut was charged with selling swine which had not been inspected and stamped by the officials of the board of health. Daigneault pleaded ignorance of the law, but according to the testimony of a member of the board of health the defendant was aware of the law. He was found guilty and a fine of $25 was imposed.

Case Continued

The case of George Charlotros, charged with the larceny of $255, was continued till tomorrow.

LAUNCH WRECKED

It Was Struck by a Steamer

BATH, Me., Sept. 23.—It was known along the water front last Tuesday night that when the steamer City of Rockland, Capt. Blair steamed down the Kennebec river on her way to Boston it struck a small power boat in which there were two occupants. Efforts of the police to obtain the names of the two men who were upset proved unavailing and not until yesterday afternoon were any of the particulars known.

When the steamer left the dock here it was dark, and on the way down the river a little 23-foot launch was spied and at once the searchlight was thrown upon it. The men in the launch, who proved to be E. C. Day of Brunswick and Charles Prince of Portland, were momentarily blinded. Later, in attempting to put their wheel hard over to clear the big boat, the wheel rope was parted and the suction of the Rockland drew the small launch under the former's guard.

Both were thrown into the water and the launch was demolished. A crew from the Rockland lowered a boat and rescued the two men, while Moses Chandler, who was on shore and heard the crash, went to their assistance in a launch. He took them to his home where they were provided with warm clothing and then departed for their homes without meeting anybody interested in their escape, for in the darkness most people were unable to locate the exact spot where the accident happened.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty home wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott H. French, West Tewksbury, last evening, when Mr. Harry Alden Murphy of Lowell and Miss Adelaide Gertrude French, a niece of Mr. French, were married. The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the couple. It was performed by Rev. Henry A. Cornell, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, where the bride had been organist for several years. The wedding music was played by Mr. Albert French. The bestman was Mr. Albert Peterson of Lowell, and the bridemaid was Miss Ethel French, a sister of the bride, of Billerica.

The bride wore a gown of white and carried lilies of the valley, and the bridemaid wore white over blue and carried sweet peas. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy received many presents.

The home was very prettily decorated for the wedding, the parlor, where the marriage took place, having a scheme of white chrysanthemums and greenery, while the dining-room was all in red.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy left during the evening for their wedding trip. They will spend the greater part of the time in Maine.

DICKEY—TOY

Mr. Nelson Philip Dickey and Miss Naomi Janet Toy were married yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Toy, by Rev. George C. Wright, in the presence of the families of the bridal couple and a few of their near friends. The bride was attended by Miss Edith Toy, her sister, and Mr. Frederick Brown was best man.

HODGE—WALKER

A very pretty fall wedding occurred yesterday afternoon, when Mr. William F. Hodge and Miss Jennie H. Walker, both members of St. Patrick's parish, were united in wedlock at the parochial residence, The Rev. Timothy Callahan performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth A. Ringwood, and Mr. Joseph W. Hodge was best man. The bride was gowned in white silk with lace trimmings and the bridemaid wore blue silk. A reception was held at the home of the bride, 751 Broadway, and later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Hodge left on an extended wedding tour. They received numerous gifts. On their return they will live at 751 Broadway.

GRADY—ROURKE

Mr. William F. Grady and Miss Margaret E. Rourke were united in marriage at the parochial residence of St. Peter's church last evening at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. J. Keleher, D. D., pastor of the church.

The best man was Mr. Charles A. Conners, and the bridemaid was Miss Mary Rourke, a sister of the bride. The bride wore a gown of white point d'esprit over white silk, and carried bride roses. The bridemaid wore blue silk and carried sweetpeas. After the ceremony a reception to immediate friends and relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rourke, 14 Mill street. Mr. and Mrs. Grady received many handsome gifts. They left for a honeymoon which will include New York and Philadelphia, on the 8.55 train.

WILDER—McCUNE

A pretty wedding was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elvira McCune, 53 Burnside street, Tuesday evening, when Mr. Clifford Warren Wilder, eldest son of Mrs. George S. Wilder of 123 Pleasant street was married by the Rev. Mr. Jackson of the Tewksbury Presbyterian church to Miss Nellie McCune.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of family and friends, the home being prettily decorated by Mr. Harvey B. Greene for the occasion with choice palms and hydrangeas. Mr. Ralph Wilder, a brother of the bridegroom, played Lohengrin's wedding march. Owing to the fact that both the bride and bridegroom are well known the gifts were numerous, among which were a handsome present from the employes of the Lawrence hosiery, where the bride was employed, and a check from the employer of the groom.

The happy couple left the city last night in an auto and will spend the next two weeks among the White mountains, after which they will reside in Gloucester, where Mr. Wilder is employed. A nicely furnished home awaits them and they will be at home to their friends after Oct. 15 at 19 Exchange street.

SCHOONER NOT FLOATED

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 23.—At high tide Wednesday afternoon an attempt was made to float the four masted schooner Alice F. Crosby, which struck Fort Point ledge, easterly side, at 4 o'clock Wednesday, while making her way into the cove, but it was unsuccessful. Another try will be made today at flood tide. The schooner is resting easily and it is thought that the damage will be very slight.

NIGHT EDITION

BLOW AT LODGE

Attack Upon Machine Said to Have Been Made

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The suddenness of the attack upon the Lodge machine, which lost a number of districts at the state primaries, has stirred up real consternation.

There is some evidence from the talk among insurgents that the whole matter was carefully planned and that the districts were picked where the machine candidates could most easily be defeated.

The victory of Representative Arthur L. Nason of Haverhill, who captured most of the delegates in the fourth Essex senatorial convention against the opposition of Louis Wardwell was supplemented by a significant victory in the western part of the state, where Colonel A. P. Langtry, turned down by the machine in his aspirations to be state treasurer, won the nomination for the house in the Springfield district.

Thomas Pattison of Barnstable, a close friend of Mr. Wardwell and a prominent machine republican, was defeated in the southeastern part of the state in the cape district senatorial fight.

Weeks' Defeat Important

Around Boston the most significant thing was the defeat of Representative Wm. E. Weeks, defeated by James Cavanagh for the house. The prominence of Weeks in the house as a leader among the machine forces, and particularly among the special conservatives, makes his defeat of extreme importance.

The fourth Essex fight, however, promises to create widespread attention. Nason has declared that Wardwell cannot be returned to the republican state committee and he has attacked Wardwell for his prominence in the handling of big corporation matters on Beacon Hill.

Now, however, no candidate has appeared as a candidate for the state committee against Wardwell. Unless a candidate can be found before the convention Wardwell will be re-elected from force of circumstances. It was said yesterday that already tremendous pressure had been brought to bear upon the Nason forces to permit the election of Wardwell to the state committee without opposition, with the guarantee that as long as Nason wishes to go to the senate he will have no opposition from Wardwell.

But Nason is said not to have entertained the idea. He won after a bitter struggle, in which every artifice was used to defeat him. He talked direct nominations and income tax and made his fight upon that platform.

Wardwell is the man who will be depended upon in the legislature next year to defeat the income tax amendment now pending for acceptance. No matter whether the state convention adopts a plank or not, the effort will still be made to defeat it.

Ex-Speaker John N. Cole has said that he will in any event offer to the state convention a plank favoring the income tax. Chairman John L. Bates of the committee on resolutions is on record in favor of the income tax.

Dorman Hard Hit

The primaries strengthen the income tax. Everywhere where a man had come out flatly for the tax he was nominated. William E. Dorman of Lynn, who was defeated, has declared in favor of the tax, but he had not said whether or not he would vote for it.

Dorman's defeat was a heavy blow. He had been promised the chairmanship of the committee on judiciary next year and by reason of having held that position he would have been in line for the speakership of the house.

POLICE PAY ROLL

Was Approved by Committee on Accounts Today

Alderman Turner Acts on Advice of City Solicitor, but Protests That Lieut. Brosnan Should be Made Superintendent

The police board is happy and so is Superintendent, or rather Acting Superintendent, Lieut. James Brosnan, for this morning the police pay roll was approved, granting his salary as acting superintendent by the three members of the committee on accounts, although Chairman Turner of the committee on accounts gave out an interview in which he says that he is still of the opinion that there is no such a position as "acting superintendent of police." The action of the committee on accounts in approving the pay roll was taken on account of a verbal opinion from City Solicitor Duncan to the effect that the board of police, so long as the money is available, had a right to create the office of acting superintendent or any other office within the scope of their duty.

Then to add to the interest of these things, the city auditor has received communications from the clerk of the police board to the effect that the lieutenant had been duly elected acting superintendent of police, and that his salary had been fixed at $2000 per year. The mayor instructs the city auditor that no one member of the committee on accounts has authority to change any pay roll submitted by the heads of any of the departments.

Alderman Turner, speaking of the matter said:

"In accordance with the city solicitor's opinion that the board of police has power to create any position, so long as the board has the money to pay the salary, I have signed the pay roll but I do so under protest. I believe the board of police should elect James Brosnan superintendent of police, and not continue him as 'acting superintendent', from which position he may be removed at will. Lieut. Brosnan is a capable officer, in my opinion, and is entitled to the position of permanent superintendent of police.

"The rules of the department under which officers have been appointed, promoted and discharged do not provide for any such halfway office."

GRAND CIRCUIT

Two Favorites Met With Defeat

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 23.—Copa De Oro's pacing to a season's race record and the overthrow of two pronounced first choices made lively the third afternoon of Grand Circuit racing here. Copa De Oro lost the race, however, to Aileen Wilson after pacing the opening heat of the free-for-all in 2.02.

In the first heat Aileen Wilson and Hedgewood Boy led to the half in 59½. The three-quarters was passed in 1:30. Hedgewood Boy drew way in the stretch while Copa De Oro closed up and won the heat from Aileen Wilson.

The next two heats, both in slower time, went to Aileen Wilson. The Eel was favorite for this race, but could not do better than third.

Czarvena, first choice for the trotting division of the three-year-old Kentucky stock farm futurity, was the second of the day's favorites to lose. The race went to Baroness Virginia, world's champion for fillies for her age on a half mile track. She is owned by S. J. Fleming and son of Terre Haute, Ind. Czarvena finished third.

Maggie Winder, world's champion pacing three-year-old filly, did not have to go near her record of 2.06½ to win the pacing division of the Kentucky Stock farm futurity. She was always the leader. Sonoma Girl took the free-for-all trot just as easily.

FAMILY MURDERED

Motive of the Crime Evidently Was Robbery

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Sept. 23.—An entire family of six persons was murdered and the bodies of all but one of the victims were burned with their home at Murley, Buchanan county, Va., early yesterday. The motive was evidently robbery, for the owner of the house, an aged woman known as "Aunt Betty" Justis, was generally supposed to keep a large sum of money about the place. Mrs. Justis, her son-in-law, George Meadows, his wife and their three children were the victims.

DIED OF LOCKJAW

Not Known How Boy Contracted Disease

BOSTON, Sept. 23—Allard W. Lunt, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy T. Lunt of Gardiner, Me., died at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Morrell, 16 Pearson avenue, Somerville Highlands, yesterday from tetanus. He had been ill since last Friday, when he was forced to leave the Brown school, where he was a pupil in the second grade.

The little fellow came from Gardiner early in the month to attend school and his parents arrived last Monday. From what source he contracted the disease the attending physician was unable to state.

WAGE INCREASE

Asked by the Lewiston Loom Fixers

LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 23.—The members of the loomfixers' union of this city have made a request of the mill agents for an increase of 10 per cent in their wages in accordance with a vote taken at a recent meeting of the union.

They say that the steadily increasing cost of living makes the increase necessary to enable them to pay their bills. The agents have as yet taken no action in regard to the request and are not prepared to indicate what will probably be done about it.

MANY SENTENCES

Imposed in Superior Court at Lawrence

LAWRENCE, Sept. 23.—In superior court yesterday Tony Angelo was convicted of assault with a dangerous weapon on Chestro Murellani in Haverhill and sentenced to 18 months in the house of correction. A verdict of guilty of receiving was returned by the jury in the case of Michael J. Finnerty of Amesbury. He was found not guilty of larceny, with William J. Cook, of money from the latter's father.

For breaking and entering a garage in Danvers Albert F. Swan was sentenced to five years and one month in Concord reformatory. It was stated that he stripped an automobile of trimmings.

May Wilson was sentenced to Sherborn on the charge of larceny of money from Frank A. Walton of Newburyport. The cases of John McFee and Fred Hines, who admitted their guilt of receiving, were continued. Hines was a hotel clerk and the money was taken from Walton in the hotel where he engaged a room.

Philip Bromfield, indicted for receiving in connection with the alleged wholesale larceny of copper and brass from the Thomson-Houston electric company of Lynn, and also for conspiracy, furnished bonds in $500 on the latter charge. John Mahan and Lena Rouse of Haverhill, charged with a statutory offence, were placed on probation.

Napoleon Kelley and James Zincavich charged with breaking and entering in Lawrence, were placed on probation. Joseph Plouff was acquitted of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felonious assault in Newburyport. Charles A. McArthur was found not guilty of breaking and entering a freight car in Rowley.

STRUCK BY WHALE

Fisherman Hurled 100 Feet by Blow

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 23.—Struck by the tail of a gigantic whale which smashed his dory to kindling and threw him almost 100 feet away into the icy sea, Chief Mate Olaf Wick of the codfish schooner Vega brings a thrilling story of his escape from death in the far north.

The Vega, in command of Capt. Peter Nelson, was lying at anchor in Bering sea and the chief mate was alone in his dory one calm morning last month, fishing apart from the rest of the crew. A monster whale had been observed by the men earlier in the day.

"Suddenly I felt something under the boat," said the mate in telling the tale. "I thought I had struck a rock and threw the windlass overboard so she would not sink the boat. Hardly was it over the side, when I was lifted high in the air as the whale dove and struck the boat with his tail. I went up as though a mine had exploded beneath my feet.

"I lost consciousness for a time, I think, for I remember the shock of striking the cold water, which seemed to clear my head and caused me to strike out with arms and legs to keep afloat."

The mate swam back to the dory, which still held a few bottom boards, and was picked up. None of Wick's bones were broken by the mishap, but his body was a mass of bruises and he was so lame he could hardly move for a couple of days.

TANNERY HEARING

Friends of the Tannery Likely to Pack the Hearing Room—Those Opposed Should Turn Out and Voice Their Objections

A public hearing on the tannery nuisance in Howe street will be given by the board of health in the public hearing room at the city hall tonight. The hour set for the opening of the hearing is 8 o'clock and everybody interested in the abatement of the nuisance should attend.

It is rumored that the tannery people may attempt to pack the meeting with their employes and others, who, for the time being, will give voice to the belief that the nauseating odors emitted from the hide-pack in Howe street is good for one's health; that it is a splendid thing to breathe liberally of for the expansion of the lungs and that delicate persons have been known to become healthy under its curative powers.

They may endeavor to make it appear that the value of property in that vicinity has been enhanced by the presence of these health giving, life producing odors and that English sparrows making their nests within the shadow of the hide vault have developed into pigeons or birds of great dimensions.

They may tell you that after a certain season the odor of the hides in the process of tanning becomes sweeter to the nostril than the perfume of the damask rose and that Howe's odors is not a fit wash for the feet of him who breathes the refreshing blood purifying, lung expanding atmosphere of Howe street; and of course you will believe every word they say—nit.

It was stated today that persons representing the American Hide and Leather company have been circulating petitions and that many signatures to a statement to the effect that the odors in Howe street are not obnoxious, malodorous or unhealthful have been corraled. These signatures in the main, no doubt, will be those of the company's employes and persons in some way affiliated with the company.

The American Hide and Leather company will have its lawyers on hand this evening and they, no doubt, will be rich in legal display and flowery language, but were their tongues scented with the perfume of the cedar and their breath laden with the sweetness of the rose, yet the stench from Howe street would remain the same. The tannery cannot, like the leopard, change its spots.

Report had it that Boston lawyers representing the American Hide and Leather company had called at the mayor's office yesterday and had remained there for some considerable time. Asked this forenoon if he had anything to offer relative to the hearing on the tannery nuisance, the mayor replied: "I have nothing to do with that. The board of health has all to do with the hearing."

BOXING GOSSIP.

The story, which sounds very much like the bunk stuff, has percolated to this town from the wilds of New York to the effect that little Willus Britt, manager of Stan Ketchel, is the man responsible for the calling off of the fight with his "assassin" and the tar baby, Sam Langford. The dope reads thus: Britt is afraid to stack Stan against such a man as Langford but sees no way of getting out of it without incurring the roasting of fight fans the country over. So he hikes to New York and prepares for the fight, but secretly runs up to Albany and puts a flea in Gov. Hughes' ear that there is going to be a real naughty prize fight pulled off in the environs of staid old New York, of which he is the "man" [illegible] victim, and won't the governor please have it stopped? Now Britt heard about these accusations and denied them indignantly, announcing at the same time that his man was ready to meet Langford at any time and place, but did you notice that he took the mountaineer and kept it away from New York Friday night for the coast, where there are no husky, broad-shouldered colored men with flat noses and wicked punches to disturb their sweet dreams of easy coin? [illegible]

They're calling Ketchel "Mardo" now. Probably because of his "kick."

Haven't heard a peep from Jeffries or Berger in weeks. Guess the "big fellow's" press agent has quit him or gone on a prolonged bat. But what's a little thing like the heavyweight championship of the world compared with the all-absorbing question of who discovered the North pole?

BRENNAN CASE

CONTINUED PENDING DECISION IN POLICE BOARD CASE

Fisher H. Pearson appeared before the board of police last night and asked that the case against T. F. Brennan & Co., which was scheduled for hearing last night, be continued until after the court gave its decision in the police board case. Mr. Brennan is one of the several liquor dealers, who it is alleged, violated the conditions of his license.

BROTHERS FINED

Were Accused of Resisting Arrest

BANGOR, Me., Sept 23—For resisting arrest and assaulting Sturgis deputies, Martin and Frank Cox were held by Judge Harding of the police court under $1000 bonds for the supreme court under a hearing yesterday morning. They were also held on a charge of search and seizure and fined $1000 and costs or 60 days in jail. They appealed in both cases and gave bonds.

From the evidence of the deputies it appears that they raided the place kept by the Cox brothers on Pickering square last night. Entering in front the deputies produced a warrant, at the same time endeavoring to prevent Frank Cox from reaching an electric button which connected with a bell in the rear room. Cox put up a fight which brought Martin Cox to the scene and there was a mixup which resulted in the brothers being taken to the police station in irons followed by a large crowd which threatened trouble until a squad of police was sent to the scene.

GOV. JOHNSON'S BODY

Escorted to the Train by Military Guard

ST. PAUL, Sept. 23.—The body of John A. Johnson, late governor of Minnesota, was escorted from the rotunda of the state capitol today with military pomp to the train which carried it to St. Peter, Minn., its last resting place. The pall bearers carried the casket to the hearse through the double line of honorary pall bearers. A volunteer band of 100 pieces sounded the funeral march and ten companies of state militia and three bodies of artillery and representative bodies of Masons' civic organizations and lastly a large following of citizens. Arriving at the Union station the casket was placed in the baggage car of a special train. The private car of Vice President P. T. Clark of the Omaha road was reserved for Mrs. Johnson, Mr. Fred W. Johnson, a brother, and several intimate friends. A car was reserved for the pall bearers, the governor's staff and those immediately known as the official family. The rest of the train was thrown open for the accommodation of the public and a large number went along to St. Peter. The funeral train was due to arrive in St. Peter at 12.15 p. m. The body was then to be taken to the Presbyterian church where the deceased once was a member of the choir. The funeral service will begin at 2 o'clock after the citizens of St. Peter have been given a last look on the face of their former fellow townsman. The interment will be in Greenhill cemetery beside the bodies of Gov. Johnson's father and mother.

If You Have Rheumatism Let Me Send You a 50 Cent Box of My Remedy Free.

I Will Mail FREE To Anyone Suffering From Rheumatism, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica (Who Will Enclose This Advertisement)

Deformity in Chronic Rheumatism.

A 50 Cent Box of my Rheumatism Remedy Free.

My remedy has actually cured men and women seventy and eighty years of age—some were so decrepit that they could not even dress themselves. To introduce this great remedy I intend to give fifty thousand 50 cent boxes away, and every suffering reader of this paper is courteously invited to write for one. No money is asked for this 50 cent box neither now nor later, and if afterwards more is wanted I will furnish it to sufferers at a low cost. I found this remedy by a fortunate chance while an invalid from rheumatism, and since it cured me it has been a blessing to thousands of other persons. Don't be sceptical, remember the first 50 cent box is absolutely free. This is an internal remedy which goes after the cause of the trouble, and when the cause of rheumatism is removed, have no fear of deformities. Rheumatism in time will affect the heart, so do not trifle with this merciless affliction. Address, enclosing this adv., JOHN A. SMITH, 3426 Smith Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffered terribly from female ills, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman."

EMMA DRAPER.

Another Operation Avoided.

Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."—Mrs. ALVENA SPERLING, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

AFTER 22 YEARS

Girl Finds Father She Thought Was Dead

WATERVILLE, Me., Sept. 23.—Mrs. Annie Vigue, wife of David Vigue, Jr., of this city, has found her father after a separation of 22 years, the greater part of which she thought him dead.

Mrs. Vigue is the daughter of Thos Grondin, a farmer living near Rumford Falls. She was born in Quebec and her mother died when she was 11 months old. Annie went to the home of her grandmother at Orford, P. Q., where she remained four years, when the grandmother died and the little girl was taken by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Archelas Loubier, and brought to this city, where she has since made her home, being known here as Annie Loubier until her marriage two years ago.

Thomas Grondin, Mrs. Vigue's father, left Canada shortly after the death of his wife and came to Maine, where he stayed seven years. Returning to his native town he could not discover any trace of his daughter, although he spent several months inquiring among friends in the neighborhood. Later he came back to Maine and settled near Rumford Falls.

Three years ago a young man named Fred Roberge, who was employed as brakeman on the Maine Central railroad and lived with the Loubiers, was in Rumford Falls and with a friend went to the farm of Grondin's. While there Mr. Grondin became convinced that the Loubier family were relatives of his wife and he asked Roberge many questions regarding them. Roberge told him there was a young woman there who was in some way related to the Loubiers, and the girl's father was much impressed with the story.

Some time afterward he addressed a letter to his daughter in her maiden name, but it did not reach her. When Roberge returned to Waterville he told Mrs. Vigue of his experience in Rumford and she too wrote a letter, addressing it to Thomas Grondin, Rumford, Me. It did not reach her father, due mainly to the fact that her father had been known for years as Thomas Gordon, and few knew that his name was Grondin.

Finally, however, through Roberge, communication was established and after several letters between father and daughter both became convinced of the relationship. Mrs. Vigue paid a visit to Rumford and stayed several days, finding her father in comfortable circumstances and anxious to have her remain with him to comfort him in his declining years. Mr. Vigue, however, holds a responsible position in the local cotton mills and prefers to stay in Waterville, so it is quite probable that the father will dispose of his property at Rumford and live with his new found child in this city.

Mrs. Vigue returned from the visit to her father this week and is pleased to learn that her father is alive and well. She said: "I am very happy to know that my father is alive. I had often wondered about him and thought that if he were not dead I would like to see him. As I had never known my parents to remember them, I did not miss them so much as if I had known them, and then my uncle and aunt have been so kind to me that I did not get a chance to feel that I was without parents. They have been father and mother to me and their home has been my home and I have been happy in it."

FATHER AND SON

In the Same Class in U. of M.

COLUMBUS, Mo., Sept. 23.—For the first time in the history of the University of Missouri, or perhaps of any university, a father and son are candidates for the same degree, and will stand in the same class this year and be awarded a diploma and the degree of bachelor of science in agriculture. They are E. E. Vanatta of Vandalia, Mo., 45 years old, and son, Earl S. Vanatta, 22 years old. Both are seniors in the school of agriculture, and both have taken the full course, except that the father will have finished it in three years and the son in four.

When Earl S. Vanatta entered the school of agriculture four years ago as a freshman, he did not dream that his letters home would prove so interesting that his father would be induced to sell his farm, move to Columbia and enter for the same course, but that is what happened. His father sold his farm near Vandalia, came to Columbia, and in three years has overtaken his son, less than half his age, and will receive his degree in the same class. He has done more, for his excellent work has made him eligible to the Alpha Zeta, the leading honorary fraternity of his department, which his son was not able to make, although he is a member of an honorary fraternity himself, the standard of which is not so high.

Vanatta Senior, as the students call him to distinguish him from his son, was a student in the University of Missouri in 1883-4, but did not get to finish his course because he fell in love with and married a girl in Stephens college. Both quit school and bought a farm at Vandalia, Mo. When their son Earl had finished High school they sent him to Columbia to take the agricultural course. Earl's letters proved too great a temptation, so they sold their farm, moved to Columbia, and university students experienced the sensation of having a father and son both students of the university.

Mr. Vanatta has always taken part in student activities and holds several offices in the class organizations. He is popular with the students and takes work in the gymnasium as well as the 18-year-olds. He jumps, wrestles and takes cross-country runs with the best of them. His popularity is largely due to the fact that he built a large clubhouse for the students in his department. It is known as the "farm house" and is conducted on the co-operative plan by the students in his department, much cheaper than they could board at private houses. The house cost $8,000, and he rents it to the students cheaply. He and his wife and son also live at the house.

IT SAVES TO PAY CASH

IT SAVES TO PAY CASH

HAS TO BORROW

In Order to Pay for Postage Stamps

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—For the last six years the district government has been compelled to borrow each month from Z. D. Franzoni, proprietor of Gilman's drug store, at 627 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, all the money that is needed to pay the postage on official mail sent out by the various branches of the municipal government.

This fact was disclosed by a report filed by Property Clerk M. C. Hargrove. It appears that the district government has been forced to borrow from Mr. Franzoni about $700 each month.

"This state of affairs," said Mr. Hargrove, "is due to the law forbidding paying for any kind of supplies until they are delivered. On the other hand, the federal government, through the post office department will not sell postage stamps to the district government or any one else until the cash is paid. To get around this we have been compelled to borrow the money from a private citizen of the district with which to buy our postage stamps and he waits until the stamps have been delivered and the district pays for them, then I turn the amount borrowed over to him."

When this law was put in effect about six years ago, congress allowed an appropriation of $6000 for postage stamps. Since then it has been increased to about $8500, but each year it is specified that the stamps must be delivered to the property clerk before the money is paid, and it, therefore, is necessary to borrow the money.

FOOTBALL LEAGUE

FINAL MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS HELD

The directors of the Massachusetts Football league held their final meeting before the opening of the season last night at the Adams house in Boston. The principal business of the evening was the election of a board of directors which resulted as follows: Stanley B. Boyd of Waltham; J. J. Dorherty of Haverhill, C. R. Donnell of Norwood, J. J. Riley of Boston and W. J. King of Lowell.

The league will be made up of five teams, Boston, Norwood, Waltham, Haverhill and Lowell. The season will open in Lowell Oct. 2, with Boston as the attraction.

The Y. M. C. I. team, which was scored on but once during the past two seasons, will represent Lowell, while their old rivals, the St. Alphonsus A. A., will represent Boston. The Lowell team will be in all probability selected from the following: Kirane, Kempton, Al Cooney, Pearson, McOsker, Fossett, Gherardine of Boston, Moore of Revere, Richest of Everett, McGinnis of Revere, R. Jewett, V. Jewett, J. O'Connor, King, McFilone, Stevens, Rourke, and it is quite possible that Archibald, the old Andover star, will be seen in the Lowell lineup.

Acting Manager King of the Lowell team would like to meet all players and also all candidates who wish to try for the team at the Y. M. C. I. rooms, Friday night at 8 o'clock.

SURPRISE PARTY

Miss Mary Ready Presented Bracelet

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ready, 32 Court street, was the scene Tuesday evening of an enjoyable surprise party, when a number of young friends assembled and presented their daughter, Miss Mary, with a beautiful gold bracelet. Mr. James Fury delivered the presentation address. Although completely surprised, the hostess found fitting words to express her gratitude to the assemblage.

Following the presentation an entertainment was given. It included vocal solos by William Ward, Ayer City's favorite tenor; piano solos and selections, Miss Ruth Constantineau, Miss Helen Dugdale, Miss Mary Ready, Miss Anastasia McNamara and Mr. Peter Dunkert; solos, Misses Agnes Roper and Anastasia McNamara, Lawrence Rogers, the talented coon shouter, and little Frank Ready. Fred Taylor delighted the party with a whistling solo. The Manhattan quartet, composed of Messrs. William and Dennis Ward, Joseph Ready and Frank Doherty, favored with several selections, and made a decided hit. Last but not least on the program was Bernard Jordin, the popular humorist, and he delighted all with his witty sayings. Refreshments were served.

The Supremacy of

STEIN-BLOCH SMART CLOTHES

This week the D. S. O'Brien Co., makes its opening demonstration of STEIN-BLOCH Clothes for Fall and Winter.

Though known to Lowell dressers only a comparatively short time, STEIN-BLOCH Smart Clothes are already acknowledged by those who know, as the standard of men's fashions in Lowell—as they've been for many years in the rest of the country.

STEIN-BLOCH supremacy isn't confined alone to this country. They've been introduced to London wearers, (in open competition with the best makers in this country) by Selfridge, the American merchant.

There's no monopoly of excellence in clothes making as in any other endeavor. Some clothes are noted for their honesty—and lack of style. Others have an overplus of style, at the expense of good taste. For all round clothes excellence, original styling and high class tailoring, our judgment goes out to Stein-Bloch.

That's why we offer them to you.

In addition to our regular lines of suits and overcoats, we show this week many special models and fabrics of exclusive character, and of higher cost than we are warranted in carrying regularly.

These models represent the "last word" in correct and fashionable apparel for men of all ages and for all occasions of business or dress.

We'd like you to see them—to try them on—to compare them with the clothes you've been buying—for your own sake, and ours.

We'll not urge buying—we'll let the clothes tell their own story.

Do you care to listen?

"SMARTNESS," the Stein Bloch booklet, will be sent to any address, on application, or can be had for the asking. If you want to dress correctly, "SMARTNESS" will tell you how.

IN BANKRUPTCY

PETITION FILED BY WELL KNOWN LUMBERMAN

DOVER, Me., Sept. 23.—W. L. Rogers, a well known Greenville lumberman, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, the papers being in the hands of Hon. John F. Sprague of Monson, referee in bankruptcy for this district. The liabilities are given as $39,271.34, while the total assets are given as $29,438.

The principal creditors are T. R. Savage & Co., Bangor; D. T. Sanders & Co., Greenville, Thaxter & Co., Bangor; Lawrence Bros. & Co., South Gardiner. The first meeting of the creditors will be held before Referee Sprague in Dover, Sept. 30. The filing of the petition was a surprise in business circles in this section.

REFORM CLUB MEETING

The regular meeting of the Lowell Reform club was held Tuesday night in its quarters in the Central Savings bank building. The attendance of members was large and much business was transacted during the evening.

Great interest was displayed in the club's plan of campaign for the fall and winter as mapped out by Chairman Bowers of the lecture committee.

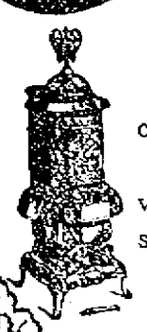

The first public meeting to be held will take place at the club's quarters on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19. The speaker on that occasion will be announced later.

President E. M. Bowers of the L. R. C. corporation spoke encouragingly of the club's future plans, and urged every member to do his share of the work. A musical and literary program was then given and was well carried out, the Glee club giving some especially fine selections.

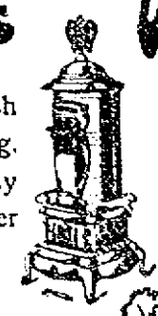

Rehearsals are now going on for the winter meetings.

PRIMARIES SLIMLY ATTENDED.

The primaries held Tuesday evening were remarkable for the lack of interest shown. Were it not for a few contests that brought out the friends of the candidates the so-called primary elections would have been characterized by the solemnity of a funeral attended only by the bearers. We shall never reform our government either in city or state until the voters turn out in full numbers to the primaries, and not only that but see beforehand that good men are put up as candidates.

WHERE VIGILANCE PROVES EXPENSIVE.

Through the zealous work of the assessors we understand that a very large number of polls have been assessed in certain wards from which collection of a poll tax is practically impossible. But the state will have to get a dollar a head for them just the same. Thus the vigilance of the assessors unless backed up by equal vigilance by the constables who collect poll taxes will prove expensive to the city. It would be well, in view of this fact, to let these people understand once for all that they must pay their poll taxes.

AWAITING THE FINAL DOOM.

The scene at Duxbury, Mass., where a lot of people have assembled to witness the end of the world and final doom is one that is fully as absurd and ridiculous as any that could be witnessed among the most savage tribe to be found in any part of the world. Yet these people are accounted intelligent; they are undoubtedly able to read and write, but somehow they have caught up the delusion put forward by some crank and being convinced that the end of the world is really at hand, they have abandoned their homes and their occupations so as to be ready to depart in peace. They may be somewhat disillusioned after Friday, but people who can be worked up to believe such nonsense cannot be expected to show sane judgment at any time.

AS TO A COLLEGE EDUCATION.

The question is being discussed as to whether it is advisable for a boy to take a college education unless he intends to enter one of the professions. We believe it is a great mistake to spend three or four years in taking a college course unless there be some fixed plan for utilizing the education thus attained after that course is finished.

We have a great many college graduates in this country who are unable to earn a living simply because they spent the years during which they should have mastered some business, in getting a general education. Had they learned the trade of a carpenter and builder, blacksmith, architect, electrician or engineer during the time they spent in college, they would have no difficulty in earning a livelihood afterwards.

A general education will not enable a man to make a living except perhaps when he gets an opportunity to teach school. Technical training in any remunerative business will pay the young man much better than a college education. Therefore, we should say that a young man who does not intend to become a doctor, a lawyer, a teacher, a clergyman or journalist had better learn some trade after he leaves the high school instead of going to college. With a high school education he should be competent to make progress in any business he enters provided he shows the necessary tact and enterprise.

DIFFICULTY IN LOCATING THE POLE.

Both Dr. Cook and Commander Peary will now endeavor to demonstrate that they each visited the North pole. It will require more than the picture of a snow mound in the center of a dreary waste of ice and snow to do this. At the time that Dr. Cook said he visited the pole, April 21, 1908, the sun should be about 12 degrees above the horizon. That being the case he could not see the polar star. If a person looked from the shaft of a deep mine in daylight he could see the stars in the sky, but Dr. Cook did not have that opportunity in the polar regions.

It is easy before reaching the pole to measure the latitude and longitude but in the vicinity of the pole it is quite difficult to make astronomical observations that will indicate the precise point.

Dr. Cook may have satisfied himself that he reached the precise point of the earth's axis and so may have Commander Peary, and yet there may have been five, ten or even twenty miles between the points which they respectively selected as the pole.

A great deal depends upon the observations taken as to the altitude of the sun with a record of the temperature and the barometric pressure as variations are made as a result of these influences. The altitudes would have to be worked out and the location of the pole decided upon by averaging the observations pointing to the pole. The result might then even after the greatest care, be slightly inaccurate. It is fair to presume, therefore, that both the Arctic explorers may be justified in their contention as each may have reached what he decided to be the actual pole as a result of his observations.

The time will come when the pole will be marked in such a way that its location can no longer be doubted. Dr. Cook and Commander Peary assert that the pole is covered with ice which is continually shifting. We predict that the next Arctic expedition will locate the precise pole and it may be some distance from the locations fixed by Dr. Cook and Commander Peary. When, in addition to present appliances, the flying machine and wireless telegraphy are brought into requisition in locating the pole, we may expect that it will be located correctly and permanently marked so far as that is possible. The contradictory stories told by Cook and Peary will cause scientists to doubt both authorities and to look for accurate results to some future traveler to the pole.

SEEN AND HEARD

Persons who have been in the habit of hitching their horses to the stone posts in Merrimack street will miss them when they're gone and they are fast disappearing. The new paving is doing away with the stone posts and it is better thus. Hitching posts in business streets are not the proper caper in these days.

If a fellow is married and has the price it ought to do his old heart good to step in and buy one of those $5 silk petticoats marked down to $2.98—for his wife of course.

Wonder if Mrs. Cook or Mrs. Peary will dare to say to Dr. Cook or Mr. Peary: "How long were you, dearie, without having a bath?" No, neither explorer will take one now, whether they need it or not.

It has been proven that an Eskimo will follow a good cook to the North pole.

The editor of a western paper says there's no such thing as another fellow's girl; that a girl is not another fellow's girl till she's another fellow's wife. How about that?

A gentleman of an inquiring turn of mind recently accosted a Rossendale mill lad with the query:

"What time do you get up in a morning?"

"I get up at a quarter past five, an' has a bit o' breakfast."

"Anyone else get up?"

"Oh, aye, mi mother gets up an' maks tay, an' puts my fayther's breakfast up, an' then hoo gets mi dad's ready for 7 o'clock."

"And your dinner?"

"Oh, aye; mother gets that ready, too, and then hoo gets fayther's, as he comes later'n me."

"And then, I suppose your mother has the afternoon to herself?"

"Oh, nowt; hoo cleans up an' looks after t' childer; an' then hoo gets t' tay ready an' weshes up, an' puts t' childer to bed."

"Then she'll have a quiet rest?"

"Well, hoo nobbler sews buttons on an' mends stockin's an' suchlike."

The inquirer paused, and then continued:

"What wages do you get, my boy?"

"I get ten bob a week."

"And your father?"

"Thirty-five bob."

"And your mother?"

"My mother!" said the lad in surprise; "my mother gets no wages; hoo doesn't work!"—Cotton Factory Times.

Here's a one minute sermon by the "old man" in the Manchester Union:

The more one does for some men, the more ungrateful they are. Especially is this true with the hog species of the human race. And if the hog is ignorant and unintelligent, it is all the worse. He can't see further than the end of his nose, and he cares only for himself. He would sacrifice his friends for the whispered calumny of a street corner loafer. He is deaf to his own shortcomings and he bulls through life regardless of the feelings of even the friend who would do him a favor. When driven to the wall, he is more or less of a coward, and his whimperings are amusing. When he sees a way out of the corner, he is like the bovine into which the matador has struck one of his darts. These kind of men are seen in every community. They are quick to give the lie and will throw mud at the first opportunity. Yet, when these sort of people sometimes find that they cannot have their own way, they wonder at it. They think they are hardly treated. They think everybody is against them, when only their own lack of tact is to blame. When any man ceases to be a gentleman, he ceases to have claims upon the consideration of decent men. And he will squeal and squirm, and raise his hackles and protest, until Grim Death steps in and settles the matter by picking the hog up by the bristles and lugging him off.

We might add that it is wonderful how many hogs think they are gentlemen and have all kinds of contempt for other hogs no worse than themselves.

A PRAYER TO AZRAEL

Because thy face is more compassionate
Than God's own angel Pity, he who stands
Above the world with healing in his hands,
Early and late,
Therefore I dare to ask a little thing.
Thou unto whom no man is small or great,
The [illegible] beggar, the annointed king
Of one estate,
Yet, who hast often, often on thy breast
Feeling thy sombre arms about them close
As twilight folds a rose.
So, even I this little prayer dare bring
Unto thy pitying.

I pray thee find me not my hour to go
Closed within any dwelling men have hand
Those four poor walls where I may crouch afraid
As from a foe;
But seek me on my hills, my hills whereon
The free winds drift and blow,
Between the green and gold of earth and sun.
Ah, find me so!
I would not quite forget in some new birth
The joy of this my earth,
Nor lose what time I look on Paradise,
The vision in my eyes
Of green boughs swaying in a singing wind,
Oh, Azrael, be kind!

Theodosia Garrison, in Ainslee's.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

George Bernard Shaw's Wexford ancestry has been divulged, for only an Irish playwright can be "produced" at the Abbey theatre in Dublin. Mr. Shaw's mother was Elizabeth, daughter of Walter Bagenal Gurly of Wexford, whose sister Hannah became a nun at Maryborough in 1824, and founded the Presentation convent at Stradbally, Queen's county, in 1860, dying there 12 years later. His mother's grandfather was Joshua Tench of Wexford, one of the "rebels" or "patriots" of '98. But on his father's side Mr. Shaw comes of Protestant stock. In some autobiographical passages he penned ten years ago Mr. Shaw has characteristic things to say of this side of his family. "My father" (he wrote) "was an Irish Protestant gentleman. He had no money, no education, no profession, no manual skill, no qualification for any definite social function. I was christened by my uncle; but as my godfather was intoxicated and did not turn up, the sexton was ordered to vow and to promise in his place, precisely as my uncle might have ordered him to put more coals on the vestry fire. Protestantism in Ireland is not a religion; it is side in political faction, a class prejudice, a conviction that Roman Catholics are socially inferior persons. What helped to make this 'church' a hotbed of all the social vices was that no working folk ever came to it. I cannot say that in Ireland every man is the worse for what he calls his religion. I can only say that all I knew were."

Mrs. Isaac L. Rice of New York was chosen at the recent conference in London of the International society for the Suppression of Street Noises to have charge of the second congress of the society, which is to be held in New York in 1912. The first congress is to meet in Berlin in June, 1910.

Two new young men begin work at Brown this fall in positions intermediate between students and faculty. They are C. E. Silcox, the secretary of the Brown Christian association, and Paul Matteson, the secretary of the Brown Union. Each man will give his entire time to this work, and the social and religious interest of the university will certainly not be neglected. Mr. Silcox graduated last year from the University of Toronto, where as president of the association he did an effective work. Mr. Matteson, the son of ex-Chief Justice Matteson of the Rhode Island supreme court, graduated from Brown, three years ago, and has spent the last year with Dr. Grenfell in Labrador.

Rev. Dr. Ira Landrith of Nashville has resigned from the secretaryship of the Presbyterian Brotherhood, and is succeeded by Henry E. Rosevear.

The Hon. Mrs. Assheton Harbord of England maintains that ballooning is not only less dangerous, but also far less expensive than motoring. She was once caught in an electric storm while crossing the English channel in a balloon, and on another occasion was obliged to make a descent at such speed that the members of her ballooning party entered Holland on their heads. In neither instance did Mrs. Harbord or any of her party experience anything worse than a severe shaking up.

Rev. Percy Martin of Muswell Hill, London, Eng., has accepted a call from the Congregational church at Williamstown to become its pastor. Mr. Martin will go to Williamstown about Nov. 1. He preached there through July last, exchanging pulpits with Rev. F. T. Clayton, the former pastor of the church, who went abroad.

The famous "simple life colony," known as "Monte Verita," at Locarno, in Switzerland has gone bankrupt and the plant is for sale. The colony, which was started about half a dozen years ago by a German named Hofmann, prospered greatly for a while. Persons of high degree flocked thither from Germany, Austria and Italy, to live on fruits and vegetables. Duchesses and countesses clothed themselves in a kind of white sack and went about with bare feet and flowing hair. They even sold their jewels and gave the proceeds to the colony. But the charms of simplicity seem to have palled upon the devotees and they have gone back to the pomps and vanities of the world.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The reputation of Mr. Louis Mann as a master of refined comedy attracted a large and intelligent audience to the Opera House last evening and those who anticipated an artistic piece of acting were not disappointed. Mr. Mann appeared in the leading role of "The Man Who Stood Still," a comedy in four acts by Jules Eckert Goodman. This play is a rare admixture of comedy, business and love tangles that offer every variety of heart interest and a fine opportunity for the leading characters to display their ability not only in the comical situations but in the serious moods in which lovers are disappointed, business hopes are dashed, rivals are brought in conflict and fortunes disappear.

The story of the play revolves about a cynical character named John Krauss, a German watchmaker, whose hatred of progressive methods of business suggest Nature's terror of a vacuum. Old Krauss had a daughter "Marie" and a business friend named Edward Spiegel. It naturally occurred to the old man that it would be a nice thing to have Marie marry Spiegel's son. Krauss had a business rival, however, named Martin MacFerguson, and this rival had a son who made love to Marie and who by deception finally induced her to elope with him. Then by going through the formality of a mock marriage, he persuaded her to believe they were man and wife. Marie's father was determined never to forgive his daughter, but as the years passed and business reverses tempered his rage, he finally was led to forgive her for the manner in which she had betrayed his confidence at a time when he was arranging a match between her and young Spiegel who actually loved her.

The cast of characters is as follows: John Krauss, Mr. Mann; Marie Krauss, his daughter, Miss Emily Ann Wellman; Katrina Krauss, his sister, Madame Mathilde Cottrelly; Edward Spiegel, Louis Hendricks; Fred Spiegel, Alice Spiegel, his children, Leslie Bassett and Miss Lillian Sinnot; Martin MacFerguson, Edwin Maynard; Frank MacFerguson, his son, H. A. La Motte; Joseph Abrams, John Charles; a crossing sweeper, Frank Julian; the baby, Seawillow Johnson.

Mr. Mann's portrayal of the character of Krauss done in the German dialect with copious gestures and realistic dramatic action was a rare piece of acting. Every incident was made the vehicle for showing the actor's ability to portray the emotions of the heart and to touch the hearts of his audience by his pathos, to move to laughter by his humor, and with all these was a masterly touch of finesse given to every incident portrayed.

Louis Kendricks as Edward Spiegel contributed much of the humor in the play, while John Charles as Joseph Abrams displayed much talent in the interpretation of his role. Madam Mathilde Cottrelly, a sister of Krauss, gave a finished portrayal of her part, and did some very fine acting. Miss Emily Ann Wellman as Marie played her part very acceptably, and the rest of the support was fairly good.

The appreciation of Mr. Mann's acting was shown in the number of curtain calls. At some of the climaxes in the play there were over a half dozen curtain calls in which Mr. Mann appeared with his company to bow his acknowledgments. The applause at the close of the pinocle game between Krauss and Spiegel was uproarious. When Mr. Mann returns to Lowell he will be assured of a rousing reception by the lovers of fine acting and racy comedy.

"A BROKEN IDOL"

Madge Vee who is appearing as a Chinese girl in "A Broken Idol" for the big musical comedy success which plays its first engagement in this city at the Opera House, on Saturday, Sept. 25, matinee and night has taken up the study of the Chinese language. She has begun to memorize the thousands of arbitrary characters that are used in writing the language and hopes to be able in time to read Confucius in the original.

"I became interested in the language in my search for a correct Chinese costume," said Miss Vee. "I made a pilgrimage to the Chinese quarters and there I met wives of the wealthy Chinese merchants.

"They showed me many kindnesses. Expressing a desire to learn more of their life I was invited to make my home with a wealthy Chinese woman.

"I find the language taxes the memory greatly, and yet, to one who is called upon to learn new roles frequently it shouldn't be such a task to learn the language."

STOCK NEXT WEEK

The Whiteside-Strauss stock company, one of the popular stock companies will be the attraction at the Lowell Opera House for four days commencing Monday, Sept. 27, matinee daily except Monday.

The plays are all new and presented exclusively by this company. They include several well known New York successes.

Several high class specialties are seen headed by the "Johnson Sisters," America's foremost singers and dancers. "The Musical Lockwoods," high class musical artists, playing a variety of brass reed and novelty instruments. New Illustrated Songs, Miss Maude Clement, the petite comedienne, Burdette Bros, the greatest of all comedy acrobats, Miss Vivian in character songs, and Mr. Will H. Strauss that funny fellow. Ladies' tickets will be issued for Monday evening only.

THE TRAVELING SALESMAN

"The Traveling Salesman" which comes to the Opera House, Oct. 1 and 2, is in no wise diminished but has every evidence of increasing popularity and without doubt has proven one of the biggest successes of the theatrical season wherever it has been produced. There are few professions or modes of business life, which have not been idealized by the diligent searching playwright into stage types, which either through caricature or exaggeration, are evolved into comedy roles whose chief reason for existence is a mission of laugh production. The different professions and even the newspaper reporter, are well-known stage types, but James Forbes is probably the first author to take the "drummer"—the man who sells on the road—and turn him into the most important character of a footlight performance. If you are a travelling salesman you will enjoy your namesake; if not, you will enjoy the true representation of the numerous incidents that occur in the life of the modern "knight of the road," both humorous and otherwise, of which we often hear of these happenings and enjoy the recital of, presented by a proficient company of players and perfect scenic investiture.

ENID MAYO.

Miss Enid Mayo and a strong company of actors appeared before crowded houses at the Franklin Square theatre, yesterday afternoon and last night, in "The Girl Outcast." Miss Mayo was the outcast, and played her part with enthusiasm at times, combined with tragedy, deep sorrow with just a few joyful moments during the entire four acts. She received hearty applause at frequent intervals during the play. The costumes of Miss Mayo attracted much attention from the women in the audience, and when she first caught a fine lace overall and later a French lace dress on the stage furniture, and a loud r-r-rip sounded through the house, the exclamations of dismay from the women in the audience drowned out the voices of the players.—Worcester Daily Telegram.

Miss Mayo in "The Girl Outcast" will be seen here at the Opera House tonight.

DAVID COPPERFIELD.

The visit of Charles Dickens to this country in 1842 was followed by his "American Notes" in which he sharply criticized some American methods. At first "American Notes" was received with indignation on this side of the Atlantic. But later, when "David Copperfield" appeared, this masterpiece of friction wiped out the memory of the stings he had administered. In many respects "David Copperfield" is the most interesting story ever penned. The dramatization of this famous novel forms a play of heart touching pathos, blended with that unique humor which marks all of Dickens' works. If you have never read "David Copperfield" you will quickly grasp its strong characteristics by seeing the play which will be presented at the Opera House tomorrow night, under the able management of Edward C. White.

STAR THEATRE

"The Cowboy of Old Arizona," interesting and exciting as it is, was talked by the capable company of actors at the Star theatre this afternoon, and was given added life.

THEATRE LA SCALA

The feature subject at the Theatre La Scala today is a Pathe picture true to life in story and as well acted as some of the celebrated films D'art. It is a most entertaining series of pictures. "A Soldier's Heart" is a well written dramatic subject and "Three Reasons For Haste" is a remarkably clever comedy.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Inasmuch as no vaudeville show can be called vaudeville unless it holds plenty of variety to it, it becomes necessary to inject into bills, at intervals, some striking comedy acrobatic act. At Hathaway's theatre this week one of the few very good ones, "A Piece of Dresden China," has been secured.

"Winning on Wind," in which Lewis McCord and a large company appear is a very funny comedy. Yosco and Lyons, instrumentalists and singers, are thorough musicians. Mr. Lyons plays the harp rather better than vaudeville usually gets and would undoubtedly make a mark for himself on the concert stage, while Mr. Yosco is a thorough entertainer, playing a variety of instruments and singing well.

Other good acts on the program are: Jere McAuliffe, in a brace of keen parodies; the Aldines, comedy acrobats; the Four Sullivan Brothers, singers and dancers; McAdams and his talking dog, "Spike," and the Hathascope with new motion pictures.

BIG CELEBRATION

SOLON W. STEVENS,
One of the Orators.

CHARLES H. CONANT,
Delivered Patriotic Address.

Of an Historic Event by the Chelmsford Folks

Chelmsford is going some these days. Hardly had the last echo of the Middlesex North Agricultural fair died away when another and more patriotic event was ushered in.

The day was yesterday and the event was the 50th anniversary of the dedication of the Revolutionary monument that does silent watch upon the common.

The exercises were held in the town hall. The school children took part in the exercises and a goodly crowd was there. The work of the children was appreciated and the speakers were very attentively listened to.

The Adams orchestra, a one-family orchestra afforded music and the musical Adams' opened the exercises with a selection. William E. Adams was the director.

This was followed by the national anthem "America," sung by a stage full of school children under the direction of Miss Mary B. Raynes. There was a prayer by Rev. L. L. Greene, and Mr. Edward Everett Adams sang an ode written for the exercises 50 years ago. Mr. Joseph E. Warren, president of the Chelmsford Monument association, presided and introduced Mr. Josiah Richardson Fletcher, the only living member of the original officers of the association.

Mr. Fletcher though well along in years, retains a vigorous mind and voice and he spoke with patriotic sentiment.

Solon W. Stevens

Mr. Solon W. Stevens of Lowell made the address of the afternoon. He spoke of the noble part that Chelmsford men had taken in the fight for their country, recalling that no less than 68 Chelmsford men were engaged in the memorable battle of Bunker Hill. In conclusion, he said:

"This monument should be invaluable to Chelmsford people as a perpetual reminder of the principles and virtues which inspired the founders of this republic. It stands as a guaranty of loyalty and patriotism. It adds lustre to the pleasant town which is so attractive to the stranger and so dear to the resident, and its value will continually increase with age."

Charles H. Conant

The next speaker was Charles H. Conant of Lowell. He spoke for the Sons of the American Revolution. His address was stirring and patriotic throughout.

Mr. Adams sang "America, America," after which the audience joined in singing the following ode, to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne," written for the dedicatory exercises by Mrs. Martha L. Emerson 50 years ago:

With grateful hearts this day we come
To consecrate this mound.
To those who founded Freedom's home
On fair Columbia's ground.
In gratitude our souls shall rise,
And thousand tongues unite
To swell the triumph to the skies
Of truth's undying light.

And while we peacefully enjoy
Rights by our fathers given—
Rights which no foe shall e'er destroy
While shines the light of heaven—
We would not still unmindful be
Of all the pain and strife
Which gave our nation liberty,
Its wellth and strength and life.

Nor shall the brave and honored Eight,
Who nobly fought and bled,
And met unshirkingly their fate,
Sleep as forgotten dead—
No! while this monument shall stand—
A token e'er 'twill be
That Patriots' names—in Freedom's land,
Are blest in memory.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. C. H. Ellis. At the conclusion of the exercises the Chelmsford band gave a concert upon the common.

RECOUNTS ASKED

For in the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Representative Districts

There seems to be a disposition on the part of some of the representative candidates in the 15th and 16th representative districts to have a recount, and it is more than probable that John A. Cotter of ward 2 will petition for a recount. On the face of the returns there were only 10 votes difference between his vote and that of the successful candidate, John F. Kearns. Mr. Cotter feels that there may have been a possible mistake, and thinks that it will certainly do no harm to have the board of registrars look over the ballots cast at the recent primaries.

In the 16th district, wards 4 and 5, John J. O'Connell has filed a petition for a recount.

Seventh Senatorial District

The contest for the senatorial nomination in the seventh district, a district which runs from the town of Ayer to the town of Saugus, and includes the democratic ward of Lynn, ward 6, seems to be in doubt. There are two active candidates, ex-Representative Alonzo G. Walsh of ward 3, Lowell, and Representative Frank P. Bennett of Saugus, and the silent candidate is Senator James Wilson Grimes of Reading, who for three years has been honored with the senatorship from this district. From the present outlook it would appear that neither Mr. Walsh nor Mr. Bennett has the necessary 23 delegates to assure him the nomination in the convention.

There are 45 delegates in the district, and 23 are necessary for a choice. Mr. Walsh's pledged delegates are as follows: Billerica 3, Carlisle, 1; Littleton, 1; ward 3, Lowell, 2; ward 9, Lowell, 5; Tewksbury, 2; Westford 3. Mr. Walsh claimed that the two men in Wilmington were his, although Mr. Bennett asserted the same thing.

The claims of delegates from the Bennett headquarters were as follows: Ayer 2, Acton 2, Boxboro 1, Burlington 1, North Reading 1, Lynnfield 1, ward 6, Lynn, 7, and Saugus 5. This is a total of 20 delegates.

There seems some discrepancy in the claims of the two candidates. Mr. Bennett claims one of the three men in Billerica, although Mr. Walsh says the three delegates are pledged to him. Mr. Bennett claims one man in Burlington, although Mr. Walsh has heard nothing officially from that town. Both candidates are apparently claiming Wilmington. Senator Grimes got the six delegates in his own town, Reading, and will hold the balance of power in the convention.

PLAINTIFF WON

Given Pay for Work on Farm

SKOWHEGAN, Me., Sept. 23.—Yesterday the first jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the case of Gould vs. Walker for $61.13, with interest from date of writ. The action was one where the plaintiff, John B. Gould, sued his employer, Cyrus Walker, for the balance due on six months' work on a farm in the Anson valley at the rate of $6 per week. He had received payment at the time of settling at the rate of $3 per week.

The case of Haynes pro ami vs. the Maine Central R. R. company did not go to trial yesterday as was expected. Tuesday E. N. Merrill inserted an amendment in his original writ. This the attorney for the defendant would not allow. After an argument before the court it was agreed to continue the case to the March term. It could not be tried at the December term from the fact that Forrest Goodwin, counsel for the defendant, will leave next month on a trip around the world. The plaintiff in the case was Chester Haynes of Norridgewock, who was injured in a wreck at Boston on Oct. 2, 1907.

MAN IS MISSING

Was Last Seen at a Clambake

HAVERHILL, Sept. 23.—Grave fears are entertained for the safety of John J. Murphy, aged 70 years, one of the best known citizens of the city, his family not having heard from him since last Sunday afternoon, when he left word of a clambake at Black Rocks.

When Murphy did not return Sunday night his family made inquiries. It was learned from members of the party at Black Rocks that a hat was found in front of the cottage late Sunday night, but no evidence was obtainable as to whether or not it was Murphy's hat. People in the party say that Mr. Murphy left his friends before the party broke up.

Yesterday Winslow Hardy, a son-in-law of Mr. Murphy, went to Black Rocks to investigate. The members of his family are very much worried and fear that something serious has happened.

GRAND SPECTACLE

Passed in Review of Representatives of Other Countries

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The armada which is to represent the United States at the Hudson-Fulton celebration steamed up New York harbor late yesterday to its anchorage in the North river above Grant's tomb. Through the early part of the day the fleet had been logbound off Sandy Hook, but the mist began to lift soon after noon and shortly before 2 o'clock the first of the battleships lifted anchor and started up the bay at a six knot pace on the 30 mile trip to its official stopping place.

The fog interfered also with the plans of the British and German fleets, which were expected yesterday, and they delayed their arrival until today.

The Italian cruiser Aetna passed into the harbor before the American battleships and proceeded to her berth in the North river off 34th street, where she was joined a few hours later by her mate, the Etruria, which came in through the sound from Bridgeport at dusk.

Thousands of New Yorkers flocked to the river front yesterday afternoon to witness the arrival of Rear Admiral Schroeder's fleet.

The 21 big ships came up the bay in single file—15 battleships, three armored cruisers and three scout cruisers. Behind them were the auxiliaries, Culgoa, Prairie and Panther. Torpedo boats, submarines and other auxiliaries will join them later in the week. In all, 52 vessels of the United States navy will be on the Hudson for the parade Saturday.

There was a great booming of guns as the American ships steamed up the river to their berths, passing in succession the anchored representatives of France, Mexico, Argentine, Italy and Holland. In reply to the rear admiral's salute, fired by each of the visitors, the flagship Connecticut for the fleet, returned the appropriate number of guns, shrouding both shores of the old Hudson with a thin cloud of powder smoke while echoes from the palisades sent back again and again the roar of the cannonade.

There was an impressive Hudson-Fulton ceremony yesterday at the Brooklyn navy yard, when the "Half Moon," the copy of Hudson's famous craft, which is to play one of the chief roles in the celebration, was formally placed in commission. Bands played the national airs of Holland, the old Dutch colors waved, and the Netherlands commissioners hoisted their colors above the quaint little craft.

There were formal honors for Fulton, too, yesterday. His grave in Old Trinity churchyard was the scene of a pilgrimage of members of the Fulton Memorial association, which decorated a monument erected in his honor with southern smilax, wreathed laurel and American flags.

Grand Admiral Von Koester, personal representative of the kaiser and the German people, at the celebration, reached New York yesterday on board the Hamburg-American liner Bluecher.

Admiral Von Koester issued a formal statement last night, expressing the pleasure with which he looks forward to the celebration and conveying to the city and nation the good wishes of Germany.

Health and prosperity to Holland's queen and to the president of the United States and the success of the Hudson - Fulton celebration were pledged last night at the first of the banquets to be given by the Holland society of New York to the members of the Netherlands commission.

The Americans toasted the visitors and lauded Hudson and the compliment was gracefully returned, the name of Fulton binding the chain of good feeling. Among the other speakers were Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, chairman of the Hudson-Fulton commission, and Judge Augustus Van Wyck.

FIVE WERE HURT

Augusta, Me., Doctors Thrown From Auto

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 23.—Five Augusta physicians, Dr. George R. Campbell, Dr. W. H. Harris, Dr. Wellington Johnson, Dr. George A. Coombs and Dr. Albert H. Sturtevant, were injured in an automobile accident early yesterday while returning from Belgrade in Dr. Sturtevant's car.

One of the rear tires broke while going down hill and the machine ran into a tree and upset. The accident occurred six miles from Augusta on the Belgrade road, near the Caldwell place. Dr. Johnson's left arm was broken in two places above the elbow and his shoulder was dislocated. Dr. Sturtevant suffered a contusion of the chest by striking the steering wheel, and dislocated both thumbs.

Dr. Harris was injured in the back and was taken to the General hospital. Dr. Campbell's right ankle was wrenched. Dr. Coombs wrenched his arm and strained his left leg. One of the party was obliged to walk three miles to get to a telegraph office to summon aid from the city.

Alderman William J. Skehan was seriously injured in an automobile accident yesterday. Mr. Skehan, with Perley Greenleaf and Harry Gilman of Waterville, were coming from the driving park in Mr. Gilman's car, which was stripped for the county fair races yesterday, and when opposite the state house the automobile skidded and went over a 30-foot embankment. The left leg of Mr. Skehan was caught in the machine and the foot badly crushed. He was taken to the Augusta General hospital. The others were slightly injured.

ONE MAN SHOT

RIOTING IN CONNECTION WITH OMAHA STRIKE

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 23.—John Petrick, a bystander was shot through the hip and seriously wounded, two motormen were hit with bricks, one of them being perhaps fatally wounded and a third man was less seriously injured in riots which occurred after dark last night in connection with car strike. Eight cars were partly demolished. The injured men with the exception of Petrick are strike breakers.

B. & N. POLICY DENOUNCED

LEBANON, N. H., Sept. 23.—Resolutions strong in condemnation of an alleged policy of the Boston & Maine railroad were passed yesterday at the second day's session of the Eighth annual convention of the New Hampshire State Federation of Labor.

Following a discussion of the accident of Tuesday at Patten, in which several were killed, the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, that the sympathy of this convention be extended to the families and relatives of those who lost their lives or were injured in the railroad accident at Patten. We condemn the niggardly and penurious policy of the Boston & Maine Railroad in continuing the use of old and antiquated cars and we further condemn the management for its heartlessness in compelling train dispatchers, telegraph operators and train men to work long hours for small wages and we strongly urge our state authorities to make a rigid investigation of this accident that the traveling public may not be sacrificed to the greed of the Boston & Maine railroad."

EX-REP. HAMMOND DEAD

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The news was received here yesterday of the death of former United States Representative Thomas Hammond at his home in Hammond, Ind., early yesterday. Mr. Hammond was born in Ashburnham, Mass., 68 years ago, and was one of the pioneers in the beef business in Chicago.

PEARY PAPERS

Taken From the Roosevelt by Souvenir Hunters

NORTH SYDNEY, N. S., Sept. 23.—The departure of the Arctic steamer Roosevelt was delayed last night owing to the fact that the records and other important manuscripts which were taken from the steamer Tuesday by souvenir hunters have not been returned. Shortly after 6 o'clock the Roosevelt left her pier, after taking on a full supply of coal for the run to New York. A few hundred yards from the pier Captain Bartlett dropped anchor. A steam launch from the government boat Tyrian went alongside the Roosevelt, and Naval Commander Dixon went aboard. Commander Dixon had just come from Sydney where he had held a conference with the United States consul, John Kehl, with reference to the failure of an American ship to display the Canadian flag when welcoming the arrival of Peary. He had a message from Prof. McMillan to Captain Bartlett, asking the latter to defer sailing because he expected soon to recover his stolen documents.

Prof. McMillan, who feels his loss keenly, said later that he had received information that some of the important papers had been traced, the wife of a prominent citizen having admitted that she abstracted certain papers from the professor's room. It was in order to find this woman and to ascertain if she really had the records that McMillan wanted time and requested that the sailing of the Roosevelt be delayed.

The report, however, was not entirely true, for the woman denied taking the articles mentioned although she owned up to having taken some articles from the professor's room.

It was the United States auxiliary schooner Grampus, commanded by Captain Hensen, which did not hoist the Canadian flag, the failure to do so resulting in an attack on him by a Sydney citizen. Captain Hensen accompanied by Commander Dickson placed the matter before the United States consul yesterday, the Canadian commander being greatly incensed over the unfortunate incident. He explained to the consul that Captain Hensen could not display the Canadian flag for the very simple reason that he had none aboard, and inasmuch as the Grampus only accidentally met Peary on the way here, the American commander could not possibly obtain a Canadian ensign even if he wished to hoist it.

"To my mind," said Captain Dickson, "the insult to Captain Hensen should not be taken seriously, considering the source from which it emanated." "However," added the officer, "I would hardly stand for such a thing were I in Captain Hensen's place."

Consul Kehl said he would use his best endeavors to close the incident as quietly as possible.

SHOT HERSELF

Wife of Prominent Farmer Tried Suicide

LITCHFIELD, Me., Sept. 23.—Mrs. Fred M. Babcock, wife of a well-to-do farmer, shot herself with a weapon of small calibre yesterday at her home here. The bullet entered the body just below the heart, but struck no vital organs and came out under the left shoulder blade. Dr. Clason was called and stated that she was still alive and that if no complication set in that she would recover.

Mrs. Babcock has been ill many years and has been subjected to two surgical operations, making her despondent. She is 50 years of age and has five daughters and one son.

THE W. C. T. U.

MIDDLESEX BRANCH MEETS AT SOUTH ACTON

SOUTH ACTON, Sept. 23.—The annual convention of the Middlesex county branch of the W. C. T. U. was held here yesterday, and as it was the 25th annual convention the event was also observed as the silver anniversary of the organization, the hostesses being Mrs. Lily G. Chase, president of the South Acton union, Mrs. Clara H. Nash, president of the West Acton union, and Mrs. John White, first vice-president of the Acton Centre union.

The exercises, held in the Universalist church, were largely attended, nearly all the 13 cities and towns comprising the Middlesex county branch being represented. The visiting delegates were welcomed by Mrs. Chase and Mrs. Nash, Mrs. Abby F. Rolfe, president of the organization, responded for the delegates.

Reports of the various departments were made as follows: Scientific temperance instruction, Mrs. Hall; medal contest, Mrs. Bond; literature, Mrs. Alexander; settlement work, Mrs. Smith; soldiers and sailors, Mrs. Crosby; Sunday school work, Mrs. Rowe; social meetings and open-air work, Mrs. Brigham.

As a result of the inter-county contest now on, gratifying reports were made by nearly all the local unions on increased membership. Marlboro leading with 93 new members the past year, and Woburn second with 35. This was followed by an address and prohibitory amendment quiz by Miss Elizabeth P. Gordon.

Mrs. Rolfe of Concord one of the oldest W. C. T. U. workers in the state, was re-elected president unanimously.

ONE SCHOLARSHIP

To be Awarded by Women's Clubs

The general Federation of Women's clubs will award a scholarship of $1500 to be held at either Oxford, Cambridge or London university for the year beginning October, 1910. The scholar will be selected from among the graduates of American colleges of good standing and the age of the successful candidate when she enters upon her scholarship shall not exceed 27 years. She also must be unmarried.

In this state the application may be made to either Mrs. Caroline Stone Atherton, 83 Ruthven street, Roxbury, or to Mrs. Lillian M. Hellen, 45 Rennick road, Newton Highlands. Full credentials must be sent with the application. After the local officers have given their written approval of the candidacy, the permit to enter the examinations is granted upon its presentation to Miss Gill. A copy of all credentials should be filed at the same time with Mrs. Potter. Their addresses are given below: Miss Laura Drake Gill, 1358 19th street, Washington, D. C., Mrs. Frances Squire Potter, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.

COURT SENSATION

Man Approves of Love of His Wife by Another

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—A very singular condition of affairs in the relations of Hartley Dennett, a Framingham and Boston architect and designer, and Dr and Mrs. H. Lincoln Chase of Brookline was revealed yesterday afternoon in the probate court at East Cambridge, when Judge Loyed E. Chamberlain heard the petition for custody of her two children filed by Mrs. Dennett.

Mrs. Dennett claimed that her estrangement was caused by the love of her husband for Mrs. Chase, that the latter reciprocated his affection and that she had discussed with Mrs. Dennett with "barbaric frankness" the relations existing between her and Mr. Dennett. The children were turned over to her by the court.

Dr. Chase and Mrs. Chase were both present in the court room. Mr. Dennett sat with Dr. Chase.

In an interview Dr. Chase afterward declared that the love existing between his wife and Mr. Dennett was pure love, such as was taught by Jesus and in the writings of Emerson.

Mr. Dennett is a man of medium height, with light colored bushy hair and mustache and he wore a low collar and windsor tie. He is apparently between 35 and 38. Mrs. Dennett is perhaps a little more than 30 and very pretty.

Mrs. Dennett testified to her marriage to Mr. Dennett and the birth of their two children. Trouble arose between them through the affection of Mr. Dennett for Mrs. Chase. He lost interest in his work and finally the estrangement came. She told of a talk she had had with Mrs. Chase, in which the latter discussed Mr. Dennett with "barbaric frankness" and their affection for each other.

Atty. Merriam, who appeared in behalf of Mrs. Dennett, argued that Mr. Dennett would be all right if Mrs. Chase could be induced to drop her influence over him and let him attend to his business. At one time Dennett could earn $5000 a year, he said, but his business had gone down owing to the demoralization caused by "this miserable snare." He asked the court to make a ruling which would force the husband to help his wife and children.

Judge Chamberlain then told Mr. Dennett he could make a statement if he desired.

Dennett said he could not answer the charge. It was without explanation. "My wife has different convictions from mine in this affair between Mrs. Chase and me," he said, "and the difference goes into everything in our lives."

He said his wife did not co-operate with him. He wished to divide the responsibility, she to take one child and he the other, each to start in with a recognition of the duty and responsibility of the other. This, he said, would be a separate co-operation and in this way each would have a mutual trust.

"This was a question between her conscience and mine and this difference has gone away through our lives."

Judge Chamberlain then asked the general question as to how much money should be contributed toward the support of Mrs. Dennett and her children.

Mrs. Dennet thought $250 a month.

Mr. Dennett said his income was variable and that such a sum would be a strain.

Judge Chamberlain said there was no excuse, legal or moral, for the breaking up of the Dennett home, and he ordered a temporary decree, giving Mrs. Dennett the custody of the two children. The amount of money to be contributed is to be decided later.

BOMB WAS FOUND

Twelve Workmen Were Placed Under Arrest

EL PASO, Sept. 23.—The discovery last night of a bomb in a residence being erected in Juarez, across the border in Mexico, caused a sensation in that town. The police were notified and 12 workmen were arrested.

It was at first reported that the bomb was found in the rear of the custom house, where President Diaz and President Taft are to meet October 16, but this was afterwards denied by the authorities. A boy found the bomb.

NAVAL DISPLAY AT NIGHT

WARSHIPS SALUTING

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Besides the Dutch, British, German, French and Italian warships that will be in the Hudson-Fulton parade at New York there will be 52 vessels of the United States navy. Among these are the Connecticut, Vermont, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Mississippi, Idaho, Georgia, New Jersey, Nebraska, Rhode Island, Virginia, Wisconsin, Maine, Missouri, Ohio, North Carolina, New York, Montana, Chester, Birmingham and Salem. There are to be two water parades on Sept. 25. These take place in the Hudson river from the Battery to Spuyten Duyvil. In the afternoon parade the Clermont and the Half Moon will lead the greatest fleet of excursion and pleasure craft ever assembled in American waters. These vessels will encircle the battleships, and each of the 70 or more fighting machines will fire a salute to the Half Moon and Clermont. At night the warships will be illuminated, and the pleasure boats will again encircle them. During this proceeding every searchlight in the international fleet will play upon the passing vessels, the Palisades and the city. The line of warships at anchor will be more than eight miles long.

WELCOME TO PEARY

Maine People Give Grand Greeting to the Arctic Explorer

VANCEBORO, Me., Sept. 23.—Maine made its welcome to her foster son, Commander Robert Peary, today, and all along the route of his journey through the state the friendly greetings of the people was a pleasing recognition of his achievement in finding the North pole. Commander Peary and his family are expected late today at Portland, where they will probably remain over night and go to their home at Eagle bay the next morning.

The Peary party passed through St. John, N. B., early today and in the few minutes between trains several people gathered about the explorer and congratulated him on his success. The commander said he did not know what the plans are for his reception at Bangor. It is understood that while he is glad to meet the people he desires to refrain from making any speeches. Com. Peary is keeping his own counsel with regard to the information he has obtained on the main question, "Has Cook found the pole?" but intimations are not wanting today that the time is near at hand when this will be made known. The explorer will probably remain at Eagle Island several days and during that time will assemble the records he has made of the trip to the pole and at the same time keep himself advised of the developments in the Cook controversy.

PEARY FAMILY

ARRIVED AT ST. JOHN THIS MORNING

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 23.—Commander Robert E. Peary, accompanied by his family and a small army of newspaper men, arrived here at 6.35 a.m. today from Sydney, N. S. Fifteen minutes later the party left on the Provincial express for Portland, Me., from which point Commander Peary will proceed to his summer home on Eagle Island at the mouth of Casco Bay.

The brief interval [illegible] the explorer remained in St. John was spent in granting interviews to the local newspaper men and in hastily scanning the morning papers. [illegible]

SCHOOL CHILDREN

SHOWERED FLOWERS ON PEARY AND HIS WIFE

VANCEBORO, Me., Sept. 23.—After a [illegible] over a period of [illegible] Commander Robert E. Peary [illegible] on [illegible] to the [illegible] United States.

[illegible] School was immediately dismissed and the school children, each carrying the Stars and Stripes and a bunch of flowers, were marched down to the train. Everyone cheered and Commander Peary was showered with flowers when he and Mrs. Peary appeared on the rear platform of their Pullman car.

The appearance of the commander with his wife was the signal for a prolonged outburst from the crowd on the station platform. While the locomotive whistles tooted everyone cheered until they were hoarse and the school children continued to wave their flags. Peary acknowledged the welcome by speaking briefly, addressing his remarks principally to the children. His wife stood by his side and was apparently overjoyed. It was the first time he has addressed a gathering since leaving Cape Breton.

Meanwhile the train was being turned over by the Canadian Pacific to the Maine Central. Wires were sent forward to Bangor for reservation on the Bar Harbor express, which leaves that city for Portland at 3.40 p. m. After Peary had finished speaking, little Ruth Howe presented him with a bouquet of sweet peas. One little schoolgirl exclaimed: "Well, 'spose we will see Mr. Peary's picture in our geographies now with a big polar bear [illegible] under it with the Stars and Stripes."

Shortly before 10 o'clock the train rolled out of the station on its way to Oldtown, its next stopping place. The crowd cheered until it was out of sight and then dispersed.

The flyer will probably reach Oldtown about 1 o'clock.

AWAITS WORLD'S END

Sect of the Latter Reign Holding Services at Duxbury

WEST DUXBURY, Sept. 23.—Firm in their conviction that the world will come to an end at 10 o'clock Friday forenoon, a colony of about [illegible] members of the denomination known as the Latter Reign of the Apostolic church are spending their few remaining hours in prayer, song and exhortation. The scene of their religious ardor is Ashdod, a little wooden chapel on High street, the main turnpike between Boston and Plymouth. This chapel, in the language of the natives, is "five miles from everywhere," and to a certain extent this is correct, so far as that vicinity is concerned, as the chapel is that distance from Kingston, Duxbury and Hanover.

Worldly tasks have been laid aside and jobs have been thrown up in order that the faithful may in the few short hours that they believe remain to them, prepare their spiritual natures for the millennium. Believers are here from all over New England, especially large delegations coming from Springfield, Providence and Pawtucket. One well dressed woman from Providence called her husband up on the long distance telephone and urged him to "come over at once." Responding to her husband's argument that he would be discharged if he left his employment, she assured him that it did not make any difference as there would be no work of any kind after 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Services Day and Night

The services are practically continuous night and day. There is gospel hymn singing interspersed with frequent exhortations and prayers. In all branches of the worship the congregation participates, singing the hymns with fervor and interrupting prayers and exhortation with pious ejaculations.

The chief exhorter at the meetings is [illegible] who is assisted by [illegible]. For the past few years he has been in charge of the meetings [illegible]. The congregation, for the greater part, is composed of well dressed persons of apparent intelligence. A few colored persons are also among the number.

Occasionally the services at the chapel are suspended long enough to permit of a trip to a pond about half a mile distant, where the converts are baptized. [illegible] were immersed Tuesday, a few of them being children of 8 or 9 years of age. Above the speaker's rostrum in the chapel is a clock under which in big letters appear the words, "Jesus is coming. Get ready." Frequent reference to the clock and the inscription is made by the exhorter during his sermons.

To feed the crowd attending the meetings, a big tent has been erected near the church, while the houses in the neighborhood and even the church horse-sheds furnish lodging for the people.

None of the faithful appears to have a shadow of doubt that the world will end Friday forenoon. When asked what they will do if the expected agent does not materialize, most of them refuse to entertain such a supposition. Some suggested that a love feast be held for ten days or so, while others still said that if the millenium did not come on Friday it would come next year at the same season.

DEATH LIST GROWS

Reports Show That Many Perished in Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—At an early hour today the list of known dead who perished in Terrebonne parish during Monday's hurricane had swelled to more than 40, and it is believed a score or more may be added to this number. Additional reports of deaths in other sections of Louisiana are also being received and the toll of human lives exacted by the hurricane will count perhaps a hundred people when the final report has been made.

Further details of property loss, reaching millions of dollars, come in with the gradual restoration of communication.

No trace of the crew of nine men on the sloop Seven Brothers wrecked near the Riggets, 20 miles east of New Orleans, has been discovered.

FERON NOT YET

His Case Will be Up on October 29

Acting Superintendent James Brosman of the police department received a letter this morning from General Jophanus Whitney, head of the state police, stating that the case of Henri Feron, the alleged murderer of Mrs. Flora Rivers, who is now in Quebec awaiting extradition, would not be reached until Oct. 29th. No particulars were given in the letter.

Inspector Byrne of the state police and Inspector Charles Lallamme of the local police are in Quebec with extradition papers waiting to bring Feron back to Lowell.

FOR NEURALGIA

Use Neuralgic Anodyne, and Pains will Quickly Vanish

Next Saturday, at 3 P. M.

SEVEN ROOM COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 1477 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT 40 COBURN STREET, ALSO FRONTING ON JEWETT STREET.

This cosy little cottage which consists of seven rooms, has four on the first floor, and three sleeping rooms on the second, has water closet in the cellar and on the first floor, is in excellent shape, inside and out, and is rented to a first class family for $12.00 a month. Now the fact of this cottage having a frontage on both Coburn and Jewett streets with a fair sized yard on the Jewett street side with a few small shrubberies, is certainly a great advantage as it gives daylight on all sides of the property. My only reason for disposing of the property is that I am going in Boston and I have decided that this is the best and quickest way to make a sale. Now for an investment or a home this is a grand opportunity for someone who wants to locate in Centralville and it is certainly a special inducement to the housekeeper as a cottage of this kind will accommodate a good sized family and you will agree with me after looking this place up that it is a very nice and cosy little home.

Terms, $200 to be paid to the auctioneer as soon as struck off. All inquiries should be made of the auctioneer, who is in full charge.

WILKINS CASE

Possibility of Divorce From Dead Man

SALEM, Sept. 23.—A suit for divorce from a dead man is the possibility that arose in the hearing of the libel of Mrs. Alice M. Wilkins of Beverly before Judge Crosby in the Essex county superior court in Salem yesterday. Mrs. Wilkins seeks divorce from her husband, Eugene A. Wilkins, on the ground of desertion.

On Feb. 22, 1905, Wilkins left his home on a trip as a traveling salesman. Nothing was heard from him for a month. On March 22 a letter was received from Providence by Mrs. Wilkins from her husband, saying he was sending his bag and diamond ring home and nobody would ever know what had become of him. He told his wife to collect his life insurance, $1000. A search was made in Providence, but it was futile. She was unable to obtain the insurance, as she could not prove her husband was dead.
